Patriarchy As A Conceptual Trap:

Patriarchy as a Conceptual Trap Elizabeth Dodson Gray, 1982 The Horned God (RLE Feminist Theory) John Rowan, 2012-11-27 This original and pioneering study of how men relate to feminism will appeal to all men who are concerned about their response to the women's movement and to the women in their lives It will also be helpful for women seeking a constructive response from men John Rowan drawing on his personal journey through feminism and on his considerable experience as a therapist tackles the issues in a much deeper way than has been attempted before For men to discover feminism is wounding for them It can even make them despair about being men at all But unless they accept that wound nothing much will change John Rowan shows that men have to heal that wound at a conscious social political level changing laws practice and daily behaviour They have to heal it at an unconscious level through therapy exploring their profound feelings about their mothers their fathers and their own internal female nature. They also have to heal the wound at a spiritual transpersonal level exploring the world of the Goddess and the Horned God Only then says John Rowan can they start to have any real dialogue with women and only then can the world begin to change for both men and women Eerdmans Reader in Contemporary Political Theolog William T. Roach, 2003-01-30 This brief but ambitious book explores our relationship with nature through the imagery we use when we talk about Mother Nature Employing the critical tools of religious studies psychology and gender studies Catherine M Roach examines the various manifestations of nature as mother and what that idea implies for the way we approach the natural world Part One Nature as Good Mother discusses the notion that nature is or is like a beneficent and nurturing mother who provides and maintains life In studying the green slogan Love Your Mother Roach questions the effects for women and for the environment of imputing female gender to nature She asks us to look at the associations that motherhood and mothering carry within a culture still shaped by patriarchy She notes the danger of such an apparently pro environmental slogan if mother evokes the bountiful self sacrificing provider who herself requires no care Part Two Nature as Bad Mother looks at the contrary notion of nature as a violent threatening and wrathful mother This image arises most often when humans and technology are depicted as masters of unruly nature Here Roach draws on theological reflection to analyze this ambivalence toward nature manifested in a fantasy that casts humans as gods She explores the contributions of eco theology and eco psychology to a heart of darkness perspective Finally Part Three Nature as Hurt Mother looks at possibilities and pitfalls of environmental healing inherent in the image of nature as a mother we have wounded and now seek to heal The Rights of Nature Roderick Frazier Nash,1989-01-17 Charting the history of contemporary philosophical and religious beliefs regarding nature Roderick Nash focuses primarily on changing attitudes toward nature in the United States His work is the first comprehensive history of the concept that nature has rights and that American liberalism has in effect been extended to the nonhuman world A splendid book Roderick Nash has written another classic This exploration of a new dimension in environmental ethics is both illuminating and overdue Stewart Udall His account makes history come alive Sierra So smoothly written that one almost does not notice the breadth of scholarship that went into this original and important work of environmental history Philip Shabecoff New York Times Book Review Clarifying and challenging this is an essential text for deep ecologists and ecophilosophers Stephanie Mills Utne Reader Separatism and Women's Community Dana R. The first section of the book focuses on four approaches to change in ethical theory ecological science feminist metaphysics Chinese philosophy and holistic postmodern technology In subsequent sections the contributors emphasize the need for nontraditional solutions and attempt to expand awareness of the most pressing practical problems Among the topics discussed are the possibilities of real international cooperation the inequitable but economically intractable issue of global gasses the political and ethical challenges of city planning and the growing evidence of fundamental inappropriateness in treating land as legal private property This volume is based on essays presented in 1992 at the Second International Conference on Ethics and Environmental Policy The conference was held in response to the increasing need for a new ethics that would counter the traditional human centered dominantly individualistic approach of the industrial world toward the environment Green Frontiers, 2008-01-01 Environmental education has reached an interesting crossroads There has never before been such media attention on hard to grasp issues such as climate change nor has there ever been such scientific understanding and agreement about the varied aspects of the environmental crisis the loss of biodiversity and the health effects of human made toxins and pollutants In addition there has never been so much high quality research within environmental education with new journals flourishing in Canada Australia and South Africa to give just a few examples Yet despite all this knowledge and attention there has not been a significant shift in the way the economy operates the way governments govern or the way people live Consumption of resources continues to increase and these patterns continue to be closely correlated with levels of waste pollution environmental ill health and social injustice This book showcases the work and thinking of environmental educators who are concerned about the residual mechanism within their field the guiding symbol of the web of life in all its dynamism notwithstanding The notion of web recognizes interaction between all elements in a system but falls short of recognizing the flow of the whole through the system and its parts The notion of dance is used here to convey this fundamental yet oft overlooked dimension to wholeness Critical Thinking and the Bible in the Age of New Media Charles Ess, 2004 Contemporary scholarship to address the question What does critical thinking about the Bible mean as the Bible itself is transmediated from print to electronic formats Inclusion Breakthrough Frederick Miller, Frederick A. inclusive language is shown to be important for religious education and some strategies for implementing inclusive language are presented

WomanProphet Elizabeth Love,2019-04-30 Most women are raised in a context of feminine values whether they are aware of those values or not Some of the values specific to this feminine culture are interdependence caring and relationality. In our time many women cross over into a masculine value culture when they take on what were traditional male roles in male evolved institutions. Eventually women become aware that their own values conflict with some assumed male values. They then have to compromise and adjust in order to be productive in those environments. The women I have focused on in this study have because of a significant external event or events and an emerging inner vision left both structures. They then however lack others around them whose values structures can reinforce adherence. When these women are by themselves they experience something like a dark night of the soul. Once they get beyond the pain and a sense of meaninglessness they begin to realize that they can move the constructs of reality that they can write history as well as read it An essential concern is to deter mine what their values are After this process their own personal vision becomes clear But the cycle isn t complete until they bring that new vision back to their people And bringing it back in a holistic sense helps to raise the moral sights of others who are influenced by that experience
