

An abstract painting featuring a dense crowd of stylized human figures. The figures are rendered in various shades of grey, white, and blue, with some wearing hats or carrying bags. They are set against a background of vibrant green foliage and a bright blue sky. The overall style is expressive and modern, with bold colors and visible brushstrokes.

Genetic Nature/Culture Prof. Alan H. Goodman, Prof. Deborah Heath, M. Susan Lindee, 2003-11-06 The so called science wars pit science against culture and nowhere is the struggle more contentious or more fraught with paradox than in the burgeoning realm of genetics A constructive response and a welcome intervention this volume brings together biological and cultural anthropologists to conduct an interdisciplinary dialogue that provokes and instructs even as it bridges the science culture divide Individual essays address issues raised by the science politics and history of race evolution and identity genetically modified organisms and genetic diseases gene work and ethics and the boundary between humans and animals The result is an entree to the complicated nexus of questions prompted by the power and importance of genetics and genetic thinking and the dynamic connections linking culture biology nature and technoscience The volume offers critical perspectives on science and culture with contributions that span disciplinary divisions and arguments grounded in both biological perspectives and cultural analysis An invaluable resource and a provocative introduction to new research and thinking on the uses and study of genetics Genetic Nature Culture is a model of fruitful dialogue presenting the quandaries faced by scholars on both sides of the two cultures debate Methodological Challenges in Nature-Culture and Environmental History Research Jocelyn Thorpe, Stephanie Rutherford, L. Anders Sandberg, 2016-11-10 This book examines the challenges and possibilities of conducting cultural environmental history research today Disciplinary commitments certainly influence the questions scholars ask and the ways they seek out answers but some methodological challenges go beyond the boundaries of any one discipline The book examines how to account for the fact that humans are not the only actors in history yet dominate archival records how to attend to the non visual senses when traditional sources offer only a two dimensional non sensory version of the past how to decolonize research in and beyond the archives and how effectively to use sources and means of communication made available in the digital age This book will be a valuable resource for those interested in environmental history and politics sustainable development and historical geography

