Mind as Machine Margaret A. Boden, 2006 Cognitive science is among the most fascinating intellectual achievements of the modern era The quest to understand the mind is an ancient one But modern science has offered new insights and techniques that have revolutionized this enquiry Oxford University Press now presents a masterly history of the field told by one of its most eminent practitioners Psychology is the thematic heart of cognitive science which aims to understand human and animal minds But its core theoretical ideas are drawn from cybernetics and

artificial intelligence and many cognitive scientists try to build functioning models of how the mind works In that sense Margaret Boden suggests its key insight is that mind is a very special machine Because the mind has many different aspects the field is highly interdisciplinary It integrates psychology not only with cybernetics AI but also with neuroscience and clinical neurology with the philosophy of mind language and logic with linguistic work on grammar semantics and communication with anthropological studies of cultures and with biological and A Life research on animal behaviour evolution and life itself Each of these disciplines in its own way asks what the mind is what it does how it works how it develops and how it is even possible Boden traces the key questions back to Descartes s revolutionary writings and to the ideas of his followers and his radical critics through the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Her story shows how controversies in the development of experimental physiology neurophysiology psychology evolutionary biology embryology and logic are still relevant today Then she guides the reader through the complex interlinked paths along which the study of mind developed in the twentieth century Cognitive science covers all mental phenomena not just cognition knowledge but also emotion personality psychopathology social communication religion motor action and consciousness In each area Boden introduces the key ideas and researchers and discusses those philosophical critics who see cognitive science as fundamentally misguided And she sketches the waves of resistance and acceptance on the part of the media and general public showing how these have affected the development of the field No one else could tell this story as Boden can she has been a member of the cognitive science community since the late 1950s and has known many of its key figures personally Her narrative is written in a lively swift moving style enriched by the personal touch of someone who knows the story at first hand Her history looks forward as well as back besides asking how state of the art research compares with the hopes of the early pioneers she identifies the most promising current work Mind as Machine will be a rich resource for anyone working on the mind in any academic discipline who wants to know how our understanding of mental capacities has advanced over the years

Enaction John Stewart, Olivier Gapenne, Ezequiel A. Di Paolo, 2014-01-10 A comprehensive presentation of an approach that proposes a new account of cognition at levels from the cellular to the social This book presents the framework for a new comprehensive approach to cognitive science The proposed paradigm enaction offers an alternative to cognitive science s classical first generation Computational Theory of Mind CTM Enaction first articulated by Varela Thompson and Rosch in The Embodied Mind MIT Press 1991 breaks from CTM s formalisms of information processing and symbolic representations to view cognition as grounded in the sensorimotor dynamics of the interactions between a living organism and its environment A living organism enacts the world it lives in its embodied action in the world constitutes its perception and thereby grounds its cognition Enaction offers a range of perspectives on this exciting new approach to embodied cognitive science Some chapters offer manifestos for the enaction paradigm others address specific areas of research including artificial intelligence developmental psychology neuroscience language phenomenology and culture and cognition

Three themes emerge as testimony to the originality and specificity of enaction as a paradigm the relation between first person lived experience and third person natural science the ambition to provide an encompassing framework applicable at levels from the cell to society and the difficulties of reflexivity Taken together the chapters offer nothing less than the framework for a far reaching renewal of cognitive science Contributors Renaud Barbaras Didier Bottineau Giovanna Colombetti Diego Cosmelli Hanne De Jaegher Ezequiel A Di Paolo Andreas K Engel Olivier Gapenne Vronique Havelange Edwin Hutchins Michel Le Van Quyen Rafael E Nez Marieke Rohde Benny Shanon Maxine Sheets Johnstone Adam Sheya Linda B Smith John Stewart Evan Thompson
