Nature Tourism Conservation And Development In Kwazulu Natal South Africa:

Nature Tourism, Conservation, and Development in Kwazulu-Natal, South Africa Bruce A. Aylward, Ernst Lutz, 2003 This publication considers environmental social and economic issues concerning the development of nature tourism Using KwaZulu Natal in South Africa as a case study it highlights the benefits and trade offs in promoting and managing sustainable nature tourism development and examines how to promote the objectives of economic growth poverty reduction and conservation Three key issues are explored the need to move beyond development of a wildlife industry to the creation of a true nature tourism economy that supports biodiversity the role of the private sector in achieving equitable development and job creation while generating conservation finance and alternative pricing and other market mechanisms to encourage the growth and economic viability of nature tourism

Tourism and Protected Areas Robyn Bushell, Paul F. J. Eagles, 2007 Bringing together the diverse experiences of park agencies and managers conservation NGO s and international agencies this book examines the role of tourism in protected area management Using case studies from around the world it provides examples of successful partnerships between community public and private sectors It also explores how tourism can be used as a management tool for financing protected areas It concludes by summarizing the lessons learnt and the challenges facing protected areas in the future

Conservation and Development Andrew Newsham, Shonil Bhagwat, 2015-12-22 Conservation and development share an intertwined history dating back to at least the 1700s But what are the prospects for reconciling the two and how far have we come with this project This book explores these questions through a detailed consideration of the past present and future of the relationship between conservation and development Bringing to bear conceptual resources from political ecology social ecological systems thinking and science and technology studies Conservation and Development sets this relationship against the background of the political and economic processes implicated in environmental degradation and poverty alike Whilst recognising that the need for reconciling conservation and development processes remains as compelling as ever it demonstrates why trade offs are more frequently encountered in practice than synergies It also flags alternative visions for conservation and development obscured or ignored by current framings and priorities Bringing together policy and theory Conservation and Development is an essential resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students and a useful reference for researchers in related fields Each chapter contains a reading guide with discussion questions The text is enlivened by a number of new case studies from around the world A must read for anyone interested in understanding the history current state and projections for future shifts in the relationship between conservation and development

Segregation, Inequality, and Urban Development Sara Dehkordi, 2020-07-07 In present day South Africa urban development agendas have inscribed doctrines of desirable and undesirable life in city spaces and the public that uses the space This book studies the ways in which segregated city spaces displacement of people from their homes and criminalization practices are structured and executed

Sara Dehkordi shows that these doctrines are being legitimized and legalized as part of a discursive practice and that the criminalization of lower class members are part of that practice not as random policing techniques of individual security forces but as a technology of power that attends to the body zooms in on it screens it and interrogates it

Indigenous Ecotourism Heather Zeppel, 2006-01-01 This volume reviews indigenous ecotourism as a special type of nature based tourism and examines the key principles of conservation and community benefits from indigenous owned and operated ecotourism businesses or joint ventures It compares indigenous ecotourism in developed and developing countries and provides global case studies of indigenous ecotourism projects in the Pacific Islands Africa Latin America and Southeast Asia The book analyses key factors and constraints for sustainable development of Indigenous ecotourism and explores the growing links between biodiversity conservation ecotourism and indigenous rights It will appeal to practitioners researchers and students in ecotourism and sustainable tourism indigenous studies conservation natural resource management and community development

BOOK JACKET Game Farm and Hunting Tourism Peet van der Merwe, 2014-04-01 Wildlife tourism of which game farms form an important part is one of South Africa s biggest tourism products with more game conserved and land under protection than all provincial and national parks combined Therefore wildlife tourism especially hunting is a very important source of income for the country and contributes to job creation in rural provinces like Limpopo Northern Cape North West and Eastern Cape This book places emphasis on hunting trophy and biltong game farm development for tourism purposes game management game farming and the law and important future trends The book is aimed at game farm owners hunters hunting outfitters professional hunters and students in search of knowledge concerning game farm and hunting tourism

Tourism Management Arch G. Woodside, Drew Martin, 2008 This book provides in depth empirical reports on specific topics within five general areas of tourism management and marketing 1 scanning and sense making 2 planning 3 implementing 4 evaluating actions process and performance outcomes and 5 administering Offering descriptions tools and examples of tourism management decision making the book is useful for students in tourism and management and for tourism executives It has 27 chapters and a subject index

Ecotourism in Sub-Saharan Africa Kenneth Backman, Ian E. Munanura, 2017-07-14 Since its first mention in the academic literature ecotourism has been endorsed by NGOs and governments as the most environmentally sound and locally beneficial method of tourist development Over the last thirty years sub Saharan Africa has adopted ecotourism as the primary focus for tourism development research into this has demonstrated mixed results In this publication we seek to explore the actual outcomes for African countries that have developed their tourism policy around the principals and values of ecotourism The sheer scope and magnitude of the task means that a complete evaluation of ecotourism in Africa is impossible Instead included here are spot assessments of various aspects of ecotourism related to conservation policy development environment governance community and indigenous peoples in southern Africa The studies cover a wide array of countries including Botswana Kenya Tanzania

