Emerson's Essays Harold Bloom,2006 Ralph Waldo Emerson 1803 1882 was the most influential American writer of the nineteenth century Poets such as Walt Whitman Emily Dickinson Robert Frost and Wallace Stevens descend from Emerson as do thinkers such as John Dewey and William James This volume of critical interpretations focuses on Emerson's Essays First Series 1841 and Essays Second Series 1844 which encompass some of his most important works History Self Reliance Circles The Poet and Experience among others These essays exemplify Emerson's distinctively rich prose and his radical affirmation of the strength of the individual The analyses and appreciations collected here place Emerson's essays in the context of literary and intellectual history grapple with the implications of his epigrams and tropes and link his shifts of perspective and tone to the changes in Emerson's life Together they illuminate the complexity and scope of the seminal works of America's most influential writer and thinker Book jacket

The Things in Heaven and Earth:An Essay in Pragmatic Naturalism John Ryder,2013-01-02 The Things in Heaven and Earth develops and applies the American philosophical naturalist tradition of the mid twentieth century specifically the work of three of the most prominent figures of what is called Columbia Naturalism John Dewey John Herman Randall Jr and Justus Buchler The book argues for the philosophical value and usefulness of this underappreciated tradition for a number of contemporary theoretical and practical issues such as the modernist postmodernist divide and debates over philosophical constructivism Pragmatic naturalism offers a distinctive ontology of constitutive relations Relying on Buchler's ordinal ontology and on the relationality implicit in Dewey's instrumentalism the book gives a detailed account of this approach in chapters that deal with issues in systematic ontology epistemology constructivism and objectivity philosophical theology art democratic theory foreign policy education humanism and cosmopolitanism

The Truth of History C. Behan McCullagh,2002-11-01 Modern relativism and postmodern thought in culture and language challenge the truth of history This book considers how all historians confined by the concepts and forms of argument of their own cultures can still discover truths about the past The Truth of History presents a study of various historical explanations and interpretations and evaluates their success as accounts of the past C Behan McCullagh contests that the variety of historical interpretations and subjectivity does not exclude the possibility of their truth Through an examination of the constraints of history the author argues that although historical descriptions do not mirror the past they can correlate with it in a regular and definable way Far from debating in the abstract and philosophical only the author beds his argument in numerous illuminating concrete historical examples The Truth of History explores a new position between the two extremes of believing that history perfectly represents the past and that history can tell us nothing true of the past and Education submitted to the journal by Hugh G Gauch Jr This was circulated to the other contributors who were asked to write their own contribution in the light of the arguments and literature contained in the paper Hugh made brief Responses and Clarifications after the papers were written However the Tanis Edis article on Islam and my own article on Priestley were processed too late to benefit from Hugh's appraisal The journal is associated with the International History Philosophy and Science Teaching Group which was formed in 1987 The group stages biennial international conferences and occasional regional conferences details can be found at www.ihpst.org The group though the journal conferences and its electronic newsletter at www.ihpst.org

The Emergence of Value Lawrence Cahoon, 2023-09-01 Philosophers social scientists and natural scientists argue over whether a natural scientific account of human being is compatible with uniquely human norms like ethics justice art and the concern for truth Many attempts at such an account have been tried and failed others like evolutionary psychology have tried but stumbled The Emergence of Value argues that a broad enough understanding of nature and human nature can incorporate human values and norms without reducing them to inhuman processes Lawrence Cahoon advances the position that nature includes values as well as facts and human uniqueness is therefore compatible with nature as it must be To demonstrate this we must consider multiple sciences and recent philosophical traditions and their impact on our notions of truth morality justice and beauty

The Study of History, 1988 The chief objective of this text is to provide a handy reference guide for teachers students and researchers of modern European economic and social history Since the bibliography covers only works written in the English language it will probably be of less use to the last named group at least insofar as those within it are already seasoned researchers on a particular country or topic However it would have been quite impossible from the point of view of length to have included all the literature in foreign languages while to have done so would have defeated the essential aim of the volume namely that of providing a reasonably convenient guide for those who teach and study the subject but who are not primarily specialists in the field
