Patrick Geddes Spokesman For Man And The Environment:

Patrick Geddes: Spokesman for Man and the Environment Sir Patrick Geddes, 1972      Patrick Geddes' Contribution to Sociology and Urban Planning Indra Munshi, 2022-03-29 This book explores Patrick Geddes' significant contributions to urban planning and sociology. His vision of the city, rooted in the principles of social development and preservation of cultural and ecological resources, has inspired generations of urban planners, architects, and social scientists engaged with contemporary urban issues. The book discusses Geddes' early experiments with urban renewal in Edinburgh, the famous Cities and Town Planning Exhibition, and his work in India for the improvement of cities and towns with minimal financial and human cost. It examines the theoretical underpinnings of his ideas in relation to issues such as better housing and health, the preservation of history and culture, the role of a citizen university, and urban renewal and the contemporary urban ecological crisis, among others. Furthermore, it looks at the question of sustainability in the context of Geddes' vision of a more humane, social, natural, and aesthetic town and city. A comprehensive review of Patrick Geddes' ideas, this book underlines the relevance of his work to contemporary urban concerns and issues, especially in India. It will be of interest to scholars and researchers of sociology, urban studies, city planning, urban sociology, architecture, human geography, urban geography, settlement studies, development studies, and environmental sustainability.      Patrick Geddes's Intellectual Origins Macdonald Murdo Macdonald, 2020-02-03 Patrick Geddes is one of Scotland's most remarkable thinkers of the late nineteenth century. His environmental and cultural message endures today, yet the distinctively Scottish context to his thinking has not been properly acknowledged. This book situates Geddes within his own intellectual background, described by George Davie as the democratic intellect, and explores the relevance of that background to Geddes' substantial national and international achievements across a truly impressive range of disciplines. Key Features: Explores Patrick Geddes' Scottish intellectual background in depth for the first time. Highlights Geddes' insistence on the importance of arts to sciences and vice versa, and the distinctively Scottish context of this approach. Considers the interdisciplinary achievements of Geddes in Edinburgh, Dundee, Paris, London, and India. Pays particular attention to his leadership of the Celtic Revival, both from a Scottish perspective and with respect to international links, in particular with Indian cultural revivalists such as Ananda Coomaraswamy.      Manifestoes and Transformations in the Early Modernist City Professor Christian Hermansen Cordua, 2012-11-28 The industrialization of the nineteenth-century European city facilitated developing conceptions of the model city and allowed for large-scale urban transformations. The urban discourse in the latter half of the nineteenth century was consequently dominated by a dialectic exchange between the ideal and the practical, a debate played out in the formation of the modern metropolis. Manifestoes and Transformations is the first work to deal with urban utopias and their relationship with actual urban interventions. Bringing together a carefully chosen, wide-ranging team of experts, the book provides a broad contextual exploration of the ideas and urban practices which are the foundations of our conception of the contemporary city.

As such it is a valuable resource for students interested in the formation of the modernist city

Inventing the Built Environment Juliana Yat Shun Kei, 2024-06-28 Why and how was the term built environment first introduced Inventing the Built Environment retrieves the origin of this ubiquitous term The articulation of the built environment Kei demonstrates coincided with the redefinition of education research and professional practices in architecture and town planning in 1960s Britain Concentrating on the half decade during which the term permeated the architectural and planning professions this book recalls a time when the built environment was conceived as a part of the British government's effort in national economic planning Inventing the Built Environment unpacks the proposal for a Research Council for the Built Environment to mobilise architecture and town planning for political economy How a relatively small group of architects planners politicians and researchers transposed scientific thoughts from biology economics and computation into the built environment will be considered too Kei highlights the assumptions about and classification of the population that were made when inventing the built environment The architectural and biosocial implications of the making and remaking of this architectural environmental notion in Britain and beyond will be revealed through the works of pre eminent architect planners including Richard Llewelyn Davies and William Holford At a time when environmental concerns again take the front seat of architectural and planning debates this book offers for scholars and students an alternative lens to reflect on the assumptions and bias that can be embedded in our architectural lexicons

