Paths In The Rainforests Toward A History Of Political Tradition In Equatorial Africa:

Paths in the Rainforests Jan M. Vansina, 1990-10-22 Vansina's scope is breathtaking he reconstructs the history of the forest lands that cover all or part of southern Cameroon Gabon Equatorial Guinea the Congo Zaire the Central African Republic and Cabinda in Angola discussing the original settlement of the forest by the western Bantu the periods of expansion and innovation in agriculture the development of metallurgy the rise and fall of political forms and of power the coming of Atlantic trade and colonialism and the conquest of the rainforests by colonial powers and the destruction of a way of life In 400 elegantly brilliant pages Vansina lays out five millennia of history for nearly 200 distinguishable regions of the forest of equatorial Africa around a new subtly paradoxical interpretation of tradition Joseph Miller University of Virginia Vansina gives extended coverage to the broad features of culture and the major lines of historical development across the region between 3000 B C and A D 1000 It is truly an outstanding effort readable subtle and integrative in its interpretations and comprehensive in scope It is a seminal study but it is also a substantive history that will long retain its usefulness Christopher Ehret American Historical Review A History of African Societies to 1870 Elizabeth Isichei, 1997-04-13 This comprehensive and detailed exploration of the African past from prehistory to approximately 1870 is intended to provide a fully up to date complement to the Cambridge History of Africa Reflecting several emphases in recent scholarship it focusses on the changing modes of production on gender relations and on ecology laying particular stress on viewing history from below A distinctive theme is to be found in its analyses of cognitive history The work falls into three sections The first comprises a historiographic analysis and covers the period from the dawn of prehistory to the end of the Early Iron Age The second and third sections are for the most part organised on regional lines the second section ends in the sixteenth century the third carries the story on to 1870 A second volume now in preparation will cover the period from 1870 to 1995 This book attempts a more rounded view of African history than most of the other textbooks on the subject addressed to a largely undergraduate level student Earlier histories have tended to ignore some of the current foci in the scholarly literature on Africa generally not reflected in the textbooks these include discussions of topical issues like ecology and gender Isichei's book is also more radical Identity in the Shadow of Slavery Paul E. Lovejoy, 2000-09-13 Addresses issues relating to the gender ethnic and cultural factors through which enslaved Africans and their descendents interpreted their lives under slavery thereby creating communities with a shared sense of identity The focus of the book is on the ways in which identities were formulated under slavery and the ways in which the struggle to escape slavery and its legacy continued to affect the lives of descendents of slaves The introductory essay explores an approach to the study of the African diaspora that looks outward from Africa and places the following chapters written by leading authorities from Europe and North and South America in the context of the theoretical literature The Oxford Handbook of Nigerian History Toyin Falola, Matthew M. Heaton, 2022 Thirty six chapters covering the history of Nigeria from prehistoric times to the twenty first century Accessible overviews of both the political narrative as well as the deeper histories of social organization identity formation and inter group relationships cutting edge analysis of key themes from highly respected scholars in a single forward facing volume

Book jacket Church, State and Colonialism in Southeastern Congo, 1890-1962 Reuben A. Loffman, 2019-05-23 This book examines the relationship between Catholic missionaries and the colonial administration in southeastern Belgian Congo It challenges the perception that the Church and the state worked seamlessly together Instead using the territory of Kongolo as a case study the book reconfigures their relationship as one of competitive co dependency Based on extensive archival research and oral histories the book argues that both institutions retained distinct agendas that while coinciding during certain periods clashed on many occasions The study begins by outlining the pre colonial history of southeastern Congo The second chapter examines how the Church began its encounters with the peoples in Kongolo and the Tanganyika province of the Democratic Republic of the Congo Subsequent chapters highlight how missionaries exerted significant influence over the colonial construction of chieftainship and the politics of Congolese decolonization The book ends in 1962 with the massacre of a number of Holy Ghost Fathers in an event that signaled the beginning of a more Africanized Church in Kongolo The author gratefully acknowledges support from the Economic and Social Research Council in the completion of this project

