SIMON for his pioneering research into the decision-making process within economic organizations 1979 T. W. SCHULTZ 1980 L. R. KLEIN for the creation of econometric models and their application to the analysis of economic fluctuations and economic policies

Nobel Lectures in Economic Sciences Assar Lindbeck, 1992      The Palgrave Companion to Harvard Economics Robert A. Cord, 2024-07-05 Harvard University has been and continues to be one of the most important global centres for economics. With three chapters on themes in Harvard economics and 41 chapters on the lives and work of Harvard economists, these two volumes show how economics became established at the University, how it produced some of the world's best-known economists including Joseph Schumpeter, Wassily Leontief and John Kenneth Galbraith, and how it remains a global force for the very best in teaching and research in economics. With original contributions from a stellar cast, the volumes provide economists, especially those interested in macroeconomics and the history of economic thought, with an in-depth analysis of Harvard economics.

Sustainable Energy Pricing Gary M. Zatzman, 2012-02-07 This is the first book to address the issues of affordable power, sustainable energy, and reduced environmental impact through the science of energy pricing. Looking at the availability of natural resources from an engineering perspective and determining how they can be priced to achieve sustainability in the energy sector is the aim of this groundbreaking new work. Most current models used in energy pricing are based on linear analyses. While these models work well for targeted scenarios within a short time frame, they do not provide one with a scientific tool that can include many facets of the information age. The existing models do not include environmental sustainability in an integrated fashion. This is mainly because environmental costs are still considered to be intangible and intractable with conventional economic analysis tools. Though one existing model acknowledges some possible theoretical truth to concerns expressed about the onset of peak oil, the period in which new oil production must begin a decline of unknown and indefinite duration, this model has little or nothing to say about continuing practices in the extraction and production of fossil fuel that are themselves based on denying any significance or role for such thinking in the immediate future. A serious limitation of that discourse is its insistence on polarizing opinions for or against environmental sustainability peak oil and affordable energy prices This book proceeds instead to isolate the absence of any agreed criteria for what would constitute inherently sustainable development and examines the main outlines of the history and political economy of energy resource exploration and development since the 1850s from this standpoint It proposes specific directions in which to take some of the leading alternatives and amendments to current energy pricing practices as well as some of the most promising energy development alternatives in order to fulfill the time criteria required for an inherently sustainable trend The author shows how and why identifying unsustainable practices and consequences can make a case for closing down particular oil and gas production operations while averting the time wasting approach of trying to fix what really has gone beyond fixing However it is possible necessary and actually far better to replace these methods with newer scientifically based methods for achieving overall energy sustainability

John Hicks K. Puttaswamaiah, 2018-01-16 Economist Sir John Hicks was the first British economist to win the Nobel Prize in Economic Science 1972 for his wide ranging contributions in general and his book Value and Capital in particular Value and Capital showed that the basic results of consumer theory could be obtained from statistical usage it expounded what became known as the Hicksian substitution effect K Puttaswamaiah describes Hicks as a brilliant economist without whose effort present day economies would not have grown in such dimension by now and Value and Capital as a work that revolutionized the science of economics John Hicks is a unique collection of essays that examine Hicks through personal recollections as well as critiques and analyses of his work For this very special volume K Puttaswamaiah has gathered 25 contributors Some were friends colleagues and students of Hicks All are eminent in their own areas of Hicks work Their articles depict various aspects of the economist's thought and personality some depicting him in a new light My John Hicks by Paul A Samuelson identifies the landmarks in Hicks life Colin Simkin's John and Ursula Hicks A Personal Recollection gives a vivid account of the economist's inner life O F Hamouda's essay Hicks A World Economist presents a scholarly and comprehensive analysis of Hicks economics In Hicks and Economic Theory Frank Kahn sets out his own views on the major works of Hicks Harald Hagerman distinguishes between the works of Hicks and Hayek in Monetary Causes of the Business Cycles and Technological Changes Hicks vs Hayek Axel Leijonhufvud presents a memorial on the life and works of Hicks The other authors have chosen different areas of Hicks works sometimes focusing on a single work and giving a vivid account of their own thoughts on the area chosen This volume will interest economists and students who are concerned with Hicks works in relation to earlier thinkers and present day economic theory K Puttaswamaiah is the senior director Planning Department Government of Karnataka State India He has written or edited fourteen books He is the founding editor of the Indian now International Journal of Applied Economics Econometrics

The Programming Approach and the Demise of Economics Franco Archibugi, 2019-11-21 This trilogy deals with an epistemology of economics arguing for a radical overturning of conventional analysis and providing an alternative to political economy and social sciences based not on positivism but on a normative and programming paradigm Volume III furthers and concludes work presented in Volume I and Volume II and introduces a concrete and practical example of how to build a Planning Accounting Framework PAF as associated with Frisch's plan frame explored in Volume II to demonstrate the extent to which decisions and negotiations can be routed in the social sciences. The PAF is an instrument of the programming approach that can be used to verify the compatibility of decisions and their effects. The author builds on Frisch's classical PAF to maximise the phenomenology of economic systems and assure a consistent and effective implementation of decision making.

The Palgrave Companion to Oxford Economics Robert A. Cord, 2021-06-16 The University of Oxford has been and continues to be one of the most important global centres for economics. With six chapters on themes in Oxford economics and 24 chapters on the lives and work of Oxford economists, this volume shows how economics became established at the University, how it produced some of the world's best-known economists, including Francis Ysidro Edgeworth, Roy Harrod, and David Hendry, and how it remains a global force for the very best in teaching and research in economics. With original contributions from a stellar cast, this volume provides economists, especially those interested in macroeconomics and the history of economic thought, with the first in-depth analysis of Oxford economics.