Ecology and Modern Scottish Literature Louisa Gairn, 2008-05-01 This book presents a provocative and timely reconsideration of modern Scottish literature in the light of ecological thought Louisa Gairn demonstrates how successive generations of Scottish writers have both reflected on and contributed to the development of international ecological theory and philosophy Provocative re readings of works by authors including Robert Louis Stevenson John Muir Nan Shepherd John Burnside Kathleen Jamie and George Mackay Brown demonstrate the significance of ecological thought across the spectrum of Scottish literary culture This book traces the influence of ecology as a scientific philosophical and political concept in the work of these and other writers and in doing so presents an original outlook on Scottish literature from the mid nineteenth century to the present

British Sociology's Lost Biological Roots Chris Renwick, 2012-01-25 A new and innovative account of British sociology's intellectual origins that uses previously unknown archival resources to show how the field's forgotten roots in a late nineteenth and early twentieth century debate about biology can help us understand both its subsequent development and future potential

Urban Masses and Moral Order in America, 1820-1920 Paul S. BOYER, Paul S Boyer, 2009-06-30 For over a century dark visions of moral collapse and social disintegration in American cities spurred an anxious middle class to search for ways to restore order In this important book Paul Boyer explores the links between the urban reforms of the Progressive era and the long efforts of prior generations to tame the cities He integrates the ideologies of urban crusades with an examination of the careers and the mentalities of a group of vigorous activists including Lyman Beecher the pioneers of the tract societies and Sunday schools Charles Loring Brace of the Children's Aid Society Josephine Shaw Lowell of the Charity Organization movement the father of American playgrounds Joseph Lee and the eloquent city planner Daniel Hudson Burnham Boyer describes the early attempts of Jacksonian evangelicals to recreate in the city the social equivalent of the morally homogeneous village he also discusses later strategies that tried to exert a moral influence on urban immigrant families by voluntarist effort including for instance the Charity Organizations friendly visitors By the 1890s there had developed two sharply divergent trends in thinking about urban planning and social control the bleak assessment that led to coercive strategies and the hopeful evaluation that emphasized the importance of environmental betterment as a means of urban moral control

Property, Planning and Protest: The Contentious Politics of Housing Supply Quintin Bradley, 2023-03-17 The struggle for the right to housing is a battle over property rights and land use For housing to be provided as a human need land must be recognised as a common right Property Planning and Protest is a compelling new investigation into public opposition to housing and real estate development Its innovative materialist approach is grounded in the political economy of land value and it recognises the conflict between communities and real estate capital as a struggle over land and property rights Property Planning and Protest is about a social movement struggling for democratic representation in land use decisions The amenity groups it describes champion a democratic plan led system that allocates land for social and environmental goals Situating this movement in a history of land reform and common rights this book sets out a persuasive new vision of democratic planning and affordable housing for all

Seven Management Moralities T. Klikauer, 2012-09-18 For the first time Seven Management Moralities delivers a comprehensive overview of all forms of moral and immoral behaviour displayed by management Utilising Kohlberg's ascending scale of seven moralities the book includes the ethics of Aristotle Kant Utilitarianism Bauman Habermas and Singer

Planning and Citizenship Luigi Mazza, 2015-09-25 Planning is undergoing a period of profound change and risks losing meaning and authority by becoming merely a tool for financial speculation and generating capital Planning and Citizenship seeks to rediscover planning's technical and theoretical roots by reconstructing the memory of planning through the lens of the changing relationship between planning and citizenship Tracing the historical relationship between planning and citizenship through a single thread Luigi Mazza employs three ancient models those of Hippodamus Romulus and Ancient China to understand the foundations of spatial governance and citizenship Paying particular attention to classic case studies of American cities this book moves through the development of central planning theories by key thinkers like Geddes Cerd Howard Abercrombie and Lefebvre Analysing the role of government in promoting social citizenship and symbolic values through planning Mazza takes into account the changing role of government in planning including concepts of neoliberalism and the minimal State Providing critical debate over the current role of spatial governance in planning and citizenship Planning and Citizenship offers a unique historical analysis of a crucial topic in planning