African Civilizations Graham Connah, 2016 This new revised edition offers expanded coverage new illustrations and an extended new list of references Purity and Exile Liisa H. Malkki, 2012-12-14 In this study of Hutu refugees from Burundi driven into exile in Tanzania after their 1972 insurrection against the dominant Tutsi was brutally quashed Liisa Malkki shows how experiences of dispossession and violence are remembered and turned into narratives and how this process helps to construct identities such as Hutu and Tutsi Through extensive fieldwork in two refugee communities Malkki finds that the refugees current circumstances significantly influence these constructions Those living in organized camps created an elaborate mythico history of the Hutu people which gave significance to exile and envisioned a collective return to the homeland of Burundi Other refugees who had assimilated in a more urban setting crafted identities in response to the practical circumstances of their day to day lives Malkki reveals how such things as national identity historical consciousness and the social imagination of enemies get constructed in the process of everyday life The book closes with an epilogue looking at the recent violence between Hutu and Tutsi in Rwanda and Burundi and showing how the movement of large refugee populations across national borders has shaped patterns of violence in the region Fanon Nigel C.

Gibson, 2017-05-23 Frantz Fanon was a French psychiatrist turned Algerian revolutionary of Martinican origin and one of the most important and controversial thinkers of the postwar period A veritable intellect on fire Fanon was a radical thinker with original theories on race revolution violence identity and agency This book is an excellent introduction to the ideas and legacy of Fanon Gibson explores him as a truly complex character in the context of his time and beyond He argues that for Fanon theory has a practical task to help change the world Thus Fanon's untidy dialectic Gibson contends is a philosophy of liberation that includes cultural and historical issues and visions of a future society In a profoundly political sense Gibson asks us to reevaluate Fanon's contribution as a critic of modernity and reassess in a new light notions of consciousness humanism and social change This is a fascinating study that will interest undergraduates and above in postcolonial studies literary theory cultural studies sociology politics and social and political theory as well as general readers

Rituals of Resistance Jason R. Young, 2011-02-11 In Rituals of Resistance Jason R. Young explores the religious and ritual practices that linked West Central Africa with the Lowcountry region of Georgia and South Carolina during the era of slavery The choice of these two sites mirrors the historical trajectory of the transatlantic slave trade which for centuries transplanted Kongolese captives to the Lowcountry through the ports of Charleston and Savannah Analyzing the historical exigencies of slavery and the slave trade that sent not only men and women but also cultural meanings signs symbols and patterns across the Atlantic Young argues that religion operated as a central form of resistance against slavery and the ideological underpinnings that supported it Through a series of comparative chapters on Christianity ritual medicine burial practices and transmigration Young details the manner in which Kongolese people along with their contemporaries and their progeny who were enslaved in the Americas utilized religious practices to resist the savagery of the slave trade and slavery itself When slaves acted outside accepted parameters in transmigration spirit possession ritual internment and conjure Young explains they attacked not only the condition of being a slave but also the systems of modernity and scientific rationalism that supported slavery In effect he argues slave spirituality played a crucial role in the resocialization of the slave body and behavior away from the oppressions and brutalities of the master class Young's work expands traditional scholarship on slavery to include both the extensive work done by African historians and current interdisciplinary debates in cultural studies anthropology and literature Drawing on a wide range of primary sources from both American and African archives including slave autobiography folktales and material culture Rituals of Resistance offers readers a nuanced understanding of the cultural and religious connections that linked blacks in Africa with their enslaved contemporaries in the Americas Moreover Young's groundbreaking work gestures toward broader themes and connections using the case of the Kongo and the Lowcountry to articulate the development of a much larger African Atlantic space that connected peoples cultures languages and lives on and across the ocean's waters

Seize the Dance! Michelle Robin Kisliuk, 2000-12 Based on ethnographic research that author Kisliuk conducted from 1986 through 1995 this book describes BaAka songs drum rhythms and dance movements and their immediate interactive contexts in an elegantly written narrative illustrated with many photographs musical illustrations and field recordings on two CDs Key theoretical issues addressed include socioaesthetics and the politics of identity gender relations colonialism and missionization

