Paths of Accommodation David Robinson, 2000 Charts the responses of the Sufi orders to the French colonial regime and their negotiations over power and autonomy

Muslim Interpreters in Colonial Senegal, 1850-1920 Tamba M'bayo, 2016-07-01 This book investigates the lives and careers of Muslim African interpreters employed by the French colonial administration in Saint Louis Senegal from the 1850s to the early 1920s It focuses on the lower and middle Senegal River valley in northern Senegal where the French concentrated most of their activities in West Africa during the nineteenth century The Muslim interpreters performed multiple roles as mediators military and expeditionary guides emissaries diplomatic hosts and treaty negotiators As cultural and political powerbrokers that straddled the colonial divide they were indispensable for French officials in their relations with African rulers and the local population As such a central concern of this book is the paradoxical and often contradictory roles the interpreters played in mediating between the French and Africans This book argues that the Muslim interpreters exemplified a paradox while serving the French administration they pursued their own interests and defended those of their local communities In doing so the interpreters strove to maintain some degree of autonomy Moreover this book contends that the interpreters occupied a vantage position as mediators to influence the construction of colonial discourse and knowledge because they channeled the flow of information between the French and the African population Thus Muslim interpreters had the capacity to shape power relations between the colonizers and the colonized in Senegal

Paths to Development in Asia Tuong Vu, 2010-03-22 Why have some states in the developing world been more successful at facilitating industrialization than others Challenging theories that privilege industrial policy and colonial legacies this book focuses on state structure and the politics of state formation arguing that a cohesive state structure is as important to developmental success as effective industrial policy Based on a comparison of six Asian cases including both capitalist and socialist states with varying structural cohesion Tuong Vu proves that it is state formation politics rather than colonial legacies that have had decisive and lasting impacts on the structures of emerging states His cross national comparison of South Korea Vietnam Republican and Maoist China and Sukarno's and Suharto's Indonesia which is augmented by in depth analyses of state formation processes in Vietnam and Indonesia is an important contribution to understanding the dynamics of state formation and economic development in Asia

African Agency and European Colonialism Femi James Kolapo, Kwabena O. Akurang-Parry, 2007 This work provides insights into important moments in the European colonization project in Africa and into structural intersections between the active agents of colonialism and the different layers of Africa's socio political structures It reveals the indispensability of the African peoples their pre colonial establishments and knowledge of the colonial encounter The book also clarifies the significant impact that African people's choices chances mistakes and internal politics had in structuring their colonial experience and European dominance Colonized Africans and colonizing Europeans had to negotiate the nature of their relationship the grid nexus and hierarchy of colonial power and authority were constantly under construction deconstruction and reconstruction African Agency and European Colonialism expounds upon these beclouded features of Africa's engagement of colonialism It is appropriate for students scholars political analysts sociologists and other professionals interested in the social and political history of Africa Book jacket US 31 Improvement Project (I-465 to SR38), Hamilton County, 2008 The Self in Relationships Stanley O. Gaines, 2023 This book explores the rich conceptual and empirical possibilities within current frameworks of interpersonal domains of personality and extends them beyond the current theories using the interpersonal traits of dominance and nurturance as conceptual starting points Through its examination of agency the intrapersonal and communion the interpersonal this book offers a framework for relationship and social scientists to delve into their own research on interdependence processes Constructing the Path to Eastern Enlargement Ulrich Sedelmeier, 2005 This book focuses on explaining why the EU agreed to eastern enlargement and the uneven pattern of accommodation of the applicants preferences in substantive policies Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 2002

Living on the Margins: Social Access to Shelter in Urban South Asia Navtej K. Purewal, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 The privatization of former social state housing through recent public private partnerships is becoming increasingly prevalent in Third World as well as in Western countries In most Third World countries this shift has had profound effects upon the patterns of access of shelter Drawing on studies of South Asian and other Third World contexts as well as original in depth empirical research from Amritsar a city in North West India this book offers an analysis of the withdrawal of state housing provision It develops and applies a unique model based on social status to analyze the new routes of access to housing and land by the urban poor Its conclusions argue that these new privatization policies largely rely upon already existing informal and self help settlements which continue to attract the poor and to be the largest housing providers in many cities thus providing a ready made safety net for such policies The inter linkages between the private state and the public market make up a highly diversified and complex picture of shelter arrangements being accessed by the poor which is reflected in the social differentiation and increasingly stratified housing market The book argues that these partnership policies therefore have long term implications upon social patterns of inclusion and exclusion which must be addressed
