Patrick White's Fiction:

Patrick White's Fiction Carolyn Bliss, 1986-08-18 This study examines all eleven novels of Patrick White the great Australian writer and Nobel Prize winner It begins from the observation that major characters in his novels undergo a necessary redemptive or facilitating failure This failure paradoxically enables their success within the context of what White has called the overreaching grandeur which circumscribes human existence Evolution of this theme is traced through forty years of White's fiction from his first novel Happy Valley 1939 to his most recent work The Twyborn Affair 1979 Comprehensive in its scope this book is informed by a thorough knowledge of White's poetry plays short stories and autobiography as well as his novels It is also unique in stressing that White's world view derives from a distinctly Australian experience It thus links him to a country in which he is deeply rooted and to a heritage he continued to affirm

Dissociation and Wholeness in Patrick White's Fiction Laurence Steven, 1989-08-23 Patrick White is a man divided one part of him strives for permanence surety the ideal while knowing the contingent temporal realm he inhabits must inevitably undermine such striving The desire and the knowledge of its futility leads him into a misanthropic devaluation of human creative possibility and complementarily into the arbitrary use of imposed symbolic resolutions directed to an elect who can see It has been this part of White largely that criticism has been industrious in explicating if not in quite the terms I have used above But there is another part of White which

Reading Corporeality in Patrick White's Fiction Bridget Grogan, 2019-03-25 In Reading Corporeality in Patrick White's Fiction An Abject Dictatorship of the Flesh Bridget Grogan combines theoretical explication textual comparison and close reading to argue that corporeality is central to Patrick White's fiction shaping the characterization style narrative trajectories and implicit philosophy of his novels and short stories Critics have often identified a radical disgust at play in White's writing claiming that it arises from a defining dualism that posits the purity of the disembodied spirit in relation to the pollution of the material world Grogan argues convincingly however that White's fiction is far more complex in its approach to the body Modeling ways in which Kristevan theory may be applied to modern fiction her close attention to White's recurring interest in physicality and abjection draws attention to his complex questioning of metaphysics and subjectivity thereby providing a fresh and compelling reading of this important world author

Laden Choirs Peter Wolfe, 2014-07-15 In 1973 the Australian novelist Patrick White won the Nobel Prize for Literature the year that his great novel of family ties and change The Eye of the Storm was published and became a bestseller in America and Europe Yet White is still not widely known or read and few writers of today have provoked so many contradictory judgments Now Peter Wolfe has written the first book length study of the work of this brilliant and haunting novelist The study offers a subtle penetrating examination of White's style his skill in building narrative tension and also the depth and complexity reflected in his characterization which in his novels always dominates action Fittingly for a writer whose novels bear the indelible stamp of Australia the study also examines White's psychological use of setting and the intense sense of place found in his work No other critical study of White covers such a broad range of his writing Peter Wolfe considers here the entire canon of the novels The Tree of Man Voss The Vivisector The Eye of the Storm A Fringe of Leaves and The Twyborn Affair White's most recent novel are all discussed White's themes and settings range from the power and immensity of the wilderness of the Australian outback to the dislocations wrought in traditional values by postwar industrialization and urban sprawl Laden Choirs makes accessible to an American audience a writer of the first rank whose work lies at the heart of modernist concerns Literary students and scholars who wish to explore the world of Patrick White will find this book an essential key Patrick White Mark Williams, 1993 This critical study considers Patrick White's 12 published novels and traces the connections between his life and work The novels from The Aunt's Story to Memoirs of Many in One are considered in terms of a number of overlapping contexts White's ambivalence about sexuality nationality and modernity his evolving sense of the possibilities of the novel as a form and the continuing presence of the themes experiments and influences of the 1930s shaping his mature fiction Patrick White's Fiction Carolyn Bliss, 1986 The Living and the Dead Patrick White, 1967 Paperback reprint in the Penguin Twentieth Century Classics series of the second novel by the Australian winner of the Nobel Prize for literature Set in London in the 1930s it portrays the complex rhythms of relationships within a family First published in 1941 The author's other novels include The Tree of Man and The Eye of the Storm Witnessing the Past Sigrun Meinig, 2004 Voss Patrick White, 1957 Set in nineteenth century Australia Voss is White's best known book a sweeping novel about a secret passion between the explorer Voss and the young orphan Laura As Voss is tested by hardship mutiny and betrayal during his crossing of the brutal Australian desert Laura awaits his return in Sydney where she endures their months of separation as if her life were a dream and Voss the only reality Marrying a sensitive rendering of hidden love with a stark adventure narrative Voss is a novel of extraordinary power and virtuosity from a twentieth century master Patrick White Speaks Patrick White, 1992 A collection of letters speeches and articles which reveal Patrick White's views on a variety of political and social issues Patrick White's Novels Sylvia Rose Gzell, 1967

