Paths To The River Bank:

Paths to the River Bank George GREENFIELD, 1983      Riverbank Filtration for Water Security in Desert Countries Chittaranjan Ray, Mohamed Shamrukh, 2010-11-17 Riverbank filtration is a low cost yet efficient water treatment technology. It has most potential to provide safe drinking water to large cities located along rivers or lakes. In particular it is ideal for large population centres in developing countries where the cost of building extensive treatment facilities is prohibitive. Water filtration can be successfully implemented using naturally occurring sand and gravel along the river lake banks. The cost of water produced by this means is much lower than that of water treated in conventional treatment plants. Authored by a multi disciplinary team of experts this volume addresses the scientific basis of the filtration process and also numerous topics of importance for the planning technical realization and security of such plants. Their application for the removal of relevant chemical pollutants and a variety of pathogens is analysed in detail.

Infrastructure Needs of the Pacific Northwest United States. Congress. House. Committee on Public Works and Transportation, 1992      Walks on Dartmoor: Paths and Trackways Michael Caton, 2018-02-20 Twenty eight walks varying in length from 2 to 7 1/2 miles. Photographs illustrate many of the features to be seen on the walks. Using over sixty years of knowledge of Dartmoor Michael Caton leads you on a series of 28 walks based on paths and trackways over the moor. Some of these walks are based on those led by the author for the Dartmoor Preservation Association. Many of the walks have not been described in previous guidebooks or are not shown on the OS 1:25 000 map. The walks are for those who wish to venture well into the open moor without having to negotiate the rough Dartmoor terrain. A section has been included on the origin and history of the tracks including special comment on the route of the well known Abbot's Way. There is also a section describing briefly what to see on the walks including prehistoric monuments medieval and later remains such as mining and granite crosses as well as flora and fauna. The walks have been arranged in order around the southern and then the northern moor. Each walk starts at a suitable parking place. The routes are described in detail with appropriate grid references and brief information on the scenery and features to be seen. The start of all the walks is shown on an overview map of Dartmoor. About half of the routes are circular whereas others are more suited to a linear course. The walk descriptions are accompanied by maps in which the route has been sketched out on the appropriate section of the 1:25 000 OS map. A separate section gives advice to walkers and explains how to use this guide. It also draws attention to safety issues of walking on Dartmoor including the dangers of military firing and adverse weather conditions.

Paths and Pubs of the Wye Valley Heather Hurley, 2008      The Path to Blitzkrieg Robert M. Citino, 2007-12-26 Essential background to the German blitzkrieg of World War II. Complements the stories of panzer aces like Otto Carius and Michael Wittmann. In the wake of World War I the German army lay in ruins defeated in the war sundered by domestic upheaval and punished by the Treaty of Versailles. A mere twenty years later Germany possessed one of the finest military machines in the world capable of launching a stunning blitzkrieg attack against Poland in 1939. Well known military historian Robert M Citino shows how Germany accomplished this astonishing reversal and developed the doctrine tactics and technologies that its military would use to devastating effect in World War II
