Shadows Of Passion:

Shadows of Passion Patricia Gallagher, 1971 Passion's Shadow Nicole Conn, 1995-01-01 Lindsay Brennan is a Portland architect whose devotion to her work takes the place of other things in her life Sondra Pinchot an interior designer has always depended on the comfort of alcohol And Samantha Sondra's dutiful daughter is trapped in an affair that's become nothing but a habit Now fate brings the three women together and their private addictions give way to deeper passions But sometimes love can be an addiction too Originally published by Simon Schuster 1995 The Passions in Roman Thought and Literature Susanna Morton Braund, Christopher Gill, 1997-08-07 Essays by an international team of scholars in Latin literature and ancient philosophy explore the understanding of emotions or passions in Roman thought and literature Building on work on Hellenistic theories of emotion and on philosophy as therapy they look closely at the interface between ancient philosophy especially Stoic and Epicurean rhetorical theory conventional Roman thinking and literary portrayal There are searching studies of the emotional thought world of a range of writers including Catullus Cicero Virgil Seneca Statius Tacitus and Juvenal Issues of debate such as the ethical colour of Aeneas's angry killing of Turnus at the end of the Aeneid are placed in a broad and illuminating perspective Written in clear and non technical language with Greek and Latin translated the volume opens up a fascinating area on the borders of philosophy and literature Paul and Ancient Views of Sexual Desire J Edward Ellis, 2007-06-08 Paul and Ancient Views of Sexual Desire refutes the argument put forward by some scholars that Paul in his sexual ethics is in partial agreement with a current of thought in the Greco Roman world that condemns sexual desire and advocates the elimination of such desire from marital sex Ellis argues against not only this line of thought but also the attendant notion that this way of thinking underlies Paul's comments on homosexual activity in Romans 1 Through close analysis of numerous ancient passages relating to sexual desire Ellis demonstrates that ancient thinkers tend to condemn not sexual desire in itself but excessive sexual desire and lack of self control Furthermore he contends that ancient auditors would have been unlikely to see condemnation of sexual desire in Paul's words in 1 Thessalonians 4 or 1 Corinthians 7 Shadows Cast and Lonesome Prayers Marijo Readey, 2011-01-03 Shakespeare tells us that love is not love if it changes with time and experience If true then none of us have ever loved We experience grief as we learn that this ideal that cannot exist Shadows Cast and Lonesome Prayers contains poems about love relationships and how despite our best efforts we constantly manage to get these basic concepts wrong The text covers mistakes made when seeking love And at what is often the most tragic of all the mythologized love of family The Body as Shadow Eleanor Limmer, 2014-04 The Body is very often the personification of this shadow of the ego Sometimes it forms the skeleton in the cupboard wrote Carl Jung and everybody naturally wants to get rid of such a thing Through the symbolism of illness and physical symptoms our bodies reflect the darkness and the light the shadow holds for us until we are ready to accept it It is the shadow face of our souls that holds the light and the darkness until we are strong enough to face and heal what we have previously denied or rejected about ourselves Our bodies and their ailments are not our enemies and neither are our shadows The shadow reveal the negative ego patterns we had previously rejected or denied through the messages of our illnesses so we can recognize forgive and heal them The shadow is the ally of our true self and the enemy of our negative egos
