Her Kind of Want Jennifer S. Davis,2002-08-21 Set mainly in the small towns of Alabama the stories in Her Kind of Want ache with the relentless longing of the poor struggling usually discarded southern women who tell us their lives lives that seem to revolve around men whose only presence is their absence Bebe Luna Melly Little Hula Dena These are just a few of the women we meet in Jennifer Davis's award winning collection Women who married too fast had children too young and drink too much Yet beneath their unpolished exteriors these women are flesh and blood and their wants and needs are as severe and deep as any Davis's characters relate their stories in voices as complex and raw as their southern environment Each tale may sound slightly familiar an unwanted pregnancy a fast car flying down a country road but Davis moves beyond the familiar stories of the rural South to expose the gaps that connect these women creating startlingly real and vibrant characters Although often bleak and sometimes disturbing Her Kind of Want is a celebration of southern people their perseverance their spirit and their determination to make the ugly beautiful The Thin Tear In The Fabric Of Space

Douglas Trevor,2005-10-01 The Thin Tear in the Fabric of Space gathers stories about coping with grief trying to love people who have died and more broadly leaving old versions of the self behind sometimes by choice and sometimes out of necessity In each of the nine stories Douglas Trevor's characters are forced to face uncomfortable realities For Elena Gavrushnekov in the title story that means admitting after the death of her beloved that she still longs for contact with other human bodies For Peter in Central Square it is realizing that like his deceased father before him he is drinking himself to death Unable to confront his incapacitated mother and the memory of the plane crash that killed his father Edwin Morris in Saint Francis in Flint is compelled to acknowledge that his saintly aspirations are not what they appear to be while Sharon Mackaney in The Surprising Weight of the Body's Organs struggles with uncontrollable outbursts of rage in the wake of her young son's death In moments of great pain and loss when self expression seems impossible and terribly useless the characters in these stories nonetheless discover the tenderness of others In The River the narrator finds that the friendship he has forged with a French girl with whom he can only just communicate has bred intense almost intuitive compassion while in Fellowship of the Bereaved the disconsolate brother of the deceased sister who occupies the empty center of the story uncovers not only anger in his parents but also empathy and humor As these characters persevere in their own lives they do so mindful of and humanized by the experiences of having seen people they know and love slip unexpectedly into the thin tear in the fabric of space that quiet chasm that so resolutely separates the living from the dead May You Live in Interesting Times Tereze Glück,1995 Twenty one stories mostly on women In the title story a woman reminisces about her loves Gone Fishing is on a romance by e mail while Bill Hilgendorf is a woman's reflections on her childhood sweetheart A debut in fiction Glimmer Train Stories ,1997 Poets & Writers ,1998 Choice ,1994 Witness ,2004 Presents nationally known writers as well as new talent and highlights the role of the modern writer as witness Fire Road Donald Anderson, 2001-10-01 Stephen Mann loyal son war veteran divorced father is the subject of Donald Anderson's contemporary short story cycle Fire Road In this award winning collection Mann negotiates life's punches through gain and loss love and death and the all too random dangers of being human Woven between each personal story are poetic vignettes of isolated moments the headlines in a morning paper a political murder and the century's most violent tragedies the bombing of Hiroshima the firestorm at Dresden Each vignette is a constant powerful reminder of the human capacity to love and ultimately to destroy A bruising view of one man's tumultuous journey through life Fire Road explores the small and large crimes we all commit in the name of love and fear despair and longing Listening to Mozart Charles Wyatt, 1995 Twelve stories on life as seen by a flute player He is James Wallace of Nashville 40 an enterprising 1960s anti war hippie who instead of going to Canada joined the U S Marine Corps as a bandsman and avoided the war that way This Day in History Anthony Varallo, 2009-09 On the verge of maturity where parents are distant or absent friendships are often more accidental than deliberate and restless angst is common Anthony Varallo's adolescent protagonists dissect the world and their place in it with keen perception This Day in History deftly collects their moments of discovery There's a feeling I get whenever I enter an unfamiliar house as if a secret inventory has been handed to me and I am made to understand that the sofa cushions are stained underneath the coffee table nursing one gimpy leg the books along the bookcase stolen from summer rental and the dining room table used only for Christmas and taxes the narrator confesses in the first of Varallo's twelve stories Here a birthday party for an unpopular classmate reveals an adult world both familiar and utterly strange In subsequent stories a young girl longs to be a part of her best friend's family only to discover the family is less than ideal two sisters recall the childhood houses they grew up and apart in places inseparable from each woman's notion of the other and a mother and son set off on a bold and hopeless errand their suburban neighborhood momentarily transformed into a stage As these children stand on the brink of adulthood unsure how to move forward striving to make sense of the world around them they often discover that the distance between themselves and others is no nearly so great as first imagined Funny sad and hopeful Varallo's stories make a gentle argument for connection and community and in doing so seek to extend our sympathy toward the world
