Patience And Power Womens Lives In A Moroccan Village:

Patience and Power Susan Schaefer Davis, 1983 This sociocultural anthropological study of Moroccan village women helps us to understand another way of life Patience and Power blows away the cobwebs of myth surrounding women in an Islamic society It shows them in their true light not subordinate to men but revealing both patience and power Older literature about Muslim women written mostly by men has been superficial in approach and often inaccurate More recent studies offer details with few explanations or conclusions Patience and Power on the other hand is written by an anthropologist who uses a new more systematic approach Additionally Dr Susan S Davis not only speaks Moroccan Arabic fluently but is at home in the culture Cultural Anthropology of the Middle East, 1992 During the last two decades the number of anthropological studies on the Middle East has increased exponentially This partially annotated bibliography offers a comprehensive survey of studies written in English French and German and covers the period from 1965 to 1987

Women's Roles in the Middle East and North Africa Ruth Margolies Beitler, Angelica R. Martinez, 2010-04-09 This concise content rich volume provides an overview of women's roles in the Middle East and North Africa from the advent of Islam to the present Recent research shows that women in the Middle East and North Africa have played much larger roles in society than previously acknowledged Women's Roles in the Middle East and North Africa explores these roles from both historical and contemporary perspectives describing and analyzing the lives of women in the regions from the advent of Islam through contemporary times The book begins with an introduction that examines the pre Islamic Middle East and North Africa The balance of the chapters are organized thematically and provide detailed country studies for 19 nations Chapters discuss work law religion family politics and culture exploring the changes women have undergone over a period of roughly 1500 years Romantic Passion William Jankowiak, William R. Jankowiak, 1997-02-13 Observers from the West the book contends have incorrectly projected rigid ethnocentric notions of love and marriage onto cultures around the world Contributors look beyond each society's official institutions to explore expressions of love offering new perspectives on arranged marriages and polygamy and reexamining as well the other side of the equation rejection and grief Women and Knowledge in the Mediterranean Fatima Sadiqi, 2013-05-07 Women in the Mediterranean have helped constitute new meanings of knowledge whilst simultaneously providing a wealth of material that is now part of the knowledge archive of the area The inception of types of knowledge that differ from the conventional necessitates a re definition of the concept of knowledge an issue which is addressed in this volume Employing a range of theories and methodologies this book explores four main domains in which women's knowledge is attested women and written knowledge women and oral knowledge women and legal religious and economic knowledge and women and media knowledge By presenting untapped women's expressions of knowledge in these domains this book opens new avenues of research in fields such as sociology history and literature amongst others This book will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars of the Middle East Women and

Gender studies and Mediterranean Studies Moroccan Immigrant Women in Spain T. Thao Pham, 2013-12-05 Immigrant Moroccan Women in Spain Honor and Marriage provides an ethnographic study of Moroccan Muslim immigrant women in Spain that captures the predicaments and strategies used in their adaptation to Spanish society Moroccan immigrant women's social and emotional connections to honor and duty affect familial relations identity and the sense of belonging Although the women have kept transnational ties to friends and families Morocco the establishment of new relationships and networks presents them with information ideas and opportunities that result in a complex process of altering their imported ideas and practices This book also reveals and explores the geopolitical tension that affects these women's interactions and negotiations with various Spanish institutions and how the representations of Islam affect the Spanish reception and treatment of Moroccans Working as domestic workers and agricultural laborers in Spain Moroccan immigrant women illuminate the problems associated with gender labor modernity and globalization Food and Families in the Making Katharina Graf, 2024-04-01 Even in the context of rapid material and social change in urban Morocco women and especially those from low income households continue to invest a lot of work in preparing good food for their families Through the lens of domestic food preparation this book looks at knowledge reproduction how we know cooking and its role in the making of everyday family life It also examines a political economy of cooking that situates Marrakchi women's lived experiences in the broader context of persisting poverty and food insecurity in Morocco Theorizing Masculinities Harry Brod, Michael Kaufman, 1994-06-13 A new field of inquiry and growing interdisciplinary area men's studies is just now beginning to develop its own distinctive methodologies and perspectives as demonstrated in the pages of Theorizing Masculinities This first major compilation of new theoretical work on men begins by presenting ideas borrowed from the disciplines that have fostered the study of masculinities sociology psychoanalysis ethnography and inequality The following chapters explore many issues central to the study of men such as power ethnicity feminism and homophobia The contributors also provide theoretical explanations of some of the institutions most closely identified with men such as the military sports and the men's movement The contributors to this volume come from disciplines as diverse as sociology political science industrial relations philosophy education anthropology gender studies and literature Together they make this benchmark volume the guiding set of theories on masculinities Theorizing Masculinities is a comprehensive volume that will appeal to a wide range of students and scholars especially those interested in gender sociology social theory family studies counseling and psychology

