Restoration And Eighteenth Century Literature Essays:

His and Hers Ann Messenger, 2021-10-21 Exploring territory seldom visited by feminist scholars Ann Messenger in this new book presents eight studies of literary relationships between men and women writers ranging from the Restoration to the end of the eighteenth century The essays show men and women working together praising and criticizing each other's work borrowing and changing each other's plots and characters recording their different perceptions of their common world From Dryden's praise of Anne Killigrew through Gay's and Lady Mary Wortley Montagu's collaboration on a town eclogue Thomas Southerne's dramatizations of novels by Aphra Behn and Eliza Haywood's version of the Spectator to Cornelia Knight's sequel to Rasselas these relationships demonstrate that men and women writers inhabited the same literary world shared the traditions of the mainstream of English literature Most of the women have since faded from view But Messenger suggests the time has come to rediscover them to reassess their work and to revise the commonly accepted canon of literature accordingly Although most of the studies deal with the way women's writing responds to writing by men the Afterword combats the charge that the women's work is derivative Free of critical jargon and ideological straitjacketing His and Hers makes some little known writers available and interesting to specialists and nonspecialists feminists and traditionalists alike while it sheds new light on some of the most familiar figures of the period The Appendix reprints some of the shorter works which have been analyzed in detail and summaries in the text help to compensate for the unavailability of some of the women's books The comparative approach suggests a wide and rich field for further research

Restoration and Eighteenth-century Literature Carroll Camden, Alan Dugald McKillop, 1963 Restoration and Eighteenth-century Literature : Essays in Honour of Alan Dugald McKillop C. Camden, 1969 Cultural Readings of Restoration and Eighteenth-Century English Theater Deborah Payne Fisk, J. Douglas Canfield, 2010-12-01 Ranging in approach from feminist to historicist the eleven essays in this collection share the culturalist premise that the drama of late Stuart and early Georgian England helped to constitute the dominant ideology of the period The contributors varied approaches allow for the reconsideration of libertinism the politics of sexual desire and other classic issues as well as such newer concerns as the social construction of the first English actresses empiricism as an emergent epistemological discourse cultural anxiety about novelty and repetition and shifting tropes of inherent worth By reading well known works in unexpected ways and focusing on less frequently studied dramatists from Sedley Motteux Pix and Behn to Manley Trotter and Shadwell the contributors also test the limits of the canon In addition they suggest that earlier critical perceptions perhaps even more than the innate worth of the plays determined the shape of the canon These essays present a different image of Restoration and eighteenth century theater one that reveals how the drama was a site as important for the negotiation of cultural meaning as were novels and verse satires

Willison,1971-07-02 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 2 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries Adaptations of Laurence Sterne's Fiction Mary-Celine Newbould,2016-03-23 Exploring how readers received and responded to literary works in the long eighteenth century M C Newbould focuses on the role played by Laurence Sterne s fiction and its adaptations Literary adaptation flourished throughout the eighteenth century encouraging an interactive relationship between writers readers and artists when well known works were transformed into new forms across a variety of media Laurence Sterne offers a particularly dynamic subject the immense interest provoked by The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy Gentleman and A Sentimental Journey through France and Italy inspired an unrivalled number and range of adaptations from their initial publication onwards In placing her examination of Sterneana within the context of its production Newbould demonstrates how literary adaptation operates across generic and formal boundaries She breaks new ground by bringing together several potentially disparate aspects of Sterneana belonging to areas of literary studies that include drama music travel writing sentimental fiction and the visual Her study is a vital resource for Sterne scholars and for readers generally interested in cultural productivity in this period Poetry and the Making of the English Literary Past, 1660-1781 Richard G. Terry,2001 The book concludes that the opening up and ordering of the English literary past occurs earlier than is generally supposed and the same also applies to the process by which women writers achieve their own distinctive form of canonical recognition BOOK JACKET Heroes of Empire Richard Frohock,2004-09 Over the past decade literary scholars have become increasingly engaged with colonial studies and have fashioned various points of focus in their investigations of imperialist narratives including the figure of woman cannibalism the romance of the first encounter and the tropicopolitan This book builds on existing work by offering a new focal point the evolution of the British imperial hero in America from Sir Walter Raleigh s Discoverie of Guiana 1596 to James Grainger s The Sugar Cane 1764 with concentration on narratives produced between the year of Cromwell s Western Design 1655 and the British raid on Cartagena 1741 Each individual chapter isolates a distinct type of colonial hero furnishing examples from a wide variety of narratives including some nonfiction essays and tracts but chiefly novels plays and poems The World of Pope's Satires Peter Dixon, 2022-01-29 First published in 1968 The World of Pope's Satires is a stimulating and challenging book showing how the satires written by Pope during the 1730s were not only expressions of his own poetic personality but were also responsive to the habits and attitudes of the age The author considers Pope's uses of some current conversational technique especially that of raillery and of the closely related social ideal of the cultivated gentleman Pope's regard for certain personal attributes and moral values notably hospitality integrity friendship charity and self knowledge is examined in two ways as it expresses itself positively in the satires and as it is defined negatively by his antipathy towards courtly self seeking and hypocrisy contemporary manifestations of acquisitiveness and the pride associated with neo stoicism The final chapter is wide ranging and shows that although Pope is at times representative and therefore limited in his response to the pressures and uncertainties of the age his satires live because of the subtlety of his treatment of such Augustan commonplaces as Order and Balance and the passion and spirit of his writing This will be an interesting read for students of English literature 1650-1850 Kevin L. Cope, Samara Anne Cahill, 2024-08-16 Exploratory investigative and energetically analytical 1650 1850 covers the full expanse of long eighteenth century thought writing and art while delivering abundant revelatory detail Essays on well known cultural figures combine with studies of emerging topics to unveil a vivid rendering of a dynamic period simultaneously committed to singular genius and universal improvement Welcoming research on all nations and language traditions 1650 1850 invites readers into a truly global Enlightenment Topics in volume 29 include Samuel Johnson's notions about the education of women and a refreshing account of Sir Joseph Banks's globetrotting A guest edited illustration rich interdisciplinary special feature explores the cultural implications of water As always 1650 1850 culminates in a bevy of full length book reviews critiquing the latest scholarship on long established specialties unusual subjects and broad reevaluations of the period ISSN 1065 3112 Published by Bucknell University Press distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press
