The U.S. Navy's "Interim" LSM(R)s in World War II Ron MacKay, Jr., 2016-05-03 The Interim LSM R or Landing Ship Medium Rocket was a revolutionary development in rocket warfare in World War II and the U S Navy's first true rocket ship. An entirely new class of commissioned warship and the forerunners of today's missile firing naval combatants these ships began as improvised conversions of conventional amphibious landing craft in South Carolina's Charleston Navy Yard during late 1944. They were rushed to the Pacific Theatre to support the U S Army and Marines with heavy rocket bombardments that devastated Japanese forces on Okinawa in 1945. Their primary mission was to deliver maximum firepower to enemy targets ashore. Yet LSM R's also repulsed explosive Japanese speed boats rescued crippled warships recovered hundreds of survivors at sea and were deployed as antisubmarine hunter killers. Casualties were staggering enemy gunfire blasted one while kamikaze attacks sank three crippled a fourth and grazed two more. This book provides a comprehensive operational history of the Navy's 12 original Interim LSM R's.

US Navy Light Cruisers 1941-45 Mark Stille, 2016-07-28 During World War II the United States built 72 light cruisers of various classes. In response to the severe air threat that surface ships faced new cruisers were designed with increasingly heavy anti-aircraft weaponry as well as the traditional 6in guns. With the speed and range to keep up with aircraft carriers and their considerable anti-aircraft capability they were a mainstay of the carrier escorts. This book examines every US light cruiser produced including those of the Fargo and Worcester classes which were actually complete after World War II had ended tracing their design development and evolution throughout the war and beyond.

US Standard-type Battleships 1941-45 (2) Mark Stille, 2015-12-20 This book completes an authoritative two part study on the Standard type US battleships of World War II ships that were designed to fight a different type of war than the one that unfolded. It gives precise technical details of the design history and features of the Tennessee Colorado and the unfinished South Dakota and Lexington classes whilst providing an operational history of the former two. Written by a leading expert on the US Navy in World War II and augmented by contemporary photographs and specially commissioned illustrations this is the other half of the story of the US Standard type battleships from the terrible damage they sustained at Pearl Harbor to their support of the war winning French Battleships 1914-45 Ryan K. Noppen, 2019-01-24 On September 1 1910 France became the last great naval power to lay down a dreadnought battleship the Courbet The ensuing Courbet and Bretagne class dreadnoughts had a relatively quiet World War I spending most of it at anchor off the entrance to the Adriatic keeping watch over the Austro Hungarian fleet The constraints of the Washington Naval Treaty prevented new battleships being built until the 1930s with the innovative Dunkerque class and excellent Richelieu class of battleships designed to counter new German designs After the fall of France in 1940 the dreadnoughts and fast battleships of the Marine Nationale had the unique experience of firing against German Italian British and American targets during the war This authoritative study examines these fascinating ships using detailed colour plates and historical photographs taking them from their inception before World War I through their service in World War II including the scuttling of the French fleet at Toulon in 1943 and the service of Richelieu in the war against Japan
