Hayter-Menzies, 2013-10-01 Kansas born Pauline Benton 1898 1974 was encouraged by her father one of America's earliest feminist male educators to reach for the stars Instead she reached for shadows In 1920s Beijing she discovered shadow theatre piyingxi a performance art where translucent painted puppets are manipulated by highly trained masters to cast coloured shadows against an illuminated screen Finding that this thousand year old forerunner of motion pictures was declining in China Benton believed she could save the tradition by taking it to America Mastering the male dominated art form in China Benton enchanted audiences eager for the exotic in Depression era America Her touring company Red Gate Shadow Theatre was lauded by theatre and art critics and even performed at Franklin Roosevelt's White House Grant Hayter Menzies traces Benton's performance history and her efforts to preserve shadow theatre as a global cultural treasure by drawing on her unpublished writings the recollections of her colleagues the testimonies of shadow masters who survived China's Cultural Revolution as well as young innovators who have carried on Benton's pioneering work

Shadows E. H. Gombrich, 2014-12-16 In this intriguing book E. H. Gombrich who was one of the world's foremost art historians traces how cast shadows have been depicted in Western art through the centuries Gombrich discusses the way shadows were represented or ignored by artists from the Renaissance to the 17th century and then describes how Romantic Impressionist and Surrealist artists exploited the device of the cast shadow to enhance the illusion of realism or drama in their representations First published to accompany an exhibition at the National Gallery London in 1995 it is reissued here with additional color illustrations and a new introduction by esteemed scholar Nicholas Penny It is also now available as an

Robertson, 2005 Annotation In the summer of 1955 six African American golfers in Beaumont Texas began attacking the Jim Crow caste system when they filed a federal lawsuit for the right to play the municipal golf course The golfers and their African American lawyers went to federal court and asked a conservative white Republican judge to render a decision that would not only integrate the local golf course but also set precedent for desegregation of other public facilities In Fair Ways Robert J Robertson chronicles three parallel stories that converged in this important case He tells the story of the plaintiffs avid golfers who had learned the game while working as caddies and waiters of their young lawyers recent graduates from Howard University law school and of the Republican judge just appointed to the bench by President Eisenhower Using public case papers public records newspapers and oral histories Robertson has recreated the scene in Beaumont on the eve of desegregation Fair Ways gives a vivid picture of racial segregation and the forces that brought about its end Chinese Shadow Theatre Fan-Pen Li Chen, 2007 In her study of Chinese shadow theatre Fan Pen Li Chen documents and corrects misconceptions about this once popular art form She argues how a traditional folk theatre reflected and subverted Chinese popular culture Historical Memory in Greece, 1821-1930 Christina Koulouri, 2022-08-19 This book presents a social and cultural history of collective memory in modern Greece during the first century of state independence contributing to the debate over the relationship between memory and identity It discusses how modern Greek society commemorated its distant and recent pasts both real and imagined namely antiquity Byzantium the Greek Revolution and the Asia Minor Catastrophe how cultural memory was shaped by the various war experiences victory defeat mass death and mourning refugeedom and how memory politics became arenas of social and political strife Historical painting monuments historical pageantry tableaux vivants national anniversaries performances of ancient drama and revivals of ancient games are analyzed as instances where the past was visualized represented performed and consumed An explosion in public history has taken place over the last decades around the world with a veritable flood of commemorations anniversaries and memory wars As more and more social groups claim the right to remember public discourse and polemics have arisen at the same time that traumatic memory has become a field of international academic research In the arena of public history historical memory is being constructed through the sentimental irrational reception of mythological narratives told through images The Shadow Teller's Plays Bill Reed, 2017-12-13 In a volume containing 14 original plays including three shadow play adaptations of Gogol Morton and Runyon classics the author resurrects a sadly neglected theatre genre the shadow play combining traditional shadow techniques with normal acting to create full bodied mainstream plays These plays do not use shadow puppetry type techniques that need people contorting themselves however wonderfully to form shapes but rather normal acting prowess together and usual props of mainstream theatre with the new back lighting technologies The result is plays which are realistic and yet overlain with the imaginative fantasies that figure theatre can bring in a fallow area lying between mime and conventional stage plays a rediscovered form of a modern staging that crosses between live and shadow effect whether in workshopping for all ages and group size or for professional productions Shadow plays comprise the theatre landscape for live actors re skilled to jump from behind the screen one dimensional acting to front of the screen three dimensional acting at any moment of the play They allow a new and exciting way of presenting the combination of the real and the surreal in ways that offer broadened audience and student experiences under the master of storytelling of a shadow teller together with the master of pacing of a mobile light spotter
