Natures Frontiers:

Nature's Frontiers Richard Damania, Stephen Polasky, Mary Ruckelshaus, Jason Russ, Markus Amann, Rebecca Chaplin-Kramer, James Gerber, Peter Hawthorne, Martin Philipp Heger, Saleh Mamun, Giovanni Ruta, Rafael Schmitt, Jeffrey Smith, Adrian Vogl, Fabian Wagner, Esha Zaveri, 2023-04-14 The great expansion of economic activity since the end of World War II has caused an unprecedented rise in living standards but it has also caused rapid changes in earth systems Nearly all types of natural capital the world's stock of resources and services provided by nature are in decline Clean air abundant and clean water fertile soils productive fisheries dense forests and healthy oceans are critical for healthy lives and healthy economies Mounting pressures however suggest that the trend of declining natural capital may cast a long shadow into the future Nature's Frontiers Achieving Sustainability Efficiency and Prosperity with Natural Capital presents a novel approach to address these foundational challenges of sustainability A methodology combining innovative science new data sources and cutting edge biophysical and economic models builds sustainable resource efficiency frontiers to assess how countries can sustainably use their natural capital more efficiently The analysis provides recommendations on how countries can better use their natural capital to achieve their economic and environmental goals The report indicates that significant efficiency gaps exist in nearly every country Closing these gaps can address many of the world's pressing economic and environmental problems economic productivity health food and water security and climate change Although the approach outlined in this report will entail demanding policy reforms the costs of inaction will be far higher

Frontiers in Nature-Inspired Industrial Optimization Mahdi Khosravy, Neeraj Gupta, Nilesh Patel, 2021-08-06 The book provides a collection of recent applications of nature inspired optimization in industrial fields Different optimization techniques have been deployed and different problems have been effectively analyzed The valuable contributions from researchers focus on three ultimate goals i improving the accuracy of these techniques ii achieving higher speed and lower computational complexity and iii working on their proposed applications The book is helpful for active researchers and practitioners in the field

Transforming Socio-Natures in Turkey Onur İnal, Ethemcan Turhan, 2019-07-09 This book is an exploration of the environmental makings and contested historical trajectories of environmental change in Turkey Despite the recent proliferation of studies on the political economy of environmental change and urban transformation until now there has not been a sufficiently complete treatment of Turkey's troubled environments which live on the edge both geographically between Europe and Middle East and politically between democracy and totalitarianism The contributors to Transforming Socio Natures in Turkey use the toolbox of environmental humanities to explore the main political cultural and historical factors relating to the country's socio environmental problems This leads not only to a better grounding of some of the historical and contemporary debates on the environment in Turkey but also a deeper understanding of the multiplicity of framings around more than human interactions in the country in a time of authoritarian populism This book will be of interest not only to students of Turkey from a variety of social science and humanities disciplines but also contribute to the larger debates on environmental change and developmentalism in the context of a global populist turn Nature's End S. Sörlin, P. Warde, 2009-07-23 Environmental History as a distinct discipline is now over a generation old with a large and diverse group of practitioners around the globe This book provides a reflection on the achievements diversity and direction of environmental history in its varied national international and continental contexts Frontier Thinking and Human-Nature Relations E. C. H. Keskitalo, 2024-06-12 Combining historical social and regulative analysis this book builds a compelling critique of frontier thinking as it continues to form our assumptions about social and environmental organisation in ways that impact not least the present environmental crisis This book systematically identifies the ways in which images of nature and society are formed by the historically developed frontier oriented narratives which have underpinned much Anglo American and Anglocentric thought The book confronts these conceptions at large showing that they never held empirically and contrasts them with the situation in northern Europe where diverging assumptions are integral to this day Through this juxtaposition this book illustrates not only the pervasiveness of structures of understanding in steering policy but also the varying traditions regarding how understandings of the environment can be formed This study highlights how historical thought patterns formed for very different reasons than exist today continue to shape our assumptions about nature the relation between urban and rural areas and our understanding of ourselves in relation to the environment This book will be of wide interest to a range of academics and students in the fields of geography anthropology environmental studies sociology political science and development studies amongst others The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Frontier Assemblages Jason Cons, Michael Eilenberg, 2019-02-26 Frontier Assemblages offers a new framework for thinking about resource frontiers in Asia Presents an empirical understanding of resource frontiers and provides tools for broader engagements and linkages Filled with rich ethnographic and historical case studies and contains contributions from noted scholars in the field Explores the political ecology of extraction expansion and production in marginal spaces in Asia Maps the flows frictions interests and imaginations that accumulate in Asia to transformative effect Brings together noted anthropologists geographers and sociologists Nature's Geography Karl S. Zimmerer, Kenneth R. Young, 1998 Developing countries in Africa Asia and Latin America are increasingly influenced by human induced environmental changes It is crucial that sustainable development be based on insights into these expanding processes conservation as well as deterioration Nature's Geography offers a new perspective on the geographical nature of these changes The book reveals how human environment relations must be understood at multiple scales and time frames Editors Karl S Zimmerer and Kenneth R Young have forged an exciting group of case studies from distinguished geographers focusing on high mountains tropical forests and lowlands as well as humid and arid semiarid landscapes Each chapter analyzes the implications for meshing environmental protection and sound resource use with development The case studies evaluate three topics spatial habitat fragmentation and forest dynamics disturbances in mountain ecosystems and the major activities of settled areas chiefly farming livestock raising and forestry Included are analyses of interactions involving wildlife such as primates and wild pandas assessment of fire impacts and road building long term forest management as well as recent techniques and the role of environmental variation and ecosystem properties in agriculture and rangeland Nature s Geography demonstrates the vital importance of advancing a new approach to geography This definitive study of landscape change and environmental dynamics will have wide appeal for those interested in geography ecology environmental studies conservation biology and development studies Nature's State Susan Kollin,2018-06-15 An engaging blend of environmental theory and literary studies Nature s State looks behind the myth of Alaska as America s last frontier a pristine and wild place on the fringes of our geographical imagination Susan Kollin traces how this seemingly marginal space in American culture has in fact functioned to alleviate larger social anxieties about nature ethnicity and national identity Kollin pays special attention to the ways in which concerns for the environment not only shaped understandings of Alaska but also aided U S nation building projects in the Far North from the late nineteenth century to the present era Beginning in 1867 the year the United States purchased Alaska a variety of literary and cultural texts helped position the region as a crucial staging ground for territorial struggles between native peoples Russians Canadians and Americans In showing how Alaska has functioned as a contested geography in the nation s spatial imagination Kollin addresses writings by a wide range of figures including early naturalists John Muir and Robert Marshall contemporary nature writers Margaret Murie John McPhee and Barry Lopez adventure writers Jack London and Jon Krakauer and native authors Nora Dauenhauer Robert Davis and Mary TallMountain