Reconstructing Architecture Thomas A. Dutton, Lian Hurst

Mann, 1996 Reconstructing Architecture was first published in 1996. Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions. To create architecture is an inherently political act yet its nature as a social practice is often obscured beneath layers of wealth and privilege. The contributors to this volume question architecture's complicity with the status quo moving beyond critique to outline the part architects are playing in building radical social movements and challenging dominant forms of power. The making of architecture is instrumental in the construction of our identities, our differences, the world around us. Much of what we know of institutions, the distribution of power, social relations and cultural values is mediated by the built environment. Historically, architecture has constructed the environments that house the dominant culture. Yet as the essays in Reconstructing Architecture demonstrate, there exists a strong tradition of critical practice in the field, one that attempts to alter existing social power relations. Engaging the gap between modernism and postmodernism, each chapter addresses an oppositional discourse that has developed within the field and then reconstructs it in terms of a new social project: feminism, social theory, environmentalism, cultural studies, race and ethnic studies, and critical theory. The activists and scholars writing here provide a clarion call to architects and other producers of culture, challenging them to renegotiate their political allegiances and to help reconstruct a viable democratic life in the face of inexorable forces driving economic growth, destroying global ecology, homogenizing culture, and privatizing the public realm. Reconstructing Architecture reformulates the role of architecture in society as well as its capacity to further a progressive social transformation.

Contributors: Sherry Ahrentzen, U of Wisconsin Milwaukee; Bradford C. Grant, California Polytechnic State U, San Luis Obispo; Richard Ingersoll, Rice U; Margaret Soltan, George Washington U; Anthony Ward, U of Auckland, New Zealand; Thomas A. Dutton is an architect and professor of architecture at Miami University, Ohio. He is editor of Voices in Architectural Education (1991) and is associate editor of the Journal of Architectural Education. Lian Hurst Mann is an architect and editor of Architecture (California). A founding member of the Labor Community Strategy Center in Los Angeles, she is editor of its bilingual quarterly Ahora Now and a coauthor of Reconstructing Los Angeles from the Bottom Up (1993).

The Oxford Critical and Cultural History of Modernist Magazines Peter Brooker, Andrew Thacker, 2009-03-26 The first full study of the role of little magazines and their contribution to the making of artistic modernism. A major scholarly achievement of immense value to teachers, researchers, and students interested in the material culture of the first half of the 20th century and the relation of the arts to social modernity.

Tel-Aviv, the First Century Maoz Azaryahu, S. Ilan Troen, 2020-03-04 A learned and engaging collection of essays on Israel's diverse modern metropolis established in 1909. Religious Studies Review. Tel Aviv, the First Century brings together a broad range of scholars and cutting edge research to trace the development and paradoxes of Tel Aviv as an urban center and a national symbol. Through the lenses of history, literature, urban planning, gender studies, architecture, art, and other fields, these essays reveal the place of Tel Aviv in the life and imagination of its diverse inhabitants.

The careful and insightful tracing of the development of the city's landscape, the relationship of its varied architecture to its competing social cultures and its evolving place in Israel's literary imagination come together to offer a vivid and complex picture of Tel Aviv as a microcosm of Israeli life and a vibrant modern global city. Israel's main metropolis is scrutinized through the lens of history, geography, architecture, art, literature, and gender studies, presenting the many facets that have come to constitute the elaborate personality of a very complicated city and society. Planning Canadian Regions Gerald Hodge, Ira M. Robinson, 2007-10-01 Planning Canadian Regions is the first book to consolidate the history, evolution, current practice, and future prospects for regional planning in Canada. As planners grapple with challenges wrought by globalization, the evolution of massive new city regions, and the pressures for sustainable and community economic development, a deeper understanding of Canada's approaches is invaluable. Hodge and Robinson identify the intellectual and conceptual foundations of regional planning and review the history and main modes of regional planning for rural regions, economic development regions, resource development regions, and metropolitan and city regions. They draw lessons from Canada's past experience and conclude by proposing a new paradigm addressing the needs of regional planning now and in the future, emphasizing regional governance, greater inclusiveness, and integration of physical planning with planning for economic sustainability and natural ecosystems. Planning Canadian Regions will be a much needed text for students and teachers of regional planning and an indispensable reference for planning practitioners. It will also find a receptive audience in such disciplines as urban planning, environmental studies, geography, political science, public administration, and economics.

