Restorative Justice In Context:

Restorative Justice in Context Elmar G. M. Weitekamp, Hans-Jürgen Kerner, 2012-12-06 This book brings together a selection of papers originally presented and discussed at the fourth international restorative justice conference held at the University of Tübingen. The contributors include many of the leading authorities in the burgeoning field of restorative justice and they provide a comprehensive review of developing international practice and directions and the context in which restorative justice practices are developing. Restorative Justice in Context moves beyond a focus on restorative justice for juveniles to a broader concern with the application of restorative justice in such areas as corporate crime, family violence and the application of restorative justice in cases of extreme violent crimes. The contexts examined are drawn from Europe, North America, Australasia and Japan. Leading world authorities analyse international case studies reflecting the growth of restorative justice, a worldwiderapidly expanding area of interest.

A Restorative Justice Reader Gerry Johnstone, 2003 A fine book. Cogently argued and nuanced a serious contribution to thinking on restorative justice. John Braithwaite. One of the most important developments in crime and its control over recent years has been the emergence of a dynamic campaign promoting restorative justice as an alternative to standard ways of responding to crime, i.e. legal prosecution and state punishment. Accompanying this has been a rapidly growing literature on the subject from the UK, North America, Australasia and elsewhere. The main aim of this book is to bring together a selection of extracts from the most important and influential contributions to the restorative justice literature and its emergent philosophy, accompanying these with an informative commentary providing context and explanation where necessary. The book includes by both well known proponents of restorative justice work by some of the key critics of the restorative justice movement along with work from a number of writers not directly involved in either advocacy or critique of restorative justice but whose work is crucial to an understanding of it. The book is organised into five main sections: the concept of restorative justice; historical, anthropological and theological roots of restorative justice; the goals: restoring victims and offenders and preventing crime; the restorative process; critical perspectives. The book provides a unique sourcebook bringing together writings from a wide range of often inaccessible sources, essential reading both for students taking courses in criminal justice, restorative justice as well as practitioners involved in the administration of criminal justice who need an understanding of what restorative justice is about and how it has developed.

Creating Restorative Justice

Gregory D. Paul,Ian M. Borton,2021-04-07 Discussion of the histories meanings and assumptions of restorative justice have enriched the development of its theory research and practices While some of this work has addressed the role of communication the treatment of communication within restorative justice remains rather under developed Communication plays a central role in processes of restoration and justice and a constitutive role in making restorative justice what it is In Creating Restorative Justice A Communication Perspective of Justice Restoration and Community Gregory D PaulandIan M Borton argue that by centering communication in restorative justice as it occurs in various contexts from families to schools to communities we can simultaneously deepen our understanding enrich our practice and amplify our study of restoration and justice From a communication perspective restorative contexts both use and are created by the communication present

Any outcomes from restorative processes are thus the product of the communication both within and between restorative practices participants As the world addresses the challenges presented by injustice inequality and insecurity it is incumbent we expand our understanding of restorative processes to account for the vital role of communication Restorative

Justice and Criminal Justice Andreas von Hirsch, Julian V Roberts, Anthony E Bottoms, Kent Roach, Mara Schiff, 2003-01-06

Restorative Justice has emerged around the world as a potent challenge to traditional models of criminal justice and restorative programmes policies and legislative reforms are being implemented in many western nations However the underlying aims values and limits of this new paradigm remain somewhat uncertain and those advocating Restorative Justice have rarely engaged in systematic debate with those defending more traditional conceptions of criminal justice This volume containing contributions from scholars of international renown provides an analytic exploration of Restorative Justice and its potential advantages and disadvantages Chapters of the book examine the aims and limiting principles that should govern Restorative Justice its appropriate scope of application its social and legal contexts its practice and impact in a number of jurisdictions and its relation to more traditional criminal justice conceptions These questions are addressed by twenty distinguished criminologists and legal scholars in papers which make up this volume These contributions will help clarify the aims that Restorative Justice might reasonably hope to achieve the limits that should apply in pursuing these aims and how restorative strategies might comport with or replace other penal strategies Contributors Andrew Ashworth Anthony E Bottoms John Braithwaite Kathleen Daly James Dignan R A Duff Carolyn Hoyle Barbara Hudson Leena Kurki Allison Morris Kent Roach Julian V Roberts Paul Roberts Mara Schiff Joanna Shapland Clifford Shearing Daniel van Ness Andrew von Hirsch Lode Walgrave Richard Young Restorative Justice and Civil Society Heather Strang, John Braithwaite, 2001-05-02

compassion from both sides The book explores this extraordinary journey from harm to healing using the structure of a timeline from an offence through the criminal justice process and into the heart of the restorative meeting Using case studies the book offers a fresh angle on a topic that is of growing interest both in the UK and internationally It is ideal as a comprehensive introduction for those new to restorative justice and as a best practice guide for existing practitioners

Restorative Justice and the Law Lode Walgrave,2012-12-06 Restorative justice has developed rapidly from being a barely known term to occupying a central role in debates on the future of criminal justice But as it has become part of the mainstream of debate so new tensions and issues have emerged One of the most crucial issues is to find an appropriate combination of restorative justice based essentially on informal deliberation and the law The purpose of this book is to analyse the several dimensions to this issue It explores the social and ethical foundations of restorative justice seeks to position it in relation to both rehabilitation and punishment and examines the possibility of developing and incorporating restorative justice as the mainstream response to crime in terms of the principles of constitutional democracy Amongst the questions it addresses are the following How are informal processes to be juxtaposed with formal procedures What is the appropriate relationship between voluntarism and coercion How can the procedures and practices of restorative justice be combined with legal standards safeguards and precepts How can one balance restorative responses with legally sanctioned punishment In this book a distinguished team of contributors consider this crucial set of relationships between restorative justice and the law building upon papers and discussions at the fifth international restorative justice conference in Leuven Belgium in September 2001 restorative justice has grown rapidly throughout the world this book addresses the central issue of relationship of restorative justice to existing law and legal systems chapters from world leading authorities