Womanpower Nadia Hijab, 1988-03-25 Relevant political and economic developments from specific countries explain the reasons for the slow and uneven progress of social change with respect to the position of women in the modern Arab world

States and Women's Rights Mounira Charrad, 2001 At a time when the situation of women in the Islamic world is of global interest here is a study that unlocks the mystery of why women's fates vary so greatly from one country to another Mounira M Charrad analyzes the distinctive nature of Islamic legal codes by placing them in the larger context of state power in various societies Charrad argues that many analysts miss what is going on in Islamic societies because they fail to recognize the logic of the kin based model of social and political life which she contrasts with the Western class centered model In a skillful synthesis she shows how the logic of Islamic legal codes and kin based political power affect the position of women These provide the key to Charrad s empirical puzzle why after colonial rule women in Tunisia gained broad legal rights even in the absence of a feminist protest movement while despite similarities in culture and religion women remained subordinated in post independence Morocco and Algeria Charrad s elegant theory crisp writing and solid scholarship make a unique contribution in developing a state building paradigm to discuss women s rights This book will interest readers in the fields of sociology politics law women s studies postcolonial studies Middle Eastern studies Middle Eastern history French history and Maghrib studies

Gender and the Digital Economy Cecilia Ng, Swasti Mitter, 2005-11-05 In the global discourse on ICTs the concern so far has primarily been outsourcing and the loss of service sector jobs from the developed world This book focuses instead on the positive aspects of the digital economy as they relate to women in the developing world It illustrates with case studies from Argentina Morocco India Malaysia and the Philippines how economic empowerment through the medium of ICTs can change the position of women within their families and the workplace even in the face of uneven development processes This timely volume which is rooted in primary and original research illuminates the gender related facets of the emergent information society while raising key questions about the implications of the digital economy on women s work and lives

Women Among Women Jeanette Dickerson-Putman, Judith K. Brown, 1998 Cross cultural in nature the volume looks at relationships between women of different age groups in a village in Taiwan a town in central Sudan a rural setting in western Kenya an Andean peasant community a horticultural village in Melanesia and an Aboriginal community in Australia Adding an interspecies perspective is a study of two age groups of Japanese macaque monkeys Included is an ethnographic bibliography that lists books with a wealth of information on women in sixty societies

Women in the Middle East and North Africa Guity Nashat, Judith E. Tucker, 1999-06-22 Describes changes in women s lives from ancient times to the last two centuries and discusses how an expanding Islam both changed and was influenced by local customs International encyclopedia of adolescence Jeffrey Jensen Arnett, 2007 Publisher description Gender in Cross-Cultural Perspective Adrienne E. Strong, Richard Powis, 2024-08-19 This fully updated new edition of Gender in Cross Cultural Perspective carefully introduces and responds to changes in anthropological approaches to and perspectives on gender With two new editors and new authors from the Global South and underrepresented communities it combines theoretically and ethnographically based chapters to examine gender roles and ideology around the world The book is divided thematically into five parts with the editors opening each section with a succinct introduction to the principal issues The book retains some of the classic chapters while offering new contributions and extended discussions throughout on methodology It also has entirely new contributions that reflect more recent developments in the discipline including more emphasis on LGBTQ communities COVID and migration This new edition also features additional support for teaching and learning including a film list and discussion questions that are now offered as supplemental online materials The eighth edition of Gender in Cross Cultural Perspective continues to be an essential resource for undergraduate and graduate students encountering the anthropology of gender for the first time

