Paths Toward A Clearing Radical Empiricism And Ethnographic Inquiry:

Paths Toward a Clearing Michael Jackson, 1989 edition unseen 12 95 traditions bringing into being new modes of understanding Paper Anthropology and particularly ethnography is torn between two quests one to capture the diversity of social life and the other to discover universal principles structuring that diversity Jackson examines these quests within the context of ethnographic fieldwork focusing on the relationship between ethnographers and the people they study He is concerned with defining the anthropological project as something more than the projection of the anthropologist's traditions and concerns onto an alien culture Rather he would have the project open a genuine dialogue between people from different cultures or Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Paths Toward a Clearing Michael Jackson, 1989

Blasco, Huon Wardle, 2019-04-08 How to Read Ethnography is an essential guide to approaching anthropological texts. It helps students to cultivate the skills they need to critically examine and understand how ethnographies are built up as well as to think anthropologically and develop an anthropological imagination of their own. The authors reveal how ethnographically informed anthropology plays a distinctive and valuable role in comprehending the complexity of the world we live in. This fully revised second edition includes fresh excerpts from key texts for analysis and comparison along with lucid explanations. In addition to concerns with argument authority and the relationship between theory and data, the book engages with the purpose, value, and accountability of ethnographic texts as well as with their reception and usage. A brand new chapter looks at the kinds of collaboration between informants, consultants, and anthropologists that go into the making of ethnographic writing.

Disclosing Elite Ecologies Bas van Heur, David Bassens, 2021-07-26 Disclosing elite ecologies Methodologies for Doing Urban Elite Research offers a set of methodologies to chart urban elites. Whereas most research has focused on the global super rich, this book pays specific attention to the multidimensional urban geographies of elite reproduction and transformation as elites depend on urban contexts for capital accumulation, consumption, and leisure and housing. Adopting an interdisciplinary approach to the topic, contributing authors discuss various theoretical and methodological antecedents in urban studies and related areas of research that have investigated economic elites. Building on but also moving beyond these bodies of literature, the book rejects a priori definitions of the size and shape of this social group and instead pursues relational, place-specific conceptualizations of elite composition and behavior. In particular, the contributions to the volume show that urban elite research benefits from paying more attention to:

- i boundary work between elites and non-elites
- ii intra-elite competition and distinction
- iii national state spaces in determining elite composition and
- iv the urban sense of belonging of economic elites.

This extensive volume provides readers with various empirical inroads into the study of urban elites, drawing on research set in Brussels, Fes, London, Lyon, Madrid, Manchester, Milan, New York City, Paris, and Porto Alegre. Taking inspiration from urban and economic geography, elite theory, and urban sociology, cultural sociology, political economy, anthropology, criminology, architecture, and migration studies, this book aims to open up the opportunity for methodological cross-fertilization. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Urban Geography.

Educational Research Peter McLaren, James M. Giarelli, 1995-01-01 Applies European critical theory to North American educational research Building Communication Theories Fred L. Casmir, 2013-10-16 Concern with various matters related to humans as they communicate has led to an increase in both research and theorizing during the second half of the 20th century As a matter of fact so many scholars and so many disciplines have become involved in this process that it is virtually impossible to understand and appreciate all that has been accomplished so far This book focuses on one important aspect of human sense making theory building and strives to clarify the thesis that theories do not develop in some sort of social intellectual or cultural vacuum They are necessarily the products of specific times insights and mindsets Theories dealing with the process of communication or communicating are tied to socio cultural value systems and historic factors that influence individuals in ways often inadequately understood by those who use them The process orientation of this book inevitably leads to an emphasis on the perceptions of human beings Thus the focus shifts from the subject or area called communication to the act of communicating Finally this volume offers insight into how the process of human sense making has evolved in those academic fields commonly identified as communication rhetoric speech communication or speech within specific socio cultural settings Qualitative Research Jurij Fikfak,Frane Adam,Detlef Garz,2004-01-01
