Indigenous Health Care and Ethno-medicine A. N.

Sharma, Rajesh K. Gautam, Ajay K. Gharami, 2006. This book is a collection of 25 research papers/articles focused on different aspects of indigenous health care practices among different population groups of different parts of India, Romania, and Pacific regions like Australia, Polynesia, and Melanesia. The ethno-medicine used among various populations for cure of different ailments are recorded and documented in many of the papers/articles included in the book. Besides that, knowledge, attitude, and practice related to different kinds of health care is also highlighted in various primitive groups. The supernatural causes and practices are the part of health care. The impact of modernization, industrialization, and globalization has both positive and negative impact on indigenous knowledge, and many such practices are going to be extinct. The book is a humble attempt in the direction of preservation or conservation of indigenous knowledge and practices. The book is multidisciplinary in nature; it would be supportive for researchers working in the same direction. Simultaneously, it would be helpful for academicians, policy planners, health administrators, and pharmaceutical researchers, medical practitioners, students of medicine, pharmacy, anthropology, sociology,
