Nature Strikes Back:

LOCKDOWN Devisetty N Ravishankar, 2020-07-13 Lockdown is a collection of poems that took shape during the lockdown period starting from March 2020. The poems bring out the spirit of humanity in these times and it attempts to address the various people and events that are currently underway. Apart from expressions on the people in the frontline like doctors, nurses, sanitary workers etc, there are other poems on social distancing, masks and other general topics on nature, mindfulness, family etc, which will give the reader a choice to experience the inner motives of the author. It will also provide the reader an opportunity to think about the issues and draw his or her conclusions that matter in life. Avenging Nature Eduardo Valls Oyarzun, Rebeca Gualberto Valverde, Noelia Malla Garcia, María Colom Jiménez, Rebeca Cordero Sánchez, 2020-09-28 Nature thou art my goddess Edmund's bold assertion in King Lear could easily inspire and at the same time function as a lamentation of the inadequate respect of nature in culture. In this volume international experts provide multidisciplinary exploration of the insubordinate representations of nature in modern and contemporary literature and art. The work foregrounds the need to reassess how nature is already and has been for a while striking back against human domination. From the perspective of literary studies, art history, media studies, ethics and philosophy and ethnology and anthropology Avenging Nature highlights the need of assessing insurgent discourses that converging with counter discourses of race, gender or class realize the empowerment of nature from its subaltern position. Acknowledging the argument that cultural representations of nature establish a relationship of domination and exploitation of human discourse over nonhuman reality and that in consequence our regard for nature as humanist critics is instrumental and anthropocentric, the present volume advocates for the view that the time has come to finally perceive nature's vengeance and to critically probe into nature's ongoing revenge against the exploitation of culture. Fear and Nature Christy Tidwell, Carter Soles, 2021-07-07 Ecohorror represents human fears about the natural world: killer plants and animals, catastrophic weather events and disquieting encounters with the nonhuman. Its portrayals of animals, the environment and even scientists build on popular conceptions of zoology, ecology and the scientific process. As such ecohorror is a genre uniquely situated to address life, art and the dangers of scientific knowledge in the Anthropocene. Featuring new readings of the genre, Fear and Nature brings ecohorror texts and theories into conversation with other critical discourses. The chapters cover a variety of media forms from literature and short fiction to manga, poetry, television and film. The chronological range is equally varied, beginning in the nineteenth century with the work of Edgar Allan Poe and finishing in the twenty-first with Stephen King and Guillermo del Toro. This range highlights the significance of ecohorror as a mode. In their analyses the contributors make explicit connections across chapters, question the limits of the genre and address the ways in which our fears about nature intersect with those we hold about the racial, animal and bodily other. A foundational text, this volume will appeal to specialists in horror studies, Gothic studies, the environmental humanities and ecocriticism. In addition to the editors, the contributors include
