Of Men and Monsters Richard Tithecott, 1997-11-01 Of Men and Monsters examines the serial killer as an American cultural icon one that both attracts and repels Richard Tithecott suggests that the stories we tell and the images we conjure of serial killers real and fictional reveal as much about mainstream culture and its values desires and anxieties as they do about the killers themselves Massacre in Milwaukee Richard W. Jaeger, Marv Balousek, 1991 When police officers opened Jeffery Dahmer s refrigerator door one steamy night in late July 1991 they discovered the remains of a series of crimes that shocked the world Written in the weeks following these gory discoveries this true crime classic explores the aftermath of the murders and their disturbing consequences for police officers and the public History of the Sioux War and Massacres of 1862 and 1863 Isaac V. D. Heard, Henry Benjamin Whipple, 1865 The Future of History Howard Zinn, David Barsamian, 1999 Interviews focusing on the last century take a look at history from the standpoint of the ordinary people of the country Howard Zinn on War Howard Zinn, 2001 A collection of essays on the theme of war from America s most respected historian and author of A People s History of the United States HarperCollins Topics covered include the Vietnam War World War II the recent wars against Iraq and in Kosovo and the meaning of war generally in a world that has so far proven unable to overcome its primitive predilection for destroying its neighbour Professor Zinn writes with an enthusiasm rarely encountered in the leaden prose of academic history New York Times Book Review The Need to Kill Steven A. Egger, 2003 Procedural and technical inaccuracies can ruin an otherwise effective crime novel especially given the public s ever increasing interest in forensic details In this fascinating guide readers delve into the world of murder to learn how and why people commit homicide and how detectives capture the deadly perpetrators Sex Radicals and the Quest for Women's Equality Joanne Ellen Passet, 2003 Passet shows that the majority of correspondents who participated in the sex radical movement resided in the Midwest and the Great Plains states where ideas of individual freedom and sovereignty resonated particularly strongly Crime Beat , 1992 Genocide, Ethnonationalism, and the United Nations Hannibal Travis, 2013-01-17 Genocide Ethnonationalism and the United Nations examines a series of related crises in human civilization growing out of conflicts between powerful states or empires and indigenous or stateless peoples This is the first book to attempt to explore the causes of genocide and other mass killing by a detailed exploration of UN archives covering the period spanning from 1945 through 2011 Hannibal Travis argues that large states and empires disproportionately committed or facilitated genocide and other mass killings between 1945 and 2011 His research incorporates data concerning factors linked to the scale of mass killing and recent findings in human rights political science and legal theory Turning to potential solutions he argues that the concept of genocide imagines a future system of global governance under which the nation state itself is made subject to law The United Nations however has deflected the possibility of such a cosmopolitical law It selectively condemns genocide and has established an institutional structure that denies most peoples subjected to genocide of a realistic possibility of global justice lacks a robust international criminal tribunal or UN army and even encourages security cooperation among states that have proven to be destructive of peoples in the past Questions raised include What have been the causes of mass killing during the period since the United Nations Charter entered into force in 1945 How does mass killing spread across international borders and what is the role of resource wealth the arms trade and external interference in this process Have the United Nations or the International Criminal Court faced up to the problem of genocide and other forms of mass killing as is their mandate
