Rethinking International Relations:

Rethinking International Relations Fred Halliday, 1994 Rethinking International Relations Theory Martin Griffiths, 2011-03-02 International Relations IR theory has seen a proliferation of competing and increasingly trenchant worldviews with no consensus on how to evaluate their relative strengths and weakness This innovative new text provides an original interpretation of how best to navigate the clash of perspectives in contemporary IR theory The book provides a systematic overview of the main worldviews such as realism liberalism and constructivism and their associated theoretical underpinnings Placing liberal internationalism at the heart of the debate it argues that the main division in IR theory is between liberal internationalism and its critics Griffiths examines both the strengths and weaknesses of liberal internationalism as a worldview and also explores the competing worldviews that have been generated by the perceived flaws of this perspective Examination of crucial policy issues is incorporated throughout the text restoring the relevance of theory for those who wish to understand those policy issues Moreover this book revitalises the raison d'être of contemporary IR theory and shows the role it can play in making sense of the twenty first century Rethinking International Relations Bertrand Badie, 2020-02-28 In this thought provoking book Bertrand Badie argues that the traditional paradigms of international relations are no longer sustainable and that ignorance of these shifting systems and of alternative models is a major source of contemporary international conflict and disorder Through a clear examination of the political historical and social context Badie illuminates the challenges and possibilities of an intersocial and multilateral approach to international relations Rethinking International Relations Akira Iriye, 1998 Guerrilla Diplomacy Daryl Copeland, 2009 Diplomacy development and security in the age of globalization Cold War comfort the world we knew Globalization and empire the world we've got Understanding world order the march of history Persistent insecurity lessons unlearned Development revisited no justice no peace Science and technology black hole or silver bullet The global political economy of knowledge working smarter The foreign ministry relic or renaissance Public diplomacy and foreign service the front lines International policy instruments relevant effective transformed Guerrilla diplomacy sharper faster lighter Conclusion none foregone Rethinking International Relations Through Ecological Perspectives and Food Politics Mary M. Young, 1997 Identities, Borders, Orders, 2001 Rethinking Foreign Policy Analysis Stephen G. Walker, Akan Malici, Mark Schafer, 2011-01-26 Rethinking Foreign Policy Analysis presents the definitive treatment to integrate theories of foreign policy analysis and international relations addressing the agent centered micro political study of decisions by leaders and the structure oriented macro political study of state interactions in an international system Globalisation and Legal Theory William Twining, 2000-03 The text makes the case for a revival of general jurisprudence in response to globalisation Recognition in International Relations C. Daase, A. Geis, Caroline Fehl, Georgios Kolliarakis, 2015-05-12 Recognition is a basic human need but it is not a panacea to all societal ills This volume assembles contributions from International Relations

Political Theory and International Law in order to show that recognition is a gradual process and an ambiguous concept both in theory and political practice Realist Constructivism ,2010 China's Rise and Rethinking International Relations Theory Chengxin Pan,Emilian Kavalski,2022-02-16 Bringing together leading scholars from Asia and the West this book investigates how the dynamics of China's rise in world politics contributes to theory building in International Relations IR The book demonstrates how the complex and transformative nature of China's advancement is also a point of departure for theoretical innovation and reflection in IR more broadly In doing so the volume builds a strong case for a genuinely global and post Western IR It contends that non Western countries should not only be considered potential sources of knowledge production but also original and legitimate focuses of IR theorizing in their own right Aesthetics and World Politics R. Bleiker,2009-08-28 This book presents one of the first systematic assessments of aesthetic insights into world politics It examines the nature of aesthetic approaches and outlines how they differ from traditional analysis of politics The book explores the potential and limits of aesthetics through a series of case studies on language and poetics Out of Line R.B.J. Walker,2015-08-27 A collection of essays on the politics of boundaries this book addresses a broad range of cases some geographical some legal and some involving less tangible practices of inclusion and exclusion The book begins by exploring the boundary between modern Western forms of international relations and their constitutive outsides Beyond this the author engages with relations between subjectivity and security security and nature social movements and a world politics as well as the politics of spatiotemporal dislocation Two chapters address the work of Thomas Hobbes