Politics and Emotions in Romantic Periodicals Jock Macleod, William Christie, Peter Denney, 2019-12-20 This book comprises eleven essays by leading scholars of early nineteenth century British literature and periodical culture The collection addresses the many and varied links between politics and the emotions in Romantic periodicals from the revolutionary decade of the 1790s to the 1832 Reform Bill In so doing it deepens our understanding of the often conflicted relations between politics and feelings and raises questions relevant to contemporary debates on affect studies and their relation to political criticism The respective chapters explore both the politics of emotion and the emotional register of political discussion in radical reformist and conservative periodicals They are arranged chronologically covering periodicals from Pigs Meat to Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine and the Spectator Recurring themes include the contested place of emotion in radical political discourse the role of the periodical in mediating action and performance the changing affective frameworks of cultural politics especially concerning gender and nation and the shifting terrain of what constitutes appropriate emotion in public political discourse Chinese dreams in Romantic England Edward Weech, 2022-11-15 A brilliant polymath and part of the first wave of British Romanticism Thomas Manning was one of the first Englishmen to study Chinese language and culture Like famous friends including Samuel Taylor Coleridge and Charles Lamb Manning was inspired by the French Revolution and had ambitious plans for making a better world While his contemporaries turned to the poetic imagination and the English countryside Manning looked further afield to China one of the world's most ancient and sophisticated civilizations In 1790s Britain China was terra incognita Manning undertook a quest to learn the secrets of its language and culture His travels included the salons of Napoleonic Paris a period as a prisoner of war a dramatic shipwreck and disguised as a Buddhist pilgrim a trek through the Himalayas to Tibet where he met the Dalai Lama But when he returned to England his ideas confronted an increasingly Sinophobic climate and he failed to publish the grand work his peers had expected for so long After his death his outward looking vision was eclipsed by the English rural poetic vision of Romanticism and he was forgotten Manning's extraordinary story here told in full for the first time using recently discovered archival sources sheds a new light on English Romanticism and the course of cultural exchange between Britain and Asia at the dawn of the nineteenth century The Broadview Anthology of Romantic Poetry Joseph Black, Leonard Conolly, Kate Flint, Isobel Grundy, Don LePan, Roy Liuzza, Jerome J. Therefore her rise to fame began only in 1808 when her posthumous memoir appeared In this elegantly written biography Lucia McMahon reconstructs the places and social constellations that enabled Smith's learning and adventures in England Wales and Ireland and traces her transatlantic fame and literary afterlife across Britain and the United States Through re-telling Elizabeth Smith's fascinating life story and retracing her posthumous transatlantic fame McMahon reveals a larger narrative about women's efforts to enact learned and fulfilling lives and the cultural reactions such aspirations inspired in the early nineteenth century Although Smith was cast as exceptional by her contemporaries and modern scholars alike McMahon argues that her scholarly achievements travel explorations and posthumous fame were all emblematic of the age in which she lived Offering insights into Romanticism picturesque tourism celebrity culture and women's literary productions McMahon asks the provocative question How many seemingly exceptional women must we uncover in the historical record before we are no longer surprised

Coleridge, Revision and Romanticism Ve-Yin Tee, 2009-09-30 The Romantic phenomenon of multiple texts has been shaped by the link between revision and authorial intent However what has been overlooked are the profound implications of multiple and contradictory versions of the same text for a materialist approach using the works of Coleridge as a case study and the afterlife of the French Revolution as the main theme this monograph lays out the methodology for a more detailed multi-layered analysis Scrutinising four works of Coleridge two poems a newspaper article and a play where every major variant is read as a separate work with its own distinct socio-historical context Ve Yin Tee challenges the notion that any one text is representative of its totality By re-reading Coleridge in the light of alternative textual materials within that time he opens a wider scope for meaning and the understanding of Coleridge's oeuvre

The Walk Jeffrey Cane Robinson, 2006 The Walk a meditation on walking and on the literature of walking ruminates on this pervasive even commonplace modern image It is not so much an argument as a journey along the path of literature noting the occasions and settings the pleasures and possibilities of different types of walking through the country or city during day or night alone or with someone and the literatures the poems essays stories novels and diaries walking has produced Jeffrey C Robinson's discussion is less criticism than appreciation with an autobiographical bent he leads the reader through Romantic modern and contemporary literature to show us the shared pleasures of reading writing and walking