Brexit and the Political Economy of Fragmentation Jamie Morgan, Heikki Patomäki, 2018-12-07 Brexit means Brexit and other meaningless mantras have simply confirmed that confusion and uncertainty have dominated the early stages of this era-defining event. Though there has been a lack of coherent and substantive policy goals from the UK government, this does not prevent analysis of the various causes of Brexit and the likely constraints on and consequences of the various forms Brexit might take. Is Brexit a last gasp of neoliberalism in decline? Is it a signal of the demise of the EU? Is it possible that the UK electorate will get what they thought they voted for and what was that? Will a populist agenda run foul of economic and political reality? What chance for the UK of a brave new world of bespoke trade treaties straddling a post-geography world? Is the UK set to become a Singapore-lite tax haven? What is the difference between a UK-centric and a UK-centred point of view on Brexit? Will Brexit augment disintegrative tendencies in the European and world economy? These are some of the questions explored in this timely set of essays penned by some of the best-known names in political economy and international political economy. The chapters in this book, originally published as a special issue in Globalizations.

The Politics of the Artificial Victor Margolin, 2018-01-11 Emerging from the world of commercial art and product styling, design has now become completely integrated into human life. Its marks are all around us, from the chairs we sit on to the Web sites on our computer screens. One of the pioneers of design studies and still one of its most distinguished practitioners, Victor Margolin here offers a timely meditation on design and its study at the turn of the millennium and charts new directions for the future development of both fields Divided into sections on the practice and study of design the essays in The Politics of the Artificial cover such topics as design history design research design as a political tool sustainable design and the problems of design's relation to advanced technologies Margolin also examines the work of key practitioners such as the matrix designer Ken Isaacs Throughout the book Margolin demonstrates the underlying connections between the many ways of reflecting on and practicing design He argues for the creation of an international interdisciplinary field of design research and proposes a new ethical agenda for designers and researchers that encompasses the responsibility to users the problems of sustainability and the complicated questions of how to set boundaries for applying advanced technology to solve the problems of human life

Opinionated and erudite Victor Margolin's The Politics of the Artificial breaks fresh ground in its call for a new approach to design research and practice Designers engineers architects anthropologists sociologists and historians will all benefit from its insights Site Matters Carol Burns, Andrea Kahn, 2005-07-08 One of the trends in twentieth century architecture and planning has been to denigrate and ignore the site or larger context both physical and social surrounding a building or set of buildings Focussing on Le Corbusier's designs Site Matters presents that first considered theory and vocabulary for the inevitable reaction against Modernism in planning beginning in the 1960s and swelling through the 1980s as architects and planners alike developed a new appreciation of site reincorporating the wider context into their plans Theoretical essays and empirically grounded pieces combine to provide the language and theory of this re emergence of site looking at Le Corbusier's designs contemporary suburbs and the planning agendas involved at the World Trade Center site Groundbreaking and innovative Site Matters provides valuable theory and vocabulary for planners and architects Britain and the Iranian Constitutional Revolution of 1906-1911 Mansour Bonakdarian, 2006-06-30 In this thoroughly researched account Mansour Bonakdarian provides an in depth exploration of the substantial British support for the Iranian constitutional and national struggle of 1906-1911 illuminating the opposition in Britain to Anglo Russian imperialist intervention in Iran In painstaking and compelling detail Bonakdarian analyzes in particular the role of the Persia Committee a lobbying group founded in 1908 for the sole purpose of changing Britain's policy toward Iran This book's strength lies in its coverage of how Sir Edward Grey's policy toward Iran was shaped and the extent to which this policy was affected by sustained criticism from a number of disparate groups including dissenters radicals socialists liberal imperialists and conservatives The volume and breadth of primary archival materials used is extensive Not only have all the standard collections been examined such as the Foreign Office files and the Cabinet and Grey papers but also numerous private archives in international libraries have been consulted Bonakdarian's deep understanding of the Iranian issues yields a rich and balanced approach to the literature in the field With clear and systematic arguments he offers an account of diplomatic history that is accessible and persuasive His scholarship is certain to reinvigorate dialogue on the subject of Anglo Iranian relations Pollution Abstracts ,1973