Uganda Ghana Zimbabwe and South Africa Though this is only the beginning of a needed long term evaluation of the positives and negatives of ecotourism it provides a starting point from which to move forward This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ecotourism Tourism and the Less Developed World David Harrison,2001-01-01 Many less developed countries are expanding their tourism industries and these are seen to be crucial to their economic development Yet such activities can also create social cultural and environmental problems This book provides a review of many of the key issues involved in tourism in developing countries and presents a range of case studies These are interpreted from a perspective of the sociology and anthropology of development Case study chapters are presented from Africa Asia the Caribbean Latin America and Oceania The book provides essential reading for advanced students and researchers in tourism and development studies Tourism and Poverty Reduction Caroline Ashley,Jonathan Mitchell,2009-11-12 Tourism can reduce poverty in developing countries But tourism growth is not universally inclusive of the poor Moreover our understanding of how tourism affects the poor is largely based on partial and superficial analysis Researchers from different disciplines and practitioners with different objectives generally work in splendid isolation from each other and from the mainstream of development economics Detailed economic analysis remains buried and is rarely challenged for policy implications let alone poverty implications This book provides an overview of a broad array of analyses of how tourism affects poor people First it pulls these together to identify three main pathways by which impacts on poverty can be delivered Second it reviews the empirical evidence on the scale and significance of impacts within each pathway exploring where comparisons can be made and where they cannot Finally it considers the different methods used to gather and collect data and implications for how we should work in the future Tourism and Poverty Reduction draws on international evidence throughout but provides particular insights into Africa and other less developed countries It makes a major contribution to a more coherent cross disciplinary and sensitive approach to the tourism poverty debate Ecotourism David A. Fennell,2014-09-08 Ecotourism continues to be embraced as the antithesis of mass tourism because of its promise of achieving sustainability through conservation mindedness community development education and learning and the promotion of nature based activities that were sensitive to both ecological and social systems The extent to which this promise has been realised is open to debate Focusing on an array of economic social and ecological inconsistencies that continue to plague ecotourism in theory and practice the volume examines ecotourism in reference to other related forms of tourism impacts conservation sustainability education and interpretation policy and governance and the ethical imperative of ecotourism as these apply to the world s greenest form of tourism Ecotourism is a growing field attracting increasing attention from students and academics Fennell provides an authoritative and comprehensive review of the most important issues that continue to both plague ecotourism and make it one of the most dynamic sectors in the tourism industry It covers a comprehensive range of themes and geographical regions Building on the success of prior editions Ecotourism has been revised throughout to incorporate recent research and benefits from the introduction of real life case studies and summaries of recent literature An essential reference for those interested in Ecotourism the book is accessible to students but retains the depth required for use by researchers and practitioners in the field New chapters on the theory and application of animal ethics community development in sustainable tourism and education and learning in the field have added further value to an already very comprehensive volume This book will be of interest to students across a range of disciplines including geography economics business ethics biology and environmental studies

Stakeholder Perspectives on World Heritage and Development in Africa Pascall Taruvinga, 2022-08-25 Stakeholder Perspectives on World Heritage and Development in Africa argues that World Heritage Sites WHS across the African continent should adopt practical innovative creative and alternative management approaches that bring greater socio economic benefits to society whilst protecting their Outstanding Universal Value Drawing on empirical evidence gathered in conversation with stakeholders at WHS across Africa the book explores the challenges involved in implementing conservation and socio economic development as a stakeholder driven process Demonstrating that heritage can no longer be viewed as totally separate from its socio economic context Pascall argues that decisions about the management of heritage need to make sense at the local level if they are to be supported by stakeholders As the book shows heritage is still viewed and managed through systems approaches and strategies inherited from the colonial period despite the increasing availability of inclusive governance systems Stakeholders offer alternative creative and innovative approaches that capitalize on the potential of World Heritage to contribute to socio economic development whilst ensuring that its credibility and integrity are maintained Stakeholder Perspectives on World Heritage and Development in Africa offers unique insights into local perspectives on World Heritage and development in Africa The book will be essential reading for academics students development partners and practitioners around the world who are interested in museums and heritage conservation development and the African continent Also the book will be useful in the preparation of nomination dossiers management plans development plans and in disaster risk management at WHS

Biodiversity and Conservation Richard J. Ladle, 2009 Although biodiversity is a relatively new coinage scientists have been studying the subject it describes long before the word's first appearance in the language in the mid 1980s In 1973 for instance the UK Systematics Association held a symposium on The Changing Flora and Fauna of Britain which concluded that not enough attention was being paid to the conservation of rarities a conclusion also reached said the symposium at a meeting of the Linnaean Society some forty years earlier By 1980 the Global 2000 Report to the President published by the US Council on Environmental Quality starkly warned of a diminution of up to one fifth of all species by the turn of the century and there is now a growing consensus that the world faces a biodiversity crisis a potentially catastrophic global loss of genetic ecosystem and most obviously species diversity Indeed especially since the UN Convention on Biological Diversity was promulgated in Rio de Janeiro in 1992 conserving biodiversity has become the principal focus of the global conservation movement Indeed the study of the origins maintenance and protection of diversity has become perhaps the most vibrant offshoot of ecology and conservation studies It is increasingly taught and studied in universities and other research institutions around the world Addressing the need for an authoritative reference work to make sense of this rapidly growing subject and its ever more complex and multidisciplinary corpus of scholarly literature Biodiversity and Conservation is a new title in the Routledge series Critical Concepts in the Environment Edited by Richard Ladle of Oxford University's Centre for the Environment this new Major Work brings together in five volumes the foundational and the very best cutting edge scholarship to provide a synoptic view of all the key issues and current debates

Climate Change and Sustainable Development Goals Discourse in Rural and Tourism-Protected Areas Kaitano Dube,Ikechukwu O. Ezeuduji,Magdalena Petronella Swart,2025-06-30 Despite its potential to unlock socio economic benefits in rural and protected areas in a manner that addresses the Sustainable Development Goals SDG rural and protected areas tourism is yet to be thoroughly examined by academics scholars practitioners and policymakers This lack of exploration has undermined the potential benefits associated with tourism development in rural and protected areas Given the complexity of rural tourism this contributed volume explores current and future debates on the subject using cases in Southern Africa The book is useful for various audiences including tourism academics planners cultural and heritage practitioners and rural development planners The topics covered include gender transformation service delivery visitor experience wildlife tourism and host community tourism interaction
