Shadow of the Past Judith Cutler, 2012-01-12 Tobias Champion rector of Moreton St Jude is delighted to welcome the widowed Lady Chase as his parishioner Charming and generous spirited she nonetheless harbours a secret sorrow her son is missing presumed dead and her loathsome nephew Sir Marcus is desperate to declare himself heir to the estate Much as Tobias dislikes Marcus his feelings for another member of the family are rather different the lovely Lady Dorothea enchants him from the very start not least because of her kindly ways with the enigmatic governess Anne Then Anne disappears on the very day that the body of a stranger is found in a local river Surely she has not had a hand in his death When it transpires that the man might have been bringing news of Lady Chase s missing son Tobias is forced to quit the village to uncover the truth Unfortunately many of those he encounters in his travels are equally determined to keep the past well hidden

The World in the Shadow of God Ephraim Radner, 2010-06-01 In The World in the Shadow of God Ephraim Radner argues for a vigorous Christian natural theology and insists that such a theology must of necessity be performed poetically The peculiar character of such a theology is found in its disclosing of the natural limits that indicate indirectly the impinging and more fundamental reality of the divine life Natural theology represents the encounter between created reality and the shadow of God s creative and revelatory grace However the encounter is a morally demanding task for the Christian church if it is to be held accountable to the truth on which its life is based The first portion of the book offers an extended critical essay on the nature of this sort of natural theology while the second provides a developed set of examples through poems that display the natural world in light of the truths articulated in the Apostles Creed Those interested in the intersection of theology literature history and the natural world will be challenged by this attempt to renew a basic element of Christian knowledge and culture
