The English Folly Gwyn Headley, Wim Meulen Kamp, 2020-06-24 If this were a novel the tales of astounding wealth sexual perversion murder munificence rape insanity brutality slavery religious mania selfishness snobbery charity suicide generosity theft madness wickedness failure and eccentricity which unfold in these pages would be too concentrated to allow for the willing suspension of disbelief All these sins and virtues and more are displayed by the characters in this book some exhibiting several of them simultaneously Folly builders were not as we are They never built what we now call follies They built for beauty utility improvement it is only we struggling after them with our imperfect understanding who dismiss their prodigious constructions as follies Follies can be found around the world but England is their spiritual home Having written the definitive books on follies in Great Britain Benelux and the USA Headley Meulen Kamp have turned their attention to the folly builders themselves people so blinded by fashion or driven by some nameless ideology that they expended great fortunes on making their point in brick stone and flint Most follies are simply misunderstood buildings and this book studies the motives characters decisions and delusions of their builders If there was madness in their building fortunately there was no method in it

Persian Gardens and Pavilions Mohammad Gharipour, 2013-04-02 From Timur's tent in Samarkand to Shah Abbas's palace in Isfahan and Humayun's tomb in Delhi, the pavilion has been an integral part of Persianate gardens since its earliest appearance at the Achaemenid garden in Pasargadae in the sixth century BC. Here Mohammad Gharipour places both the garden and the pavilion within their historical literary and artistic contexts, emphasizing the importance of the pavilion which has hitherto been overlooked in the study of Iranian historical architecture. Starting with an examination of the depictions and representations of gardens in religious texts, Gharipour analyses how the idea of the garden developed from the model of pre-Islamic gardens in Achaemenid and Sassanian Persia to its mentions in the Zoroastrian text of Aban Yasht and on to its central role as paradise in the Qur'an. Continuing on with an exploration of gardens and pavilions in Persian poetry, Gharipour offers in-depth analysis of their literal and metaphorical values. It is in the poetry of major Persian poets such as Ferdowsi, Naser Khosrow, Sa'di, Rumi, and Hafez that Gharipour finds that whilst gardens are praised for their spiritual values, they also contain significant symbolic worth in terms of temporal wealth and power. Persian Gardens and Pavilions then goes on to examine the garden and the pavilion as reflected in Persian miniature painting, sculpture, and carpets, as well as accounts of travelers to Persia. With masters such as Bihzad representing daily life, as well as the more mystical prose and poetry, for example Sa'di's Bustan, The Orchard, and Golestan, The Rose Garden, the garden and the pavilion can be seen to have crucial semiotic significances and cultural meanings. But in addition to this, they also point to historical patterns of patronage and ownership which were of central importance in the diplomatic and social life of the royal courts of Persia. Gharipour thereby highlights the metaphorical, spiritual, symbolic, and religious aspects of gardens, as well as their more materialistic and economic functions. This book reaches back through Persia's rich history to explore the material and psychological relationships between human beings pavilions and gardens and will be a valuable resource for Art History Architecture and Iranian Studies The Flowers and Gardens of Japan Florence Du Cane,1908