Environmental Archaeology: Meaning and Purpose Umberto Albarella, 2013-04-17 Despite the fact that the human life of the past cannot be understood without taking into account its ecological relationships environmental studies are often marginalised in archaeology This is the first book that by discussing the meaning and purpose we give to the expression environmental archaeology investigates the reasons for such a problem This is achieved through the use of theoretical considerations and the aid of a number of case studies which by taking us from Anglo Saxon England to pre Columbian Venezuela and from Classical Greece to late Antique Egypt emphasise the potential of an integrated approach The book is written by archaeologists with different backgrounds and is addressed to all researchers who care about the past relationship between people and the rest of Nature Despite the complexity of some of the issues tackled the book is written in an accessible manner and should be of interest to all students who want to understand the essence of archaeology beyond the boundary of underwrite our understanding of globalisation      Subordination of Woman Mrs. M. A. Kelkar, 1995 Many debates in feminism centre round the issue of subordination of woman Anthropologists and sociologists have tried to trace the origin of subordinate position of woman by giving various explanatory theories The author examines the reductionist and constructionist theories and using a hermeneutic device of the Beejakshetra model explores the images of femininity to be found in the Mahabharata and in the rules of conduct in the Manusmriti She shows how these models of femininity have shaped the life experiences and self interpretation of woman down to present day The last part attempts formulation of a feminist ethic of friendship and raises the discussion beyond protest and recrimination      The State of Speech Joy Connolly, 2009-01-10 Rhetorical theory the core of Roman education taught rules of public speaking that are still influential today But Roman rhetoric has long been regarded as having little important to say about political ideas The State of Speech presents a forceful challenge to this view The first book to read Roman rhetorical writing as a mode of political thought it focuses on Rome's greatest practitioner and theorist of public speech Cicero Through new readings of his dialogues and treatises Joy Connolly shows how Cicero's treatment of the Greek rhetorical tradition's central questions is shaped by his ideal of the republic and the citizen Rhetoric Connolly argues sheds new light on Cicero's deepest political preoccupations the formation of individual and communal identity the communicative role of the body and the unmanly aspects of politics especially civility and compromise Transcending traditional lines between rhetorical and political theory The State of Speech is a major contribution to the current debate over the role of public speech in Roman politics Instead of a conventional top down model of power it sketches a dynamic model of authority and consent enacted through oratorical performance and examines how oratory modeled an ethics of citizenship for the masses as well as the elite It explains how imperial Roman rhetoricians reshaped Cicero's ideal republican citizen to meet the new political conditions of autocracy and defends Ciceronian thought as a resource for contemporary democracy      The SAGE Handbook of Feminist Theory Mary Evans, Clare Hemmings, Marsha Henry, Hazel Johnstone, Sumi Madhok, Ania Plomien, Sadie Wearing, 2014-08-12 At no point in recorded history has there been an absence of intense and heated discussion about the subject of how to conduct relations between women and men This Handbook provides a comprehensive guide to these omnipresent issues and debates mapping the present and future of thinking about feminist theory The chapters gathered here present the state of the art in scholarship in the field covering Epistemology and marginality Literary visual and cultural representations Sexuality Macro and microeconomics of gender Conflict and peace The most important consensus in this volume is that a central organizing tenet of feminism is its willingness to examine the ways in which gender and relations between women and men have been and are organized The authors bring a shared commitment to the critical appraisal of gender relations as well as a recognition that to think theoretically is not to detach concerns from lived experience but to extend the possibilities of understanding With this focus on theory and theorizing about the world in which we live this Handbook asks us across all disciplines and situations to abandon our taken for granted assumptions about the world and interrogate both the origin and the implications of our ideas about gender relations and feminism It is an essential reference work for advanced students and academics not only of feminist theory but of gender and sexuality across the humanities and social sciences     Computing and Philosophy Vincent C. Müller,2015-12-16 This volume offers very selected papers from the 2014 conference of the International Association for Computing and Philosophy IACAP a conference tradition of 28 years The theme of the papers is the two way relation between computing technologies and philosophical questions Computing technologies both raise new philosophical questions and shed light on traditional philosophical problems The chapters cover 1 philosophy of computing 2 philosophy of computer science discovery 3 philosophy of cognition intelligence 4 computing society and 5 ethics of computation     The Routledge Companion to Remix Studies Eduardo Navas,Owen Gallagher,xtime burrough,2025-03-27 The Routledge Companion to Remix Studies 2nd Edition comprises contemporary texts by key authors and artists who are active in the interdisciplinary field of remix studies As an organic international movement remix culture originated in the popular music culture of the 1970s and has since grown into a rich cultural activity encompassing numerous forms of media The act of recombining pre existing material continues to bring up pressing questions of authenticity reception authorship copyright and the techno politics of media activism especially with the emergence of artificial intelligence which relies on remix methods and principles for content production This book approaches remix studies from various angles including sections on history aesthetics ethics politics and practice and offers theoretical chapters alongside case studies of remix projects This second edition includes ten new chapters and nine revised chapters Reprinted chapters from the first edition are updated with editorial prefaces This volume offers in depth insight for long term relevance among the many interdisciplinary fields that rely on and also contribute to remix studies This companion is a valuable resource for both researchers and remix practitioners as well as a teaching tool for instructors using remix practices in the classroom     Constructing a Relational Cosmology Paul O. Ingram,2006-08-01 This collection of five essays is both a dialogical engagement with and critical assessment of Nancy R Howell s book Constructing a Relational Cosmology The collection includes three essays written from a Whiteheadian process perspective by Marit A Trelstad Kathlyn A Breazeale and Marjorie Hewitt Suchocki one from the perspective of narrative theology Lisa Stenmark and one from the Soto Zen Buddhist perspective Stephanie Kaza Howell responding as a Whiteheadian feminist philosopher of religion takes the critiques and suggestions of her dialogical partners with the utmost seriousness as her foundation for suggesting new directions for ecofeminist thought an example of what Whiteheadians call the process of creative transformation     Assembling Consumption Robin Canniford,Domen Bajde,2015-09-16 Assembling Consumption marks a definitive step in the institutionalisation of qualitative business research By gathering leading scholars and educators who study markets marketing and consumption through the lenses of philosophy sociology and anthropology this book clarifies and applies the investigative tools offered by assemblage theory actor network theory and non representational theory Clear theoretical explanation and methodological innovation alongside empirical applications of these emerging frameworks will offer readers new and refreshing perspectives on consumer culture and market societies This is an essential reading for both seasoned scholars and advanced students of markets economies and social forms of consumption      AIDS and the Body Politic Catherine Waldby,2003-09-02 First published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company      Tourism and Indigeneity in the Arctic Arvid Viken,Dieter K. Müller,2017-05-03 This is the first book to exclusively address tourism and indigenous peoples in the circumpolar North It examines how tourism in indigenous communities is influenced by academic and political discourses and how these communities are influenced by tourism The volume focuses on the ambivalence relating to tourism as a modern force within ethnic groups who are concerned with maintaining indigenous roots and traditional practices It seeks to challenge stereotypical understandings of indigenouness and indigeneity and considers conflicting imaginaries of the Arctic and Arctic indigenous tourism The book contains case studies from Canada Greenland Norway Sweden Finland and Russia and will be of interest to postgraduate students and researchers of tourism geography sociology cultural studies and anthropology

Intellectual Property and Genetically Modified Organisms Charles Lawson,Berris Charnley,2016-03-09 Taking a global viewpoint this volume addresses issues arising from recent developments in the enduring and topical debates over Genetically Modified Organisms GMOs and their relationship to Intellectual Property IP The work examines changing responses to the growing acceptance and prevalence of GMOs Drawing together perspectives from several of the leading international scholars in this area the contributions seek to break away from analysis of safety and regulation and examine the diversity of ways the law and GMOs have become entangled This collection presents the start of a much broader engagement with GMOs and law As GMO technology becomes increasingly more complex and embedded in our lives this volume will be a useful resource in leading further discussion and debate about GMOs in academia in government and among those working on future policy      The Archaeology of Knowledge Traditions of the Indian Ocean World Himanshu Prabha Ray,2020-11-18 This book examines knowledge traditions that held together the fluid and overlapping maritime worlds of the Indian Ocean in the premodern period as evident in the material and archaeological record It breaks new ground by shifting the focus from studying cross pollination of ideas from textual sources to identifying this exchange of ideas in archaeological and historical documentation The themes covered in the book include conceptualization of the seas and maritime landscapes in Sanskrit Arabic and Chinese narratives materiality of knowledge production as indicated in the archaeological record of communities where writing on stone first appears and anchoring the coasts not only through an understanding of littoral shrines and ritual landscapes but also by an analysis of religious imagery on coins more so at the time of the introduction of new religions such as Islam in the Indian Ocean around the eighth century This volume will be of great interest to researchers and scholars of archaeology anthropology museum and heritage studies Indian Ocean studies maritime studies