Nature Exposure Benefits Laura Anderson,AI,2025-02-22 In an era dominated by urban living and digital devices Nature Exposure Benefits explores the critical role of nature exposure in bolstering mental health and overall well being It highlights how regular outdoor time can significantly impact our psychological state and cognitive function particularly relevant given rising mental health challenges The book examines the concept of nature deficit disorder emphasizing the potential consequences of limited interaction with the natural world The book presents core concepts such as attention restoration theory and stress reduction theory explaining how nature positively influences the brain Examining epidemiological studies alongside experimental data the book showcases how access to green spaces correlates with improved mental health outcomes while time spent in nature can measurably lower cortisol levels and enhance brain activity This investigation progresses from psychological benefits like reduced stress and anxiety to cognitive advantages such as improved focus and creativity ultimately connecting nature to increased physical activity and a stronger sense of purpose This book uniquely integrates scientific research with actionable advice making it a valuable resource for mental health professionals urban planners and anyone seeking to enhance their well being through nature Progressing through its chapters the book offers insights applicable to personal lifestyle adjustments and community initiatives promoting a deeper connection with the natural world

New Moral Natures in Tourism Bryan S. R. Grimwood, Kellee Caton, Lisa Cooke, 2018-04-17 How do we understand human nature relationships in tourism or determine the consequences of these relationships to be good bad right wrong fair or just What theoretical and philosophical perspectives can usefully orient us in the production and consumption of tourism towards living and enacting the good life with the more than human world This book addresses such questions by investigating relationships between nature and morality in tourism contexts Recognizing that morality much like nature is embedded in histories and landscapes of power the book engages with diverse theoretical and philosophical perspectives to critically review appraise and advance dialogue on the moral dimensions of natures Contributing authors explore the very foundations of how we make sense of nature in tourism and leisure contexts and how we might make sense of it differently The book will be essential reading for researchers students and practitioners grappling with questions about the moral values frameworks or practices best suited to mobilizing tourism natures What will the future of tourism hold in terms of sustainability justice resilience health and well being

Nature's Services Gretchen Cara Daily, 2012-09-26 Life itself as well as the entire human economy depends on goods and services provided by earth's natural systems The processes of cleansing recycling and renewal along with goods such as seafood forage and timber are worth many trillions of dollars annually and nothing could live without them Yet growing human impacts on the environment are profoundly disrupting the functioning of natural systems and imperiling the delivery of these services Nature's Services brings together world renowned scientists from a variety of disciplines to examine the character and value of ecosystem services the damage that has been done to them and the consequent implications for human society Contributors including Paul R Ehrlich Donald Kennedy Pamela A Matson Robert Costanza Gary Paul Nabhan Jane Lubchenco Sandra Postel and Norman Myers present a detailed synthesis of our current understanding of a suite of ecosystem services and a preliminary assessment of their economic value Chapters consider major services including climate regulation soil fertility pollination and pest control philosophical and economic issues of valuation case studies of specific ecosystems and services implication of recent findings and steps that must be taken to address the most pressing concerns Nature's Services represents one of the first efforts by scientists to provide an overview of the many benefits and services that nature offers to people and the extent to which we are all vitally dependent on those services The book enhances our understanding of the value of the natural systems that surround us and can play an essential role in encouraging greater efforts to protect the earth's basic life support systems before it is too late

