Nature Of Botswana:

The Nature of Botswana Alec C. Campbell, International Union for Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources. Field Operations Division, 1990 The Nature of Botswana : a Guide to Conservation and Development , 1990

Assessment of the Status of Transboundary Natural Resources Management Activities in Botswana Zuma Chengeta, 2003 The Nature of Politics Annette A. LaRocco, 2024-04-16 This case study of Botswana focuses on the state building qualities of biodiversity conservation in southern Africa Drawing on extensive fieldwork Annette A LaRocco argues that discourses and practices related to biodiversity conservation are essential to state building in the postcolonial era These discourses and practices invoke the ways the state exerts authority over people places and resources enacts and remakes territorial control crafts notions of ideal citizenship and identity and structures economic relationships at the local national and global levels The book s key innovation is its conceptualization of the conservation estate a term most often used as an apolitical descriptor denoting land set aside for the purpose of conservation LaRocco argues that this description is inadequate and proposes a novel and much needed alternative definition that is tied to its political elements The components of conservation control over land policing of human behavior and structuring of the authority that allows or disallows certain subjectivities render conservation a political phenomenon that can be analyzed separately from considerations of nature or wildlife In doing so it addresses a gap in the scholarship of rural African politics which focuses overwhelmingly on productive agrarian dynamics and often fails to recognize that land nonuse can be as politically significant and wide reaching as land use Botswana is an ideal empirical case study upon which to base these theoretical claims With 39 percent of its land set aside for conservation Botswana is home to large populations of wildlife particularly charismatic megafauna such as the largest herd of elephants on the continent Utilizing more than two hundred interviews participant observation and document analysis this book examines a series of conservation policies and their reception by people living on the conservation estate These phenomena include securitized antipoaching enforcement a national hunting ban 2014 19 restrictions on using wildlife products forced evictions from conservation areas limitations on mobility and freedom of movement the political economy of Botswana s wildlife tourism industry and the conservation of globally important charismatic megafauna species The Politics of Nature and Science in Southern Africa Maano Ramutsindela, Giorgio Miescher, 2016-08-12 This book brings together recent and ongoing empirical studies to examine two relational kinds of politics namely the politics of nature i e how nature conservation projects are sites on which power relations play out and the politics of the scientific study of nature These are discussed in their historical and present contexts and at specific sites on which particular human environment relations are forged or contested This spatio temporal juxtaposition is lacking in current research on political ecology while the politics of science appears marginal to critical scholarship on social nature Specifically the book examines power relations in nature related activities demonstrates conditions under which nature and science are politicised and also accounts for political interests and struggles over nature in its various forms The ecological socio political and economic dimensions of nature cannot be ignored when dealing with present day environmental issues Nature conservation regulations are concerned with the management of flora and fauna as much as with humans Various chapters in the book pay attention to the ways in which nature science and politics are interrelated and also co constitutive of each other They highlight that power relations are naturalised through science and science related institutions and projects such as museums botanical gardens wetlands parks and nature reserves

Natural Resources and Economic Growth Marc

Badia-Miró,Vicente Pinilla,Henry Willebald,2015-05-22 The relationship between natural capital and economic growth is an open debate in the field of economic development Is an abundance of natural resources a blessing or a curse for economic performance The field of Economic History offers an excellent vantage to explore the relevance of institutions technical progress and supply demand drivers Natural Resources and Economic Growth contains theoretical and empirical articles by leading scholars who have studied this subject in different historical periods from the 19th century to the present day and in different parts of the world Part I presents the theoretical issues and discusses the meaning of the curse and the relevance of the historical perspective Part II captures the diversity of experiences presenting thirteen independent case studies based on historical results from North and South America Africa Asia Oceania and Europe This book emphasizes that an abundance of natural resources is not a fixed situation It is a process that reacts to changes in the structure of commodity prices and factor endowments and progress requires capital labour technical change and appropriate institutional arrangements This abundance is not a given but is part of the evolution of the economic system History shows that institutional quality is the key factor to deal with abundant natural resources and especially with the rents derived from their use and exploitation This wide ranging volume will be of great relevance to all those with an interest in economic history development economic growth natural resources world history and institutional economics

Governing Natural Resources for Africa's Development Hany Besada,2016-09-13 Bringing together some of the world s leading thinkers and policy experts in the area of natural resource governance and management in Africa this volume addresses the most critical policy issues affecting the continent's ability to manage and govern its precious resources. The narrative of the book is solutions driven as experts weigh on specific issues within the context of Africa's natural resource governance and offer appropriate policy recommendations on how to best manage the continent's resources. This is a must read for government policy makers in industrialized economies and more importantly in Africa and emerging economies as well as for academic researchers working in the field extractive companies operating on the continent extractive industry and trade associations and multilateral and donor aid institutions.

