Design, Nature and the Built Environment Albena Yaneva,Alejandro Zaera-Polo,2017-05-15 The scale of ecological crises made us realize that every kind of politics has always been cosmopolitics politics of a cosmos Cosmos embraces everything including the multifarious natural and material entities that make humans act The book examines cosmopolitics in its relation to design practice Abandoning the modernist idea of nature as being external to the human experience a nature that can be mastered by engineers and scientists from outside the cosmopolitical thinking offers designers to embark in an active process of manipulating and reworking nature from within To engage in cosmopolitics this book argues means to redesign create instigate and compose every single feature of our common experience In the light of this new understanding of nature we set the questions What is the role of design if nature is no longer salient enough to provide a background for human activities How can we foster designers own force and make present what causes designers to think feel and act How do designers make explicit the connection of humans to a variety of entities with different ontology rivers species particles materials and forces How do they redefine political order by bringing together stars prions and people In effect how should we understand design practice in its relation to the material and the living world In this volume anthropologists science studies scholars political scientists and sociologists rethink together the meaning of cosmopolitics for design At the same time designers architects and artists engage with the cosmopolitical question in trying to imagine the future of architectural and urban design The book contains original empirical chapters and a number of revealing interviews with artists and designers whose practices set examples of cosmopolitically correct design

Folk Epics of Rajasthan: An Ecological Study of Pabuji and Devnarayan Dr. Meenakshi,2024-06-30 The book attempts to trace ecological insights embedded in two major folk epics of Rajasthan Epic of Pabuji and Epic of Devnarayan The first chapter explores man s relation with nature in past and attempts to locate the genesis of our attitudes towards nature in ancient myths as well as its portrayal in literature It tries to define ecology and summarises the ideas about ecological literary criticism given by various critics It highlights the tradition and types of oral epics in Rajasthan The second chapter named Cultural Ecology focuses on the mutuality and interdependence of nature and culture It reflects upon what effects human culture has on nature and vice versa in context of the epics of Pabuji and Devnarayan The chapter focuses on literary ecology which explores the ecological dimensions of literary texts and also puts forth the artistic capability of the text as an agency of ecological awareness The third chapter named History Aesthetics and Phad explores how painters make phad and to what purpose these phads are made what purposes of bhopas and commercial consumers it fulfils and in what ways bhopas inspire the process It also discusses the history of visual narratives and locates the place of phad in it It delves deep into the history of phad tradition of painting as well as its aesthetics The discussion of aesthetics of phad foregrounds how phad helps bhopa in devising as well as improvising the narrative The fourth chapter named Performance and Ecology focuses on how performances of folk epics of Pabuji and Devnarayan further an ecological vision in which natural surroundings play a contributory role in formation of meanings An interconnection between the ecology of the region and the performance of phad has been evaluated which contributes in comprehending the full ecological implications of phad An analysis of both the epics from an ecological literary perspective substantiates the excellence and contribution of the epics in enriching the literary genre with different aspects of ecological connections between man and other natural elements on earth The book establishes that the literary ecology of phad is as diverse as an ecosystem The ecology of phad thrives on cultural diversity including people from all fields such as phad painters phad performers and the audience followers of the deities This correlation is based not only on their economic relations or transactions but they also depend upon each other for their exclusive identity Children, Nature, and the Urban Environment ,1977

McMahon,Tadashi Fukami,2006-07-19 The conservation threat represented by invasive species is well known but the scientific opportunities are underappreciated Invasion studies have historically been largely directed at the important job of collecting case studies Invasion biology has matured to the point of being able to incorporating itself into the heart of ecology and should be viewed as extensions or critical experiments of ecological theory In this edited volume global experts in ecology and evolutionary biology explore how theories in ecology elucidate the invasion processes while also examining how specific invasions informs ecological theory This reciprocal benefit is highlighted in a number of scales of organization population community and biogeographic while employing example invaders in all major groups of organisms and from a number of regions around the globe The chapters in this volume utilize many of the cutting edge observational experimental analytical and computational methods used in modern ecology Through merging conceptual ecology and invasion biology we can obtain a better understanding of the invasion process while also developing a better understanding of how ecological systems function