and Max Weber as exemplary accounts of the relationship between boundaries and the constitution of modern forms of politics Each chapter speaks not only to the politics of specific boundary practices but also to the limits within which modern politics has been shaped in relation to claims about spatiality temporality sovereignty and subjectivity In this way the book draws attention to a pervasive account of a scalar order of higher and lower that has shaped more familiar distinctions between internality and externality Offering an analysis of the relation between concepts of internationalism imperialism and exceptionalism as well as the implications of spatiotemporal dislocation for claims about democracy the book links contemporary claims about the transformation of boundaries to various ways in which political life is said to be in crisis and in need of novel forms of critique Brought up to date by a new and extensive introductory essay and an assessment of the status of political judgement after 9 11 this book is essential reading for students and scholars of politics international relations political theory and political sociology Essence of Diplomacy Christer Jönsson,Martin Hall,2005-08-02 Essence of Diplomacy explores the essential timeless features of diplomacy drawing on the historical record of over three millennia In their effort at making international relations IR theory relevant to diplomacy and diplomacy relevant to IR theory the authors identify three essential dimensions of diplomacy communication representation and the reproduction of international society Explaining the European Union's Foreign Policy Magnus Ekengren,2018-10-04 The European Union was created for the purpose of encouraging peace on the continent but today is increasingly active globally in areas such as diplomacy development humanitarian and consular aid and civilian and military crisis management Yet we know little about the forces that drive the Union to interact influence and intervene outside its borders This book offers a new theoretical perspective that explains how EU collective action is driven by practice such as diplomatic routines and crisis management procedures Using global case studies Ekengren shows how the EU s representatives perform these routines or transnational practices across particular locales around the globe from Kosovo to Haiti By connecting transnational and local forces in the explanation of EU foreign policy action he presents an outline of a practice theory of translocal action Scholars policymakers and journalists will find this theoretically ground breaking book essential in understanding the European Union s foreign policy The Politics of Dialogue Ranabir Samaddar,2017-07-05 Offering a detailed analysis of post colonial South Asia The Politics of Dialogue discusses the creation and impact of borders and the pervasive tension between the new nations Neither all out war nor complete peace this fragile condition makes political leaders and strategists feel claustrophobic a war produces an end result but peace allows the rulers to carry out their policies for governing along their preferred path of development The book shows how cartographic communal and political lines are not only dividing countries but that they are being replicated within countries creating new visible and invisible internal frontiers It argues that in a situation where geopolitics constrains democracy the political class becomes incapable of coping with the tension between the inside outside eg democracy appears as an internal problem and geopolitics appears as a problem related to the outside Less Than a Human Lavinia Allary,2015-10-21 Migrants in irregular situations are confronted with dangerous circumstances during their journeys toward Western countries and upon their arrival in those countries of destination While continuously disputed by social and political forces migrants and their children continue to live an isolated life in our communities facing discrimination abuse and labour exploitation Courts and tribunals in our societies try to make sense of this human mobility by sorting out basic human rights and economic privileges in a way which is too revolutionary for conservative parties and too slow and unfair for human rights activists This book focuses on the issue of human rights protection of migrants in irregular situations The concept of protection does not refer to a humanitarian definition of aid and intervention on behalf of the victims of migration Protection here means official recognition by the State and by the law of migrants in irregular situations It also means recognition of the human rights of migrants recognition of the migrant as a political actor and from there political inclusion and politicization of the migrant Discussions in international forums are dominated by Westphalian visions of the world and no change can be envisioned in the near future with this kind of discourse In a highly individualized and fragmented world an undocumented migrants destiny is instead decided on a case by case basis in our national courts and today the most effort is put into advocacy and legal representation How successful the rights claims are today what the political context of their development is and how social and political actors position themselves in regards to irregular migration are points discussed in this book