Non-governmental Organizations and Natural Resource Management in Africa T. R. Ramanathan, 1993 The Hiker travel guide for Botswana, 2025-09-25 Nature's Strongholds Laura Riley, William Riley, 2005 Covers more than 600 reserves in over 80 countries includes information on how to visit these extraordinary sites their ecological significance and some historical background Botswana Cultural Heritage and Sustainable Tourism Development Byron A. Brown, Lelokwane L. Mokgalo, Tsitsi Chipfuva, 2020-04-16 This book considers cultural heritage and the sustainable development of tourism from an African perspective with Botswana as the main point of reference. Within the African context Botswana is renowned for its abundance of cultural heritage and appeal to tourists. The collection reconciles the growing demand to commodify cultural heritages the quest for cultural heritage preservation and management and the focus on sustainable tourism development in Botswana. As such the book is an appraisal of and meditation on the business side of cultural heritage management and the value that cultural heritage resources have at a personal local and national level. It is an exploration of the nature of Botswana's cultural heritage the politics and policies that underpin that heritage the development of cultural heritage tourism as a sustainable business the country's cultural heritage experiences and products and a confrontation of the hard questions about cultural heritage and the future. As an introductory text the book gives tourists tourism students and academics as well as tourism entrepreneurs policymakers and practitioners a basis on which to make decisions. The regional travel guide for Lobatse (Botswana), 2025-09-25 Drug Discovery in Africa Kelly Chibale, Mike Davies-Coleman, Collen Masimirembwa, 2012-08-09 Drug discovery originating in Africa has the potential to provide significantly improved treatment of endemic diseases such as malaria tuberculosis and HIV/AIDS. This book critically reviews the current status of drug discovery research and development in Africa for diseases that are a major threat to the health of people living in Africa. Compiled by leading African and international experts this book presents the science and strategies of modern drug discovery. It explores how the use of natural products and traditional medicines can benefit from conventional drug discovery approaches and proposes solutions to current technological infrastructural human resources and economic challenges which are presented when attempting to engage in full scale drug discovery. Topics addressed are varied from African medicinal plants to marine bioprospecting pharmacogenetics and the use of nanotechnology. This book brings together for the first time a collection of strategies and techniques that need to be considered when developing drugs.

in an African setting It is an unprecedented and truly international effort highlighting the remarkable effort made so far in the area of drug discovery research by African scientists and scientists from other parts of the world working on African health problems

Handbook on Tourism and Conservation Joseph E. Mbaiwa, Oluwatoyin D. Kolawole, Wame L. Hambira, Emmanuel Mogende, 2023-11-03 The Handbook on Tourism and Conservation demonstrates the intrinsic nexus between tourism the environment and sustainable natural resources use It applies Ostrom's social ecological systems SESs theory as the analytical framework for reaching a consensus on divergent viewpoints within the context of global environmental change and emerging governance issues

Political Ecology and Tourism Sanjay Nepal, Jarkko Saarinen, 2016-02-26 Political ecology explicitly addresses the relations between the social and the natural arguing that social and environmental conditions are deeply and inextricably linked Its emphasis on the material state of nature as the outcome of political processes as well as the construction and understanding of nature itself as political is greatly relevant to tourism Very few tourism scholars have used political ecology as a lens to examine tourism centric natural resource management issues This book brings together experts in the field with a foreword from Piers Blaikie to provide a global exploration of the application of political ecology to tourism It addresses the underlying issues of power ownership and policies that determine the ways in which tourism development decisions are made and implemented Furthermore contributions document the complex array of relationships between tourism stakeholders including indigenous communities and multiple scales of potential conflicts and compromises This groundbreaking book covers 15 contributions organized around four cross cutting themes of communities and livelihoods class representation and power dispossession and displacement and environmental justice and community empowerment This book will be of great interest to students and scholars in tourism geography anthropology sociology environmental studies and natural resources management

Ecotourism in Sub-Saharan Africa Kenneth Backman, Ian E. Munanura, 2017-07-14 Since its first mention in the academic literature ecotourism has been endorsed by NGOs and governments as the most environmentally sound and locally beneficial method of tourist development Over the last thirty years sub Saharan Africa has adopted ecotourism as the primary focus for tourism development research into this has demonstrated mixed results In this publication we seek to explore the actual outcomes for African countries that have developed their tourism policy around the principals and values of ecotourism The sheer scope and magnitude of the task means that a complete evaluation of ecotourism in Africa is impossible Instead included here are spot assessments of various aspects of ecotourism related to conservation policy development environment governance community and indigenous peoples in southern Africa The studies cover a wide array of countries including Botswana Kenya Tanzania Uganda Ghana Zimbabwe and South Africa Though this is only the beginning of a needed long term evaluation of the positives and negatives of ecotourism it provides a starting point from which to move forward This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ecotourism