Intimate Selving in Arab Families Suad Joseph, 1999-12-01 The study of relationships a topic which has received considerable attention in Europe the United States and parts of Asia until now has not been addressed in the Arab world Here for the first time are articles written by native feminist scholars that focus on intimate Arab familial relationships and provide a scholarly discussion of gendering of the self the process of intimate selving in the Arab community The book is divided into three parts biographical and autobiographical ethnographic and literary accounts in which the authors identify key family relationships mother son brother sister mother daughter granddaughter co wives and father daughter and explore them in terms of shaping and defining gender in relation to others

Islamic and European Expansion Michael Adas, 1993-07-20 This volume of essays makes available the essential background information and methods for effective teaching and writing on cross cultural history The contributors some of the most distinguished writers of global and comparative history chart the advances in understanding in their fields of concentration revealing both specific findings and broad patterns that have emerged The cover image The Arrival of the Dutch at Patane from Theodore de Bry India Orientalis Part VIII Frankfurt W Richteri 1607 depicts the two key phases of global history that are covered by the essays Muslim inhabitants of the town of Patane on the Malayan peninsula warily confront a Dutch landing party whose bearing suggests that it is engaged in yet another episode in the saga of European overseas exploration and discovery The presence of the Muslims in Malaya reflects an earlier process of expansion that saw Islamic civilization spread from Spain and Morocco in the west to the Philippines in the east in the millennium between the 7th and 17th centuries The Dutch came by sea to an area on the coastal and island fringes of Asia the one zone where their warships gave them a decisive edge in this era The citizens of Patane had good reason to distrust the European intruders since the Portuguese who had preceded the Dutch had used force whenever possible to control the formerly peaceful trade in the region and often to persecute Muslim Peoples Author note Michael Adas is Abraham Voorhees Professor of History at Rutgers University New Brunswick He is currently editor of the American Historical Association's series on Global and Comparative History and co editor of the Cambridge University Press series on Studies in Comparative World History He has published numerous articles and books including most recently with Peter Stearns and Stuart Schwartz World Civilization The Global Experience 1992 and Turbulent Passage A Global History of the Twentieth Century 1993 The Different Faces of Motherhood Beverly Birns, Dale Hay, 2013-06-29 The Different Faces of Motherhood began during a conversation between the two editors developmental psychologists who have spent our professional careers working with infants and very young children We are well aware of the importance of infants to their mothers and of mothers to their infants However we were particularly aware of the fact that whereas our knowledge about infants increases exponentially each decade our assumptions about mothers change relatively little We were concerned about the theories that underlie the advice given to mothers and also about the assumption that mothers appear to be generic More and more we have learned about individual differences in babies but not more and more about individual differences in mothers Our second concern has been to expand our knowledge about mothers Our assumptions were few and our questions were many We believed that the experience of women would vary greatly both in outlook and in behavior depending on each woman's age marital status financial status ethnicity health education and work experience as well as a woman's own experience in her family origin and her relationship to her husband If we are to understand child development and believe that the early years are important in a child's life then it seems critical to examine our beliefs about mothers If we are to understand human development then being a mother is surely an important area of inquiry Baladi Women of Cairo Evelyn A. Early, 1993 Traditional urban Egyptian women baladi women extol themselves with the proverb A baladi woman can play with an egg and a stone without breaking the egg Evelyn Early illustrates this and other expressions of baladi women's self identity by observing and recording their everyday discourse and how these women who consider themselves destitute yet savvy handle such matters as housing work marriage religion health and life in general
