The Devil at Genesee Junction Michael Benson, 2015-11-05 Today you'd call Ballantyne suburban but back then at the start of the summer of 1966 it was country just a cluster of houses some of them shacks on or near Ballantyne Road in the Town of Chili NY And while June 25 started like any other day it would end in a nightmare In The Devil at Genesee Junction veteran crime writer Michael Benson returns to his formerly rural hometown to take on the double homicide of his friends Kathy Bernhard and George Ann Formiciola that took place that night. The two girls were missing for a month and then found in the bushes horribly mutilated. The double homicide changed the author's childhood suddenly and drastically. He went from living in a rural playland to being encased in fear, wondering who among them was the werewolf who cut up Kathy and George Ann. This heinous crime was never resolved and didn't go away. In recent years the author has teamed up with a victim's mom and a local private investigator to delve deep into the 66 murders developing along the way, some strong new leads and shocking details. Together they have heated up this icy cold case and their investigation has led them in a startling new direction.

Like Killing Rats Cpl. Osborn R. E., 2016-02-02 I Corps Republic of South Vietnam
bloody 1968. Live the harrowing highs and traumatic lows of one marine youth who finds his seven-month in-country war weary self carrying a field radio burden for a suspect glory-minded forward observer artillery officer who'd yet to learn the undeclared war was a government sham, a political ruse that would one tragic day force the FO team's command-structured relationship to a who's responsible head over a short round of friendly artillery which put their field commander permanently out of action. The resolve-testing war with the North Vietnamese Army, the near-immobilizing ever-sweltering jungle mountains and sandy flatlands, the thought-friendly villages, the two of our people executed, the four enemy prisoners executed in turn, as well as President Johnson's bombing halts and retaking enemy positions, are the nerve-pickling building blocks shackled themselves together like a confrontation-packed novel about combat-weary vets not taught to run from a political fight either. Experience the combative days, literally sweat the chancy nights, devour the popular songs when lucky enough to hear such haunting sounds as "Get Off My Cloud" by the Rolling Stones. For one can't simply throw their rifle down and quit. The corps will toss said shameless in the brig for untold years, though a panicked one can steal away into the masking jungle and surrender; yet hard-core enemy will put a bullet through a deserter's enlisted head like a pesky bunker rat unless one's a commissioned officer, then the VC might keep said alive as a peace bargaining chip. One may understand the historic reason why many the combat marine during such oh-so-questioning times likened themselves to the politically used if not correct title of Uncle Sam's misguided children: know what it's truly like to stalk and be stalked, kill or be killed, fear and be feared.

The sudden disappearance of one son causes great family agony. Jack has the wildcatter Buz and their oldest son Buddy manage his business. Liz's passion for learning is realized through university scholarships honoring her teacher and friend Martha Baker. Their children mature while successfully pursuing their varied Shaughnessy Bishop-Stall,2010-06-04 For some young men climbing Everest or sailing solo into polar seas isn't the biggest risk in the world. Instead, it is venturing alone into the deepest urban jungle where human nature is the dangerous, incomprehensible and sometimes wildly uplifting force that tests not only your ability to survive but also your own humanity. One cold November day, Shaughnessy Bishop Stall heads out on just such a quest. He packs up a new tent, some clothes, his notebooks and a pen and goes to live in Tent City, twenty-seven lawless acres where the largest hobo town on the continent squats in the scandalized shadow of Canada's largest city. The rules he sets for himself are simple: no access to money, family or friends except what he can find from that day on. He'll do whatever people in Tent City do to get by: be whatever bum, wino, beggar, hustler, criminal, junkie or con man he chooses to be on any given day. When he arrives, he finds a dump full of the castaways of the last millennium: human and otherwise. On the edge of the world yet somehow smack in the middle of it all, fugitives, drug addicts, prostitutes, dealers and ex-cons have created an anarchic society where the rules are made up nightly and your life depends on knowing them. Not only does Bishop Stall manage to survive until the bulldozers come, but against all odds, his own heart and spirit slowly mend. An astonishing account of birth, suicide, brawls, binges, tears, crazed laughter, good and bad intentions, fiendish charity and the sudden eloquence and generosity of broken souls. Down to This is Bishop Stall's iridescent love song to a lost city like no other.