Herero Heroes Jan-Bart Gewald, 1999 The Herero German war led to the destruction of Herero society in all of its pre war facets Yet Herero society re-emerged re-organizing itself around the structures and beliefs of the German colonial army and Rhenish missionary activity Taking advantage of the South African invasion of Namibia in World War I the Herero established themselves in areas of their own choosing The effective re occupation of land by the Herero forced the new colonial state anxious to maintain peace and cut costs to come to terms with the existence of Herero society The study ends in 1923 when the death and funeral of Samuel Maherero first paramount of the Herero and then resistance leader the catalyst that brought the disparate groups of Herero together to establish a single unitary Herero identity North America Ohio U Press The Age of Revolutions in Global Context, c. 1760-1840 David Armitage, Sanjay Subrahmanyam, 2009-12-18 A distinguished international team of historians examines the dynamics of global and regional change in the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Providing uniquely broad coverage encompassing North and South America the Caribbean Europe Africa the Middle East South and Southeast Asia and China the chapters shed new light on this pivotal period of world history Offering fresh perspectives on The American French and Haitian Revolutions The break up of the Iberian empires The Napoleonic Wars The volume also presents ground breaking treatments of world history from an African perspective of South Asia s age of revolutions and of stability and instability in China The first truly global account of the causes and consequences of the transformative Age of Revolutions this collection presents a strikingly novel and comprehensive view of the revolutionary era as well as rich examples of global history in practice

Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate Additionally the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality In addition to the Western tradition it includes substantial assessments of African Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies A Prophet of the People Lauren V. Jarvis, 2024-03-01 In 1910

Isaiah Shembe was struggling He had left his family and quit his job as a sanitation worker to become a Baptist evangelist but he ended his first mission without much to show Little did he know that he would soon establish the Nazareth Church as he began to attract attention from people left behind by industrial capitalism in South Africa By his death in 1935 Shembe was an internationally known prophet and healer described by his peers as better off than all the Black people In A Prophet of the People Isaiah Shembe and the Making of a South African Church historian Lauren V Jarvis provides a fascinating and intimate portrait of one of South Africa s most famous religious figures and in turn the making of modern South Africa Following Shembe from his birth in the 1860s across many environments and contexts Jarvis illuminates the tight links between the spread of Christianity strategies of evasion and the capacious forms of community that continue to shape South Africa today The Gogo Mathias E. Mnyampala, 1995-02-27 This work available for the first time in English is the noted Tanzanian author and poet Mathais Mnyampala's reconstruction of the history and customs of his people. First published in Swahili by the East Africa Literature Bureau in 1954, it was one of a number of histories informally sponsored by the British colonial government that were designed to promote tribal cohesion in the face of growing African nationalism. In the long run, it helped inspire the nationalist movement locally. It became part of a discourse among nationalist modernizers, traditional intellectuals, and colonizers that shaped the end of colonial hegemony and the coming of independence to Tanzania.

Farmers and the State in Colonial Kano Steven Pierce, 2005-10-26 In Farmers and the State in Colonial Kano, Steven Pierce examines issues surrounding the colonial state and the distribution of state power in northern Nigeria. Here, Pierce deconstructs the colonial state and offers a unique reading of land tenure that challenges earlier views of the role of indirect rule. According to Pierce, land tenure was the means the colonial government used to rule the local population and extract taxes from them, but it was also a political logic with a fundamental flaw and a Western bias. In Pierce's view, colonial representations of land tenure claimed to reflect precolonial systems of rule but instead fundamentally misrepresented farmers' experience. He maintains that this misrepresentation created a paradox at the core of the colonial state, which persists into the present and helps to explain contemporary problems in African states. In this sweeping and eloquent account of African history, readers will find an extended genealogy of land law and taxation, as well as rich material on the power of indigenous knowledge and the persistence of colonial systems of rule.

Sudan's Wars and Peace Agreements Stephanie Beswick, Jay Spaulding, 2010-07-12 Originating from the 2008 27th annual conference of the Sudan Studies Association (SSA) of the same title, these essays document and analyze Sudan's chronic history of conflict since independence in 1956, as well as its own and international efforts to bring an end to these conflicts. As the country moves toward what some see as the inevitable separation of South Sudan in 2011, honoring the principle of self-determination long fought for by southerners, the lessons of six decades of a history of war and peace agreements is both telling and compelling. This analysis is offered by the real experts on Sudan rather than the usual story offered by journalists and pundits. In addition to an Introduction by the editors, all founders or current or past presidents of the SSA, the essays by Sudanese and non-Sudanese explore the often bitter history of North-South relations and loss of life, leading to the consideration of a range of options from a continuation of national unity under revised terms to federation or redivision to full separation of the South and the constitution of a new African state. The role of the Khartoum government's pursuit of policies of Islamization and Islamism for a quarter of a century across multiple regimes is also treated. The central question of constructing a sustainable peace, irrespective of the outcome in 2011, is detailed along with the essential consideration of women and gender.

perspectives to sustain any peace negotiated This book is must reading in advance of or in response to the crucial events as they unfold in Sudan in 2011 and beyond
