Urban China Reframed Wing-Shing Tang,Kam Wing Chan,2021-06-22 Given China's rapid economic growth and massive urbanization no one in the world can ignore what is happening in urban China This book is a critical review of existing urban China research which is found wanting due to the decontextualized use of theories and concepts developed in the West Urban China Reframed A Critical Appreciation consists of epistemological theoretical and methodological contributions to remedy these limitations by focusing on a number of relevant topics First models are widely employed in any study and China nowadays has invoked models like city system zones and global city in socio economic development How to interpret them in terms of knowledge production in a strong party state Second given the global prevalence of neoliberalism it is an important debate whether neoliberalism is applicable to China Third what is urban ideology in China How to contextualize it Are debates about the differentiation between the city and urbanization relevant to China Fourth massive rural urban migration in China has taken place within its mega rural urban dual system an institution that has persisted since the 1950s How does it manifest nowadays Fifth has the town country divide in China like in the West disappeared If not how can one interpret China's town country relations within the politics and administration of the Chinese state Sixth how to decipher the territorial development in the Pearl River Delta the world's factory under the auspices of the state The collection of essays in this volume contributes to the theoretical understanding of urban China The chapters in this book were originally published in the Eurasian Geography and Economics

The Indigenous Dynamic in Taiwan's Postwar Development: Religious and Historical Roots of Entrepreneurship Ian Skoggard,2016-09-16 Using Taiwan's third largest export industry shoe manufacturing as a case study this work contends that economic development can be tied to Taiwan's own cultural history as well as to the influx of foreign capital or the initiatives of the state government Steps of Perfection Donald S. Sutton,2020-03-23 Despite Taiwan's rise as an economic force in the world modernity has not led to a Weberian process of disenchantment or curbed religiosity To the contrary other factors social economic political have stimulated religion How and why this has happened are central issues in this book One part of Taiwan's flourishing religious culture is the elaborate and colorful procession of local gods accompanied by troupes of musicians and dancers Among them are performers with outlandishly painted faces portraying underworld generals who serve the gods and punish the living Through their performances these troupes claim to exorcise harmful forces from the community In conducting fieldwork among these troupes Donald Sutton confronted their claims to a long history when all evidence indicated that the troupes had been insignificant until the 1970s and their assertions of devotion to tradition given the diversity of performances Concentrating on the stylistic variations in performances the author describes the troupes as organizations shaped by the market forces of supply and demand in the culture of religious festivals By focusing on performances as the nexus of market and art he shows how bodily performance is the site where religious statements are made and the power of the gods made visible

Anthropology in the City Italo Pardo, Giuliana B. Prato, 2016-05-23 With half of humanity already living in towns and cities and that proportion expected to increase in the coming decades society both Western and non Western is fast becoming urban and even mega urban As such research in urban settings is evidently timely and of great importance Anthropology in the City brings together a leading team of anthropologists to address the complex methodological and theoretical challenges posed by field research in urban settings clearly identifying the significance of the anthropological paradigm in urban research and its centrality both to mainstream academic debates and to society more broadly With essays from experts on wide ranging ethnographic research from fields as diverse as China Europe India Latin and North America and South East Asia this book demonstrates the contribution that empirically based anthropological analysis can make to our understanding of our increasingly urban world

Trading Networks in Early Modern East Asia Angela Schottenhammer, 2010 The present volume composed of six contributions by different scholars seeks to show the intensity of exchange relations and trading networks in the early modern to late imperial East Asian Mediterranean arguing that these exchange relations and trading networks already had their roots and origins in the tenth to thirteenth centuries at the latest In this context the first two contributions discuss local society and socio economic changes within local Chinese society during the Song to Ming periods while the other four contributions concentrate on aspects of commercial exchange and administration during the Qing period Two contributions in particular analyze the indirect and direct importance respectively of religion for social life and commercial activities as a basic precondition for success in non religious affairs One chapter investigates Sino Ryukyuan trade relations during the Kangxi reign 1662 1722 another one Sino Taiwanese trade relations in late imperial China while one chapter is in particular dedicated to an analysis of the characteristics and developments within the maritime trade administration of the Manchu Qing 1644 1911 government with emphasis on hitherto rather neglected aspects for example institutional administrative details including questions such as if Manchus or Han Chinese were responsible for the administration of trade A Companion to Chinese History Michael Szonyi, 2016-12-12 A Companion to Chinese History presents a collection of essays offering a comprehensive overview of the latest intellectual developments in the study of China's history from the ancient past up until the present day Covers the major trends in the study of Chinese history from antiquity to the present day Considers the latest scholarship of historians working in China and around the world Explores a variety of long range questions and themes which serves to bridge the conventional divide between China's traditional and modern eras Addresses China's connections with other nations and regions and enables non specialists to make comparisons with their own fields Features discussion of traditional topics and chronological approaches as well as newer themes such as Chinese history in relation to sexuality national identity and the environment Commerce and Capitalism in Chinese Societies Gary G.

