Nature God And Humanity Envisioning An Ethics Of Nature:

Nature, God and Humanity Richard L. Fern, 2002-04-04 Nature God and Humanity clarifies the task of forming an ethics of nature thereby empowering readers to develop their own critical faith based ethics Calling on original thought provoking analyses and arguments Richard L Fern frames a philosophical ethics of nature assesses it scientifically finds support for it in traditional biblical theism and situates it culturally Though defending the moral value of beliefs affirming the radical Otherness of God and human uniqueness this book aims not to compel the adoption of any particular ethic but rather illumine the contribution diverse forms of inquiry make to an ethics of nature How does philosophy clarify moral conviction What does science tell us about nature Why does religious faith matter Rejecting the illusion of a single rationally compelling ethics Fern answers these questions in a way that fosters both agreement and disagreement allowing those holding conflicting ethics of nature to work together for the common good The Ethics of Nature Celia

Deane-Drummond, 2008-04-15 This accessible and timely book uses a Christian perspective to explore ethical debates about nature A detailed exploration of humanity s treatment of the natural world from a Christian perspective Covers a range of ethical debates including current controversies about the environment animal rights biotechnology consciousness and cloning Sets the immediate issues in the context of underlying theological and philosophical assumptions Complex scientific issues are explained in clear student friendly language The author develops her own distinctive ethical approach centred on the practice of wisdom Discusses key figures in the field including Peter Singer Aldo Leopold Tom Regan Andrew Linzey James Lovelock Anne Primavesi Rosemary Radford Ruether and Michael Northcott The author has held academic posts in both theology and plant science The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Ecology Roger S. Gottlieb, 2006-11-09 The last two decades have seen the emergence of a new field of academic study that examines the interaction between religion and ecology Theologians from every religious tradition have confronted world religions past attitudes towards nature and acknowledged their own faiths complicity in the environmental crisis Out of this confrontation have been born vital new theologies based in the recovery of marginalized elements of tradition profound criticisms of the past and ecologically oriented visions of God the Sacred the Earth and human beings The proposed handbook will serve as the definitive overview of these exciting new developments Divided into three main sections the books essays will reflect the three dominant dimensions of the field Part one will explore traditional religious concepts of and attitudes towards nature and how these have been changed by the environmental crisis Part II looks at larger conceptual issues that transcend individual traditions Part III will examine religious participation in environmental politics Nature as Spiritual Practice Steven

Chase, 2011-05-17 Chase s innovative work uses a compelling blend of theological scriptural historical and cultural discussions to reclaim the role of nature in the formation of Christian spiritual and moral identity Spirit and Nature

Timothy Hessel-Robinson, Ray Maria McNamara, 2011-08-01 Spirit and Nature is a collection of essays exploring how the resources of Christian spirituality can inform the practice of a more ecologically sustainable faith Our current ecological situation calls for people of religious faith to reexamine the way they envision the practice of spirituality As environmental ethicists have called us to reconsider the human Earth relationship so that the planet is not seen as simply an endless supply of resources to fill human wants and needs so these essays call us to reconsider spiritual practice as it relates to Earth's ecology Rather than viewing spirituality as an escape from the material world the authors describe the embodiment of the God quest within the human nature relationship Drawing on diverse disciplinary perspectives these essays examine a variety of topics including the relationship between Earth and humans in the Bible the role of nature's beauty in Christian spirituality the practice of Christian discernment and contemplation in light of the natural sciences the role of nature in liturgical prayer and others These essays consider how scholarship in Christian spirituality can contribute to reimagining faith in ways that better cherish the Earth's fragile beauty

The Oxford Handbook of Theological Ethics Gilbert Meilaender, William Werpehowski, 2005-08-25 The Oxford Handbooks series is a major new initiative in academic publishing Each volume offers an authoritative and up to date survey of original research in a particular subject area Specially commissioned essays from leading figures in the discipline give critical examinations of the progress and direction of debates The Oxford Handbook of Theological Ethics offers the most authoritative and compelling guide to the discipline Thirty of the world's most distinguished specialists provide new essays in order to offer a survey of and analysis of the subject Ethics is first placed firmly within the Christian theological tradition from which thought and action can never be neatly separated Four sections then explore the sources of Christian moral knowledge scripture divine commands church tradition reason and natural law experience the structure of the Christian life vocation virtue rules responsibility death the spirit of the Christian life faith hope love and the spheres of the Christian life government family economy culture church The final section of the Handbook contains essays discussing and evaluating certain scholarly works that have in the past influentially offered different visions of how best to structure the field of theological ethics Unlike any other book now available the Handbook's unrivalled breadth and depth make it the definitive reference work for all students and academics who want to explore more fully essential topics in Christian ethics

Knowing Creation Zondervan, 2018-05-08 It is hard to think of an area of Christian theology that provides more scope for interdisciplinary conversation than the doctrine of creation This doctrine not only invites reflection on an intellectual concept it calls for contemplation of the endlessly complex dynamic and fascinating world that human beings inhabit But the possibilities for wide ranging discussion are such that scholars sometimes end up talking past one another Productive conversation requires mutual understanding of insights across disciplinary boundaries Knowing Creation offers an essential resource for helping scholars from a range of fields to appreciate one another's concerns and perspectives In so doing it offers an important step forward in establishing a mutually enriching dialogue that addresses amongst others the following key questions Who is the God who creates Why does God create What is creation What does it mean to recognize that a theology of creation speaks of a natural world that is subject to the observation of the natural sciences What does it mean to talk about both a natural order and a created order What are the major tensions that have arisen between the natural sciences and Christian thinking historically and why How can we move beyond such tensions to a positive and constructive conversation while also avoiding facile notions such as a god of the gaps Is it feasible for a natural scientist to maintain a belief in God's continuing creative activity In what ways might a naturalistic understanding of the natural world be said to be limited How can biblical studies theology philosophy history and science talk better together about these questions At a time when the doctrine of creation and even a mention of creation has been disparaged due to its supposed associations with anti scientific dogma and theological offerings sometimes risk appearing a little more than reactionary exercises in naive apologetics ill informed by science or distinctly wary of engagement with it it is more important than ever to offer a cross disciplinary resource that can voice a positive account of a Christian theology of creation and do so as a genuinely broad ranging conversation about science and faith Contributors to Knowing Creation include Marilyn McCord Adams Denis Alexander Susan Eastman C Stephen Evans Peter van Inwagen Christoph Schwobel John H Walton Francis Watson and more X

Finding Ourselves after Darwin Stanley P. Rosenberg,Michael Burdett,Michael Lloyd,Benno van den Toren,2018-07-17 A multinational team of scholars focuses on the interface between Christian doctrine and evolutionary scientific research exploring the theological consequences for the doctrines of original sin the image of God and the problem of evil Moving past the misperception that science and faith are irreconcilable the book compares alternative models to those that have generated faith science conflict and equips students pastors and anyone interested in origins to develop a critical and scientifically informed orthodox faith The Paradise of God Norman Wirzba,2003-09-11 In this work Norman Wirzba argues that the doctrine of creation as presented in the Bible and as developed through the centuries actually holds the key to a true understanding of our place in the environment and our responsibility towards it
