Catalog ,2000 Selected Publications of the U.S. Department of Education United States. Department of Education,2000 Violet America Jason Arthur,2013-04-05 Violet America takes on the long habit among literary historians and critics of thinking about large segments of American literary production in terms of regionalism or local color writing thus marginalizing important literary works Rather than simply celebrating regional difference Jason Arthur argues regional cosmopolitan fiction blends the nation s cultural polarities into a connected interdependent America Book jacket Encyclopedia of the New York School Poets Terence Diggory,2015-04-22 Presents an alphabetical reference guide detailing the lives and works of poets associated with the New York Schools of the early twentieth century The Torchlight List Jim Flynn,2013-11-01 In today s world it seems that everywhere we turn we are saturated with book recommendations from talk shows magazines radio shows friends and top ten lists But which books are really the best and what effects do the books we read have on our intelligence The Torchlight List has the answers A professor for over forty years Jim Flynn was concerned when he saw that his students were reading less and less He decided to compile a list of recommendations for them which expanded to include two hundred titles that transport the reader into a magic realm of knowledge and imagination The books must also shed light on human psychology history science or philosophy the concepts needed to comprehend the complexities of the modern world The list named in honor of Flynn s uncle who read by torchlight onboard a ship during WWI is divided by geographical area Flynn offers a brief explanation on the history each book deals with and comments on the plots with humor and wit He bets each reader that at least one of the five first titles will change his or her life This is a book that will inspire you to reread books you love and to discover and relish many new ones The Desegregation of Public Libraries in the Jim Crow South Shirley A. Wiegand,Wayne A. Wiegand,2018-04-14 In The Desegregation of Public Libraries in the Jim Crow South Wayne A and Shirley

A Wiegand tell the comprehensive story of the integration of southern public libraries As in other efforts to integrate civic institutions in the 1950s and 1960s the determination of local activists won the battle against segregation in libraries In particular the willingness of young black community members to take part in organized protests and direct actions ensured that local libraries would become genuinely free to all citizens The Wiegands trace the struggle for equal access to the years before the Supreme Court s Brown v Board of Education decision when black activists in the South focused their efforts on equalizing accommodations rather than on the more daunting and dangerous task of undoing segregation After the ruling momentum for vigorously pursuing equality grew and black organizations shifted to more direct challenges to the system including public library sit ins and lawsuits against library systems Although local groups often took direction from larger civil rights organizations the energy courage and determination of younger black community members ensured the eventual desegregation of Jim Crow public libraries The Wiegands examine the library desegregation movement in several southern cities and states revealing the ways that individual communities negotiated mostly peacefully sometimes violently the integration of local public libraries This study adds a new chapter to the history of civil rights activism in the mid twentieth century and celebrates the resolve of community activists as it weaves the account of racial discrimination in public libraries through the national narrative of the civil rights movement El-Hi Textbooks in Print ,1984 Commerce America ,1977