Hamilton, 2006-05-24 Consisting of sixteen articles which together provide historical comparative and theoretically informed perspectives on the spread of Chinese capitalism this collection emphasizes the difference between Western and Chinese forms of capitalism Entrepreneurs in Contemporary China Xiaoying Qi, 2023-09-07 Explores China's new entrepreneurs uncovering secrets of their business and the relationships underlying China's economic transformation The Invention of

Chu, 2010-01-13 In Chinese Capitalisms experts examine the rise of capitalism on China and Taiwan analyzing impacts exerted by global capitalism Chinese civilization and remnants of socialist practice In focusing on these they also address longstanding issues such as Weber's China Thesis state business relationships and China's civil society among others Working Class Formation in Taiwan Ming-sho Ho, 2014-06-05 This book offers a fresh look at Taiwan's state workers in from the postwar period to the present day and examines the rise and fall of labor insurgency in the past two decades Challenging the conventional image of docile working class it unearths a series of workers resistance hidden and public in a high authoritarian era Commodifying Communism David L. Wank, 1999 Commodifying Communism is an ethnographically grounded account of the institutional organization and political consequences of China's historically unprecedented market growth Drawing upon almost two years of ethnographic fieldwork this book challenges conventional views of post communist emerging markets being tied to the retreat of the state David Wank shows how entrepreneurs running private trading companies in Xiamen City Fujian Province one of China's five special economic zones maximize profit and security through patron client networks with local state agents The book examines how processes of opportunity exchange expectations and advantage are constrained by both statist and popular institutions in market clientelism It also considers the implications of market clientelism for the dynamism of China's emerging market economy relative to Eastern European post communist economies and its political consequences for state society and center local relations Why Taiwan Matters Shelley Rigger, 2013-10-09 Written by a leading expert on Taiwan Why Taiwan Matters offers a comprehensive and engaging introduction to a country that exercises a role in the world far greater than its tiny size would indicate Shelley Rigger explains how Taiwan became such a key global player highlighting economic and political breakthroughs so impressive they have been called miracles She links these accomplishments to Taiwan's determined society vibrant culture and unique history Drawing on arts economics politics and international relations Rigger explores Taiwan's importance to China the United States and the world Considering where Taiwan may be headed in its wary standoff with China she traces how the focus of Taiwan's domestic politics has shifted to a Taiwan centered strategy All readers interested in Asia and international affairs as well as travelers to the region will find this an accessible and entertaining overview replete with human interest stories and colorful examples of daily life in Taiwan

Transitions to Modernity in Taiwan Niki Alsford, 2017-07-20 On 19 April 1895 British Consul Lionel Charles Hopkins at the northern port of Tamsui was summoned by Tang Jingsong the governor of Taiwan to his yamen in the western district of Taipei Shortly after his arrival Hopkins was handed a petition Signed by a number of Taiwanese notables the document appealed to the British government to incorporate the island into a protectorate in the wake of an impending Japanese invasion The British declined This book addresses the interconnectivity of these two communities by focusing on the market town of Dadaocheng in northern Taiwan It seeks to contextualise and examine the establishment of a settler society as well as the creation of a sojourning British community showing how they became a precursor of modernity and middle classism there By uncovering who the signatories of the petition were and what their motivation was to call upon the British consulate to bring the island under its protection it brings into focus a remarkable period of transition not only for the history of Taiwan but also for the modern history of China Using 1895 as a year of enquiry it ultimately challenges the current orthodoxy that modernity in Taiwan was simply a by product of the Japanese colonial period As a social and transnational history of the events that took place in Taiwan during 1895 this book will be useful for students of East Asian Studies Modern Chinese Studies and Asian History Looking Through Taiwan Keelung Hong, Stephen O. Murray, 2005-01-01 This analysis of a troubling chapter in American anthropology reveals what happens when anthropologists fail to make fundamental ethic and political distinctions in their work The authors examine how Taiwanese realities have been represented and misrepresented in American social science literature
