

A vibrant, painterly illustration of a farm scene. In the foreground, a large, pink piglet is rolling in a muddy patch, its body covered in dark brown mud. The piglet has a happy expression, with its eyes closed and a slight smile. In the background, a wooden fence separates the foreground from a green field. Behind the fence, two donkeys are visible; one is looking over the fence towards the piglet, and the other is partially hidden behind a large, leafy tree. A small, reddish-brown fox is also visible near the fence. In the bottom left corner, a small green frog is jumping. The sky is a pale blue with soft white clouds. The overall style is whimsical and child-friendly.

Social Media in Southeast Italy Razvan Nicolescu,2016-10-07 Why is social media in southeast Italy so predictable when it is used by such a range of different people This book describes the impact of social media on the population of a town in the southern region of Puglia Italy Razvan Nicolescu spent 15 months living among the town's residents exploring what it means to be an individual on social media Why do people from this region conform on platforms that are designed for personal expression Nicolescu argues that social media use in this region of the world is related to how people want to portray themselves He pays special attention to the ability of users to craft their appearance in relation to collective ideals values and social positions and how this feature of social media has for the residents of the town become a moral obligation they are expected to be willing to adapt their appearance to suit their different audiences at the same time which is crucial in a town where religion and family are at the heart of daily life Lonely Planet Pocket London Damian
