Navigator in the South Seas Brett Hilder, 1967      Navigator in the South Seas, 1961 Thirty three years of adventure in Australian area waters 1928 1960      Navigator in the South Seas. Written and illustrated by B. Hilder Brett Hilder, 1961

Exploration of the South Seas in the Eighteenth Century: Rediscovered Accounts, Volume II Sandhya Patel, 2016-12-08 The publication of key voyaging manuscripts has contributed to the flourishing of enduring and prolific worldwide scholarship across numerous fields These navigators and their texts were instrumental in spurring on further exploration annexation and ultimately colonisation of the Pacific territories in the space of only a few decades This series will present new sources and primary texts in English paving the way for postcolonial critical approaches in which the reporting writing rewriting and translating of Empire and the Other takes precedence over the safeguarding of master narratives Each of the volumes contains an introduction that sets out the context in which these voyages took place and extensive annotations clarify and explain the original texts The translated accounts of voyages undertaken by foreign vessels abounded in an era when they encouraged not only competitive geopolitical initiatives but also commercial enterprises throughout Europe resulting in a voluminous textual corpus However French merchant seaman Etienne Marchand's journal of his voyage round the world in 1790 1792 encompassing an important visit to the Marquesas Archipelago during his first crossing of the Pacific remained unpublished until 2005 and has only now been made available in English The second volume of this series comprises an annotated translation in English of this document      Exploration of the South Seas in the Eighteenth Century Sandhya Patel, 2021-03-04 The publication of key voyaging manuscripts has contributed to the flourishing of enduring and prolific worldwide scholarship across numerous fields These navigators and their texts were instrumental in spurring on further exploration annexation and ultimately colonisation of the Pacific territories in the space of only a few decades This series will present new sources and primary texts in English paving the way for postcolonial critical approaches in which the reporting writing rewriting and translating of Empire and the Other takes precedence over the safeguarding of master narratives Each of the volumes contains an introduction that sets out the context in which these voyages took place and extensive annotations clarify and explain the original texts The first volume makes available Samuel Wallis logs of the Dolphin's voyage 1766 68 in their original form for the first time Captain Samuel Wallis was the first Englishman to come across the Tuamotus and the Society Isles in the South Pacific specifically Tahiti His writings predate the available textual sources by Louis Antoine de Bougainville the log of the Spanish voyages and James Cook whose text Wallis prefigures The three logs attest to the very first encounter between Europeans and Tahitians but until now comparatively little research has been conducted on the more elaborate second volume and none on the first The Polynesian archipelagos grew into objects of discourse over the years and Wallis logs may very well be located at the heart of these evocative constructs The translated accounts of voyages undertaken by foreign vessels abounded in an era when they encouraged not only competitive geopolitical initiatives but also commercial enterprises throughout Europe resulting in a voluminous textual corpus However French merchant seaman Etienne Marchand s journal of his voyage round the world in 1790 1792 encompassing an important visit to the Marquesas Archipelago during his first crossing of the Pacific remained unpublished until 2005 and has only now been made available in English The second volume of this series comprises an annotated translation in English of this document     The Navigator ,1961     The Atlantic Navigator ,1854     The Atlantic Navigator
