Researching the Fragments Carolyn Brewer, Anne-Marie Medcalf, 2000 Women Miners in Developing Countries Martha Macintyre, 2017-05-15 Contrary to their masculine portrayal mines have always employed women in valuable and productive roles Yet pit life continues to be represented as a masculine world of work legitimizing men as the only mineworkers and large mechanized and capitalized operations as the only form of mining Bringing together a range of case studies of women miners from past and present in Asia the Pacific region Latin America and Africa this book makes visible the roles and contributions of women as miners It also highlights the importance of engendering small and informal mining in the developing world as compared to the early European and American mines The book shows that women are engaged in various kinds of mining and illustrates how gender and inequality are constructed and sustained in the mines and also how ethnic identities intersect with those gendered identities Imagining Prostitution in Modern Japan, 1850-1913 Ann Marie L. Davis, 2019-03-13 In the winter of 1913 a small crowd gathered on the streets of a famous red light district on the outskirts of Tokyo Curious patrons journalists and onlookers formed a steady procession to see the prostitute Wada Yoshiko and celebrate the release of her new book A Prostitute's Tale divulged inner secrets about her co workers patrons and difficult confinement in a government run syphilis hospital According to the press the author was a literary prostitute a new expert and a compelling version of Japan's new woman Soon widely acclaimed her literary work heralded a growing public desire for inside knowledge about the lived experiences of pleasure workers Wada's success was the product of more than half a century of high stakes conversations about the future of Japan Her fame as an author simultaneously challenged and complemented previous discussions about the role of the female prostitute in the modern nation state However while her perspective was new the information she shared invoked key themes that had proliferated about her in prior decades Since the 1850s when Japan was forced to sign the unequal commercial treaties with the Western imperial powers wide ranging debates had taken place that linked the prostitute to national security and international prestige in imperative new ways Imagining Prostitution in Modern Japan traces the symbol of the prostitute as a project of nation and empire building from the 1850s to 1913 ending one year after the death of the Meiji emperor and coincidentally the year of Wada's publication It untangles how ideas about pleasure work intersected with Japan's transformation into a modern nation according to Western models It asserts that the figure of the prostitute was a powerful symbolic resource that wide ranging interest groups deployed variously to negotiate and define shifting distinctions of status identity and power Each of the debates about the prostitute was in turn central to and mutually constitutive of the emergent social order in Meiji Japan Engendering Violence in Papua New Guinea Margaret Jolly, Christine Stewart, Carolyn Brewer, 2012-07-01 This collection builds on previous works on gender violence in the Pacific but goes beyond some previous approaches to domestic violence or violence against women in analysing the dynamic processes of engendering violence in PNG Engendering refers not just to the sex of individual actors but to gender as a crucial relation in collective life and the massive social transformations ongoing in PNG conversion to Christianity the development of extractive industries the implanting of introduced models of justice and the law and the spread of HIV Hence the collection examines issues of troubled masculinities as much as battered women and tries to move beyond the black and white binaries of blaming either tradition or modernity as the primary cause of gender violence It relates original scholarly research in the villages and towns of PNG to questions of policy and practice and reveals the complexities and contestations in the local translation of concepts of human rights It will interest undergraduate and graduate students in gender studies and Pacific studies and those working on the policy and practice of combating gender violence in PNG and elsewhere Cultivating Connections Alison R.
