, Lesbian Film Guide Alison Darren, 2000-02-17 This A Z guide to lesbians and lesbianism in the movies contains reviews gossip facts and commentary on over 200 films including specifically lesbian films such as Go Fish and Desert Hearts as well as films with a lesbian character or theme like The Children s Hour and The Hunger Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège, 2009-12-11 Cinema has been long associated with France dating back to 1895 when Louis and Auguste Lumi_re screened their works the first public viewing of films anywhere Early silent pioneers Georges MZli_s Alice Guy BlachZ and others followed in the footsteps of the Lumi_re brothers and the tradition of important filmmaking continued throughout the 20th century and beyond In Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe R ge identifies every French director who has made at least one feature film since 1895 From undisputed masters to obscure one timers nearly 3 000 directors are cited here including at least 200 filmmakers not mentioned in similar books published in France Each director s entry contains a brief biographical summary including dates and places of birth and death information on the individual s education and professional training and other pertinent details such as real names when the filmmaker uses a pseudonym The entries also provide complete filmographies including credits for feature films shorts documentaries and television work Some of the most important names in the history of film can be found in this encyclopedia from masters of the Golden Age_Jean Renoir and RenZ Clair_to French New Wave artists such as Fran_ois Truffaut and Jean Luc Godard L'écriture du bonheur dans le roman contemporain Ruth Amar, 2011-01-18 Through the ages the pursuit of Happiness has been at the heart of the needs and desires each individual would seek to fulfill while as a concept Happiness has always resonated strongly in poetic as well as philosophical sociological and psychological contexts But what about Happiness today in a world dominated by technology driven by productivity and dictated by efficiency Does Happiness still feature in contemporary fiction in any significant way Or has it perhaps gone underground adopting different guises Would we still call that duty of happiness that Pascal Bruckner saw as present at the second half of the twentieth century a relevant force today Or has it waned perceptibly The articles brought together in this volume seek to work out answers to these and similar questions creatively addressing the imminent risks but also eagerly following up the intriguing possibilities one encounters when interrogating Happiness in the contemporary novel Originally based on an international conference organized at the University of Haifa Israel in May 2010 the volume is structured around the axes we found useful as a basis for the various approaches towards Happiness in Europe and the historical and social events that influenced the writing of Happiness as they defined the 20th century and have impacted on the 21st the Holocaust the Soviet dystopia consumerism postmodernism everyday life the various as yet unarticulated new modes of life they have given rise to and so on A new writing of happiness then At the very least this volume targets the contemporary novel without wanting to solidify works instead taking into account the fluctuations Happiness has been subjected to and the diversity and especially the paradoxes it has created while we have been keen to preserve a precise reading of the texts and have felt compelled to respect and preserve the particular features that make the writings of the authors we focus on stand out. The philosophical as well as political, sociological and psychological happiness defies measurement for each of us. Is it not true that we all humans desire to be happy? Plato. Or in our current world dominated by technology, the search for productivity and efficiency is the happiness. Is it still present in the ancient Roman and contemporary forms? Under what forms would his research be? This duty of happiness proper to the second half of the 20th century, which Pascal Bruckner continues to see always in the present, is it reinforced or on the contrary is it weakened? The project of a questionnaire on happiness in the Roman contemporary context carried great risks but it offered in the meantime stimulating possibilities. As a result of the international colloquium organized by the University of Haifa in May 2010, the texts gathered in this book seek to labor on the answers to these questions. The volume offers a state of the art of happiness in the Roman world since 1980 and presents a large diversity of approaches, definitions, interrogations on the critique of happiness over three centuries. The collection is articulated around four axes that served as the basis for the different approaches to happiness in Europe and various historical and social events that have influenced the critique of happiness in the different periods of the 20th and 21st centuries, such as the Holocaust, dystopia in Russia, postmodernism and consumerism, the everyday, the different paradoxes of happiness, the new modes of life. New critique of happiness. At the very least, this volume aims to be contemporary without freezing the works, while taking into account the fluctuations of the subject, its diversity, its paradoxes, especially while conserving the reading of precise texts and respecting the particularity of the authors' traits.

Adapting Sex on Screen Julian Preece, 2025-10-30 Sex has always been cinema's most contested territory. Adapting Sex on Screen traces that battle through three once scandalous source texts: Leopold von Sacher-Masoch's Venus in Furs (1870), Arthur Schnitzler's La Ronde (1900) and Frank Wedekind's Lulu (plays 1895-1904), following the history of their reception from fin de siècle Central Europe to the USA in the twenty-first century with a focus on their screen adaptations. Julian Preece shows how directors such as Max Ophüls, G. W. Pabst and Roman Polanski tested understanding of transgression, whether in the Weimar Republic under the Hays Production Code or in the shadow of AIDS and the wake of second-wave feminism. His broad international corpus ranges from heritage cinema to arthouse and exploitation to Hollywood, allowing him to explore the contradictions between commodification and critique and chart evolving attitudes towards alternative sexualities and minorities. Preece blends adaptation and translation studies with transatlantic cultural history to show how filmmakers have both reflected and shaped social change from the first Lulu film made in Germany in 1917 to the most recent La Ronde made in New York precisely one hundred years later.

André Téchiné Bill Marshall, 2013-07-19 This is the first full-length monograph in English about one of France's most important contemporary filmmakers, perhaps best known in the English-speaking world for his award-winning Les Roseaux sauvages (Wild Reeds) of 1994. This study locates André Téchiné within historical and cultural contexts that include the Algerian war, May 1968 and contemporary globalisation and the influence of Roland Barthes Bertolt Brecht Ingmar Bergman William Faulkner and the cinematic French wave The originality of T chin s sixteen feature films lies in his subtle exploration of sexuality and national identity as he challenges expectations in his depictions of gay relations the North African dimensions of contemporary French culture and the centre periphery relationship between Paris and his native southwest The book will be of interest to researchers and postgraduates working on French cinema undergraduates studying T chin on their film courses and all those with a general interest in cinema contemporary France and lesbian and gay issues Roman Polanski.