The Cambridge Companion to the Australian Novel Nicholas Birns, Louis Klee, 2023-03-02 This book provides a clear lively and accessible guide to the complex histories and vital present of the Australian novel Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger, 2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important Similarly an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel not only from analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre A wide range of topic entries explore the history criticism theory production dissemination and reception of the novel A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world Transnational Networks, 2012-04-19 Non British migrants and their communities were an integral part of the multifaceted and multicultural nature of the British Empire Their history however goes beyond a clearly delineated narrative of the Empire and includes transnational and truly global dimensions German migrants and their transnational network creation within the structures of the British Empire pursued over more than two centuries in a multitude of geographical settings is the constitutive framework of the present volume Eight contributions cover economic cultural scientific and political themes The book questions traditional nation centred narratives of the Empire as an exclusively British undertaking Exploring Suburbia Nathanael O'Reilly, 2012 Exploring Suburbia is the first book length study of suburbia in Australian literature it addresses a long neglected and underexamined area within Australian literature and analyzes novels by some of Australia's most important writers from a new perspective in addition to examining novels previously neglected by critics This book provides new insights and perspectives on fourteen Australian novels several of which are canonical works that have been analyzed extensively by other scholars This study will lead to a reassessment of the novels and authors under discussion and prompt further research into suburbia in Australian literature It demonstrates that the authors who have explored suburbia since 1961 have already moved Australian literature in a new direction away from the traditional focus on the bush and the city demonstrating that the literal and theoretical space between the city and the bush contains the most interesting and important engagements with contemporary Australian culture Exploring Suburbia is an important addition for collections in literature It will also be an excellent textbook for professors teaching courses on space and culture in literature It will also of course be an essential read for courses in Australian and international literature Creating Communities Nourit Melcer-Padon, 2018-05-15 How does historical reality interrelate with fiction And how much are readers themselves involved in the workings of fictional literature With innovative interpretations of various well known texts Nourit Melcer Padon introduces the use of literary masks and illustrates literature's engagement of its readers ethical judgement She promotes a new perception of literary theory and of connections between thinkers such as Iser Castoriadis Sartre Jung and Neumann The book offers a unique view on the role of the community in post existentialist modern cultural reality by emphasizing the importance of ritual practices in literature as a cultural manifestation Nobel Laureates in Search of Identity & Integrity Anders Hallengren, 2004 The Nobel Laureates are Sir V S Naipaul United Kingdom born in Trinidad Nadine Gordimer South Africa Derek Walcott St Lucia Naguib Mahfouz Egypt Patrick White Australia Ernest Hemingway USA Grazia Deledda Sardinia Italy Amartya Sen United Kingdom and the USA born in India Rabindranath Tagore India Nelson Mandela South Africa Literature as Translation/Translation as Literature Christopher Conti, James Gourley, 2014-03-17 Broadly conceived literature consists of aesthetic and cultural processes that can be thought of as forms of translation By the same token translation requires the sort of creative or interpretive understanding usually associated with literature Literature as Translation Translation as

Literature explores a number of themes centred on this shared identity of literature and translation as creative acts of interpretation and understanding. The metaphor or motif of translation is the touchstone of this volume which looks at how an expanded idea of translation sheds light not just on features of literary composition and reception but also on modes of intercultural communication at a time when the pressures of globalization threaten local cultures with extinction. The theory of ethical translation that has emerged in this context which fosters the practice of preserving the foreignness of the text at the risk of its misunderstanding bears relevance beyond current debates about world literature to the framing of contemporary social issues by dominant discourses like medicine as one contributor's study of the growing autism rights movement reveals. The systematizing imperatives of translation that forcibly assimilate the foreign to the familiar like the systematizing imperatives of globalization are resisted in acts of creative understanding in which the particular or different finds sanctuary. The overlooked role that the foreign word plays in the discourses that constitute subjectivity and national culture comes to light across the variegated concerns of this volume. Contributions range from case studies of the emancipatory role translation has played in various historical and cultural contexts to the study of specific literary works that understand their own aesthetic processes and the interpretive and communicative processes of meaning more generally as forms of translation. Several contributors including the English translators of Roberto Bolaño and Hans Blumenberg were prompted in their reflections on the creative and interpretive process of translation by their own accomplished work as translators. All are animated by the conviction that translation whether regarded as the creative act of understanding of one culture by another as the agent of political and social transformation as the source of new truths in foreign linguistic environments and not just the bearer of established ones or as the limit of conceptuality outlined in the silhouette of the untranslatable is a creative cultural force of the first importance.
