Sillito, Sarah Langsdon, 2008 In 1845 Miles Goodyear founded a settlement at Fort Buenaventura located near the confluence of the Weber and Ogden Rivers The area was renamed Ogden in 1851 by Mormon Church president Brigham Young after Peter Skene Ogden a Hudson s Bay Company fur trapper Ogden prospered as an agricultural town and then thrived with the arrival of the railroads when the growing community often referred to as Junction City became a major railroad hub Union Station became a well known landmark surrounded by rowdy gambling houses and brothels as well as ethnically diverse residential neighborhoods Since 1889 Ogden has also been an important center of higher education and it is now home to Weber State University World War II brought Ogden into the modern era as a transportation and military center with the establishment of Hill Air Field Defense Depot Ogden and the Naval Supply Depot America's Historic Stockyards J'Nell L. Pate, 2005 Livestock markets for the sale and distribution of meat developed as early as the days of colonial America In the mid nineteenth century as westward expansion increased and railroads developed stockyard companies formed in order to meet the demand of a growing nation Contrary to markets these companies were centrally organized and managed by a select few principal partners America s Historic Stockyards Livestock Hotels is an examination of such stockyards from their early beginnings to their eventual decline Stockyards helped to establish some of America s greatest cities Early on the scene were stockyards in cities such as Cincinnati otherwise known as Porkopolis and meat stockyards and packing powerhouse Chicago which was considered the number one livestock market in the nation Markets soon opened in the Midwest and eventually expanded further westward to California and Oregon Other smaller markets made large contributions to the industry The cow towns of Fort Worth and Wichita never reached the status of Chicago but did have large livestock receipts Fort Worth for instance became the largest horse and mule market in 1915 as

World War I produced an increased demand for these animals Meatpacking moguls known as the Big Four Phillip Armour Gustavus Swift Nelson Morris and Edward Cudahy usually financed these growing markets controlled the meatpacking business and in turn the stockyards companies Although the members changed this oligopoly remained intact for much of the duration of the stockyards industry However as railways gave way to highways the markets declined and so too did these moguls By the end of the twentieth century almost every major market closed bringing an end to the stockyard era J Nell Pate s examination of this era the people and the markets themselves recounts a significant part of the history of America s meat industry