Entrepreneurship and Regional Development Héctor O. Rocha, 2013-11-21 Entrepreneurship and Regional Development aims to make a theoretical and practical contribution meeting the need for studies on the impact of clusters on entrepreneurship and societal outcomes. This book aims to answer the following research question: Do clusters matter to entrepreneurship and entrepreneurship outcomes at the societal level?

Paul Samuelson and the Foundations of Modern Economics K. Puttaswamaiah, 2019-01-22 Paul A. Samuelson was the first American Nobel Laureate in economics and the second overall. He was credited for the scientific work through which he has developed static and dynamic economic theory and actively contributed to raising the level of analysis in economic science. That recognition is now thirty years old, and Samuelson remains at work in the cutting edge of the discipline. He is also widely known for a basic textbook that became a landmark learning tool throughout the second half of the twentieth century. This excellent collegial appreciation focuses heavily on Samuelson's Foundations of Economic Analysis. In that work and a series of brief essays, he has contributed to an integration of statics and dynamics by way of the correspondence principle. He has also combined the multiplier and accelerator mechanisms in a model of economic fluctuations; he has reformed the foundations of consumption theory by his concept of revealed preferences he has developed or improved several major theorems within international trade and created theories of maximum efficiency and maximum growth rate Finally he has clarified the role of collective goods in resource allocation In considering the work and life of Samuelson editor Puttaswamaiah has assembled a worthy group of brilliant commentators Among the analytic papers in this volume are An essay on the Accuracy of Economic Prediction by L R Klein Analytical Aspects of Anti Inflation Policy by Robert M Solow a paper by Vittorangelo Orati on Samuelson s linkage to Schumpeter and Keynes Money and Price Theory by Carlo Benetti and Jean Cartelier and a concluding essay on The Role of Samuelson s Economics by Michael Emmett Brady Most unusual in works of this kind are some strong critical statements including a pungent examination of vanity as well as creativity in Samuelson s work What emerges is a clear picture of a special scholar Scholars and students will welcome it alike a result that well fits the purpose and character of Samuelson The festschrift has its origins in several issues of the International Journal of Applied Economics and Econometrics Professor K Puttaswamaiah has more than three decades of editing journals in economics He is a member of the journal Savings and Development issued at the University of Milan He is author of Economic Development of Karnataka Cost Benefit Analysis and Nobel Economists Lives and Contributions Researching Organizational Values and Beliefs J. Barton Cunningham, 2001-05-30 Emerged from the Lewinian tradition of research into organizational behavior motivation and change here is a conceptual but practical way for HR professionals and others in today s organizations to understand better more quickly and reliably what the underlying human problems in their organizations are Cunningham proceeds from the conviction that the key to solving organizational problems is in the hands of people and that when people talk about the problems they experience they are reflecting their values and beliefs The way to get people to do that is through a style of inquiry called indirect questioning the Echo approach This approach which managers and executives in all types of organizations will find helpful and extensively useful is the subject of Cunningham s examination The Echo approach is designed to bring to the surface and measure the values and beliefs held by a group of people and the organizations they comprise Cunningham illustrates how this approach works how to design interviews surveys and observations that actually echo peoples values and beliefs the obvious ones and those they keep hidden Readable well illustrated with cases and examples this book will help executives at all levels understand better what people in these organizations are actually thinking and saying In doing so it will help organizations become more productive and be more desirable places to work

The Limits of Competition Policy A. E. Rodriguez,Ashok Menon,2010-01-01 What the authors offer is a thoroughgoing analysis clearly demonstrating that whatever economic path developing countries pursue imposing Western style antitrust regimes will engender uncertainty chill economic behaviour and foster an unhealthy climate for business They employ the influential error cost methodology to appraise the performance of competition policy and to show how such a policy creates irresolvable tensions in fragile economies with weak institutions economies characterized by informal rules of business practice long standing symbiotic business state relationships and unpredictable state action They mount a powerful critique of the arguments of neo institutionalists who fail to recognize the vulnerable nature of emerging market economies and competition advocates who presume to stand ready and vigilant to enforce competition policy on state entities

Finance, Research, Education and Growth L. Paganetto,E. Phelps,2003-01-31 A crucial issue in the era of globalisation and internationalization is whether the relationship between investment and finance is beneficial to growth and development Received wisdom is that Research and Development is essential not only for maintaining productivity but also for competing in the marketplace Similar questions have been raised about education and its rate of social return is education necessary for improving the skill of the workforce or does it serve primarily to facilitate the adoption of these new technologies This book brings together a case of leading international scholars to analyze the importance of education research and human capital and the impact of financial systems on growth and development

Combinatorial Optimization Alexander Schrijver, 2003-02-12 This book offers an in depth overview of polyhedral methods and efficient algorithms in combinatorial optimization These methods form a broad coherent and powerful kernel in combinatorial optimization with strong links to discrete mathematics mathematical programming and computer science In eight parts various areas are treated each starting with an elementary introduction to the area with short elegant proofs of the principal results and each evolving to the more advanced methods and results with full proofs of some of the deepest theorems in the area Over 4000 references to further research are given and historical surveys on the basic subjects are presented
