S. Grewal, 2019-07-25 The unifying theme in the life of Guru Gobind Singh was confrontation with the Mughals which culminated in a struggle for political power This fact is brought into sharp focus when we consider the Guru's life and legacy simultaneously in the contexts of the Mughal Empire its feudatory states in the hills and the Sikh movement The creation of the Khalsa in 1699 as a political community with the aspiration to rule made conciliation or compromise with the Mughal state almost impossible Their long struggle ended eventually in the declaration of Khalsa Raj in 1765 Using contemporary and near contemporary sources in Gurmukhi Persian and English J S Grewal presents a comprehensive study of this era of Sikh history The volume elaborates on the life and legacy of Guru Gobind Singh and explores the ideological background of the institution of the Khalsa and its larger political context Grewal however emphasizes that the legacy of the

Sullivan, 2015-10-22 We have long recognized that many objects in museums were originally on display in temples shrines or monasteries and were religiously significant to the communities that created and used them How though are such objects to be understood described exhibited and handled now that they are in museums Are they still sacred objects or formerly sacred objects that are now art objects or are they simultaneously objects of religious and artistic significance depending on who is viewing the object These objects not only raise questions about their own identities but also about the ways we understand the religious traditions in which these objects were created and which they represent in museums today Bringing together religious studies scholars and museum curators Sacred Objects in Secular Spaces is the first volume to focus on Asian religions in relation to these questions The contributors analyze an array of issues related to the exhibition in museums of objects of religious significance from Hindu Buddhist and Sikh traditions The lives of objects are considered along with the categories of sacred and profane religious and secular As interest in material manifestations of

How Secular Is Art? Tapati Guha-Thakurta, Vazira Zamindar, 2024-05-31 As an invitation to interrogate the secular modality of art the book unsettles both the categories of art and secular in their theoretical and historical implications It questions the temporal spatial and cultural binaries between the sacred and the secular that have shaped art historical scholarship as well as artistic practice Thinking from the south all the essays here are anchored in a conception of a region one fissured by histories of partition state formations and religious nationalisms but still offering a collective site from which to speak to the disciplines of art and the knowledge worlds in which they are embedded The book asks How do we complicate the religious designations of pre modern art and architecture and the new forms of their resurgence in contemporary iconographies and monuments How do we re conceptualize the public and the political as fiery contestations and new curatorial practices reconfigure the meaning of art in the proliferating spaces of museums galleries biennales and festivals How do we understand South Asian art s deep entanglements with the politics of the present

Real Birds in Imagined

Gardens Kavita Singh, 2017-03-07 Accounts of paintings produced during the Mughal dynasty 1526 1857 tend to trace a linear evolutionary path and assert that as European Renaissance prints reached and influenced Mughal artists these artists abandoned a Persianate style in favor of a European one Kavita Singh counters these accounts by demonstrating that Mughal painting did not follow a single arc of stylistic evolution Instead during the reigns of the emperors Akbar and Jahangir Mughal painting underwent repeated cycles of adoption rejection and revival of both Persian and European styles Singh's subtle and original analysis suggests that the adoption and rejection of these styles was motivated as much by aesthetic interest as by court politics She contends that Mughal painters were purposely selective in their use of European elements Stylistic influences from Europe informed some aspects of the paintings including the depiction of clothing and faces but the symbolism allusive practices and overall composition remained inspired by Persian poetic and painterly conventions Closely examining magnificent paintings from the period Singh unravels this entangled history of politics and style and proposes new ways to understand the significance of naturalism and stylization in Mughal art
