Security Policies of developing countries Edward A. Kolodziej, 1982 Developing European Internal Security Policy Christian Kaunert, Sarah Léonard, 2014-06-03 The European Union EU is making strong inroads into areas of security traditionally reserved to states especially into internal security or Justice and Home Affairs The Area of Freedom Security and Justice AFSJ as it has been renamed in the Amsterdam Treaty has seen significant policy developments since the late 1990s In fact there has been no other example of a policy making area making its way so quickly and comprehensively to the centre of the treaties and to the top of the EU's policy making agenda After major treaty revisions in Maastricht Amsterdam Nice and finally the Lisbon Treaty which entered into force on 1 December 2009 as well as an increased political impetus through the European Council Summits in Tampere 1999 the Hague 2004 and Stockholm 2009 the area appears as one of the most promising policy fields for integration in the EU in the foreseeable future This process has deepened even more significantly after the terrorist attacks on 11 September 2001 in the United States on 11 March 2004 in Madrid and on 7 July 2005 in London This book is the first to analyse these hugely topical developments in European internal security at both the treaty and policy levels as well as its implementation at the national level from various disciplinary perspectives political science law criminology etc This book was published as a special edition of European Security The Foreign Policy Priorities Of Third World States John J.
