Lymphokines A Forum For Immunoregulatory Cell Products V 14:

Lymphokines Edgar Pick, 2013-09-17 Lymphokines A Forum for Immunoregulatory Cell Products Volume 14 reviews the state of knowledge on lymphokines. The book opens with an integrative view of the role of lymphokines in the generation of fever. It stresses that pirogenicity is the attribute of more than one lymphokine: interleukin 1, IL 1, interferon α and tumor necrosis factor (TNF) all possess this quality. This is followed by separate chapters on the chemistry of IL 1 molecules and cloning of the gene for human monocyte IL 1, the production of lymphokine by cells of the central nervous system, the acute phase plasma protein response studied at the level of gene structure and expression and the involvement of calcium and calcium linked enzymes in T cell proliferation. Subsequent chapters deal with the involvement of pteridines in T cell activation, the discovery of cachectin and the establishment of its identity with TNF, the effect of IFN and several cytotoxic cytokines on the proliferation, differentiation and function of normal and leukemic myeloid cells and the cytotoxic lymphokines produced by effector T cells. The final chapter discusses the ways in which chemically defined changes in cell membranes affect cell division. Lymphokines, 1987.

Diagnostic Ultrastructural Pathology, Three Volume Set Ann M. Dvorak, Rita A. Monahan-Earley, 1995-07-01. Diagnostic Ultrastructural Pathology Ann M. Dvorak, Rita A. Monahan-Earley, 1995-05-15. Diagnostic Ultrastructural Pathology Volumes II and III presents individual problem based cases in a well illustrated format using numerous electron micrographs to convey appropriate and necessary visual information for the diagnosis of human disease. The format facilitates the teaching of the case approach for diagnostic ultrastructural pathology using clinical ultrastructural pathologic correlation. These guides illustrate key reasoning processes that physicians use to resolve individual clinical problems through the use of electron microscopy. The material is useful to a wide variety of physicians and students of medicine, structure and disease at various levels of training as well as in the training of and operational use by technical support staff. The two volumes include a total of 50 cases and a procedural guide for the ultrastructural pathology laboratory. The cases were selected using four principal criteria: 1. classic cases which are diagnosed readily by light microscopy to facilitate the electron microscopic diagnosis of less classic cases; 2. diagnostic cases for which ultrastructural analysis is essential for diagnosis; 3. supportive cases where either the light or the electron microscopic diagnosis is supportive and thus confirmatory of the other; and 4. new facts cases which establish new knowledge regarding the pathogenesis of disease using electron microscopy as the investigative modality. The 50 cases are grouped anatomically in four major categories. Volume II contains the sections on the respiratory and nervous systems and Volume III presents the cases dealing with the endocrine and hematopoietic systems. Each section is preceded by introductory remarks. Each case cites relevant classic anatomic pathology papers and related research papers. These volumes also include multiple functional indices providing ready access to the material from several starting points. There are separate indices for presenting symptoms, differential diagnostic groups, ultrastructural pathology criteria and final diagnostic categories. As a valuable resource and guide Diagnostic Ultrastructural Pathology Volumes II and III is an excellent high quality addition to the field of diagnostic pathology

Immunopharmacology Reviews J.W. Hadden,A. Szentivanyi,2013-11-11 Immunopharmacology as a field of scientific endeavor had its origins more than thirty years ago in the application of antibody based techniques to assays of hormones and drugs in tissues and body fluids More recently the field has been redefined to include a primary focus on the immune system as a target of xenobiotic action Advances in the field of immunology have made it apparent that the immune system like other organ systems declines in its function as a result of aging viral infections like AIDS and other immunotoxic influences giving rise to secondary immunodeficiency Deficiency of the immune system in turn leads to infections autoimmune diseases and an increased incidence of certain cancers The notion of treating the failing immune system is relatively new however more than a decade of research on cancer and AIDS has created the burgeoning new clinical field of immunotherapy Immunopharmacology then stands as the preclinical and clinical science of immune manipulation As such like its parent field of pharmacology it includes within its scope basic studies of immune mechanisms as they relate to the pathogenesis of inflammation and immunologic disturbances As with pharmacology the perspective is always a therapeutic one Studies of immune and inflammatory processes emphasize the use of pharmacologic probes and drugs to elucidate the underlying biochemical pharmacology