Kant on the Frontier Geoffrey Bennington, 2017-05-01 Frontier the border between two countries the limits of civilization the bounds of established knowledge a new field of activity At a time when all borders boundaries margins and limits are being often violently challenged erased or reinforced we must rethink the concept of frontier itself But is there even such a concept Through an original and imaginative reading of Kant Geoffrey Bennington casts doubt upon the conceptual coherence of borders The frontier is the very element of Kant's thought yet the permanent frustration of his conceptuality Bennington brings out the frontier's complex abyssal fractal structure that leaves a residue of violence in every frontier and complicates Kant's most rational arguments in the direction of cosmopolitanism and perpetual peace Neither a critique of Kant nor a return to Kant this book proposes a new reflection on philosophical reading for which thinking the frontier is both essential and a recurrent fruitful interruption

The Recreational Frontier Michael Kleinod, 2017 This study treats ecotourism in National Protected Areas of Lao PDR as a recreational frontier which instrumentalizes the recreation of human natures in capitalism's centers for that of nonhuman natures at capitalism's closing frontiers This world ecological practice of ecorational instrumentality i.e. of nature domination in the name of Nature presents a remedy for capitalism's crisis that is itself crisis ridden enacting a central tension of ecocapitalism that between conservation and development This epistemic institutional tension is traced through the preconditions modes and effects of ecotourism in Laos by gradually zooming from the most general scale of societal nature relations into the most detailed intricacies of ecotouristic practice The combination of Bourdieu Marx and Critical Theory enables a systematic analysis of the recreational frontier as enactment of various contradictions deriving from the false and real Nature Society dualism

The political ecology of colonial capitalism Bikrum Gill, 2024-11-05 This book situates the post financial crisis phenomenon of the global land grab within the longue duree of the capitalist world system It does so by advancing a theoretical and historical framework called the political ecology of colonial capitalism that clarifies the key role played by the co production of race and nature in provisioning the ecological surplus that has historically secured the emergence and reproduction of capitalist development The key premise of this book is that the global land grab constitutes another such attempted moment of re securing the cheap food premise through racialized frontier appropriation The argument advanced here is that within the neoliberal crisis conjuncture the hegemonic resolution of capital's escalating social ecological contradictions necessitates through the practice of global primitive accumulation the racialized construction of frontiers of unused nature in emergent zones of appropriation practitioners The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues in Annals of Leisure Research

Artificial Arcadia Bas Princen, Ed van Hinte, 2004 New connoisseurs take the opportunities offered by the typically Dutch phenomenon of landscape being continuously adapted to changing demands always with temporary leftovers awaiting their turn for utilitarian recycling New ways of thinking about landscape design originate from this specialist landscape use Bas Princen's arguments take the form of superb photography The pictures produce awareness about the complex qualities that construct contemporary landscape such as accessibility wind direction water currents and communication networks In addition the use of certain products such as kites mountain bikes and GPS monitors has a bearing on the way in which landscape is understood Bas Princen enters these landscapes with the slowness sharpness and precision of a large format view camera Although he has a keen eye for user interpretations and has produced over 40 awesome and puzzling pictures Artificial Arcadia is mainly a book about landscape and its design Texts by Lars Lerup Bart Lootsma Wim Cuyvers Jeff Derksen and Dirk Sijmons reflect on the photographs and present different views on landscapes in transition Publicaciones arquitectura y arte Nature Conservation in Southern Africa, 2018-11-26 Nature conservation in southern Africa has always been characterised by an interplay between Capital specific understandings of Morality and forms of Militarism that are all dependent upon the shared subservience and marginalization of animals and certain groups of people in society Although the subjectivity of people has been rendered visible in earlier publications on histories of conservation in southern Africa the subjectivity of animals is hardly ever seriously considered or explicitly dealt with In this edited volume the subjectivity and sentience of animals is explicitly included The contributors argue that the shared human and animal marginalisation and agency in nature conservation in southern Africa and beyond could and should be further explored under the label of sentient conservation Contributors are Malcolm Draper Vupenyu Dzingirai Jan Bart Gewald Michael Glover Paul Hebinck Tariro Kamuti Lindiwe Mangwanya Albert Manhamo Dhoya Snijders Marja Spierenburg Sandra Swart Harry Wels
