HULL, 1949 Paths in Utopia. Transl. by R.F.C. Hull Martin Buber, R. F. C. Hull, 1949 Communal Utopias and the American Experience Religious Communities, 1732-2000 Robert P. Sutton, 2003-09-30 American communalism is not a disjointed erratic almost ephemeral part of our past but an on going essential part of American history This important study begins with an examination of America's first religious utopia at Ephrata near Lancaster Pennsylvania in 1732 and traces successive utopian experiments in the United States through the following centuries The author demonstrates that the utopian communal story is an integral facet of the Puritan concept of America as a city upon a hill and a beacon light for the world where the perfect society could be built and where it could flourish After discussing the Ephrata Cloister 1724 1812 the author turns to the dozen or so Shaker communities that spread utopian communalism from New England to the Ohio Valley frontier in the antebellum years Next he examines the various Separatists as well as the Oneida Community He traces the history of the Hutterite utopias from Russia to the Great Plains and Canada between the Civil War and World War I In a chapter on California counter culture communities he analyzes the Theosophist communes at Pint Loma and Temple Home Finally he discusses modern religious utopias ranging from the Koreshian Unity at Estero Florida to Zion City near Chicago Dorothy Day's Catholic Worker Movement the Sufi Utopia in the Berkshire Mountains and the Pandanaram Settlement in Indiana Path in Utopia Avraham Yassour, 1978 Childhood, Philosophy, and Dialogical Education David Kennedy, 2024-10-01 Childhood Philosophy and Dialogical Education explores the history and prospects of democratic dialogical education and its promise as an engine of social and cultural evolution especially in the context of the cultural and social site dedicated to the adult child encounter the school Drawing on three historical narratives of childhood of subjectivity psychohistory and of education the author offers the possibility of a form of schooling that fosters democratic sensibilities and teaches direct democracy through actual practice Something Red Jennifer Gilmore, 2010-03-30 When Jennifer Gilmore's first novel Golden Country was published The New York Times Book Review called it an ingeniously plotted family yarn and praised her as an author who enlivens the myth of the American Dream Gilmore's particular gift for distilling history into a hugely satisfying multigenerational family story is taken to new levels in her second novel In Washington D C life inside the Goldstein home is as tumultuous as the shifting landscape of the times It is 1979 and Benjamin is heading off to college and sixteen year old Vanessa is in the throes of a rocky adolescence Sharon a caterer for the Washington elite ventures into a cultlike organization And Dennis whose government job often takes him to Moscow tries to analyzes the German speaking Anabaptist community focusing on their history of expansion their patterns of population growth the additions they make to the cultural landscape of the northern plains and their contributions to the agricultural and light manufacturing economies of their home states and provinces Community Frank G. Kirkpatrick, 2008-12-15

Community like love is a concept everybody talks about but nobody bothers to define From the community of scholars to the community of nations we passionately seek and widely take for granted a quality of interrelatedness that touches a chord deep within each of us whose vibrations we spend little time submitting to critical examination Frank Kirkpatrick's rigorous and detailed discussion of community places that notion within a discussion that has developed among philosophers over the past 200 years Beginning with the contractual model of Hobbes and Locke in which individuals work out rules to control their enforced proximity he moves on to the more complex organic model of Marx and Engels and beyond that the work of Whitehead in which individuals now interact with one another as organically related parts of a greater whole Finally he devotes most of his attention to a third highly personal model of community which owes its most sophisticated recent formulation to John Macmurray Within that model he sees the greatest possibilities for developing a coherent and comprehensive notion of community that takes seriously both the unique individuality of each person and the possibility for these individuals to commit themselves to loving fellowship with each other

Anarchism and utopianism Laurence Davis, Ruth Kinna, 2024-06-04 This collection of original essays examines the relationship between anarchism and utopianism exploring the intersections and overlaps between these two fields of study and providing novel perspectives for the analysis of both The book opens with an historical and philosophical survey of the subject matter and goes on to examine antecedents of the anarchist literary utopia anti capitalism and the anarchist utopian literary imagination free love as an expression of anarchist politics and utopian desire and revolutionary practice Contributors explore the creative interchange of anarchism and utopianism in both theory and modern political practice debunk some widely held myths about the inherent utopianism of anarchy uncover the anarchistic influences active in the history of utopian thought and provide fresh perspectives on contemporary academic and activist debates about ecology alternatives to capitalism revolutionary theory and practice and the politics of art gender and sexuality Scholars in both anarchist and utopian studies have for many years acknowledged a relationship between these two areas but this is the first time that the historical and philosophical dimensions of the relationship have been investigated as a primary focus for research and its political significance given full and detailed consideration
