Pattern Recognition , 1973 The Alex Studies Irene M. PEPPERBERG, Irene M Pepperberg, 2009-06-30 Can a parrot understand complex concepts and mean what it says Since the early 1900s most studies on animal human communication have focused on great apes and a few cetacean species Birds were rarely used in similar studies on the grounds that they were merely talented mimics that they were after all birdbrains Experiments performed primarily on pigeons in Skinner boxes demonstrated capacities inferior to those of mammals these results were thought to reflect the capacities of all birds despite evidence suggesting that species such as jays crows and parrots might be capable of more impressive cognitive feats Twenty years ago Irene Pepperberg set out to discover whether the results of the pigeon studies necessarily meant that other birds particularly the large brained highly social parrots were incapable of mastering complex cognitive concepts and the rudiments of referential speech Her investigation and the bird at its center a male Grey parrot named Alex have since become almost as well known as their primate equivalents and no less a subject of fierce debate in the field of animal cognition This book represents the long awaited synthesis of the studies constituting one of the landmark experiments in modern comparative psychology Reliable Face Recognition Methods Harry Wechsler, 2009-04-05 One of the challenges for computational intelligence and biometrics is to understand how people process and recognize faces and to develop automated and reliable face recognition systems Biometrics has become the major component in the complex decision making process associated with security applications The many challenges addressed for face detection and authentication include cluttered environments occlusion and disguise temporal changes robust training and open set testing Reliable Face Recognition Methods seeks to comprehensively address the face recognition problem while gaining new insights from complementary fields of endeavor such as neurosciences statistics signal and image processing computer vision machine learning and data mining This book examines the evolution of research surrounding the field to date explores new directions and offers specific guidance on the most promising venues for future research and development Endorsements by Ruud Bolle IBM John Daugman Cambridge University UK David Zhang Hong Kong Polytechnic University China Stan Li Chinese Academy of Sciences China Tom Huang University of Illinois USA

International Review of Research in Mental Retardation William Gibson Gary Westfahl,2013-08-16 The leading figure in the development of cyberpunk William Gibson born in 1948 crafted works in which isolated humans explored near future worlds of ubiquitous and intrusive computer technology and cybernetics This volume is the first comprehensive examination of the award winning author of the seminal novel Neuromancer and the other books in the Sprawl trilogy Count Zero and Mona Lisa Overdrive as well as other acclaimed novels including recent bestsellers Pattern Recognition Spook Country and Zero History Renowned scholar Gary Westfahl draws upon extensive research to provide a compelling account of Gibson's writing career and his lasting influence in the science fiction world Delving into numerous science fiction fanzines that the young Gibson contributed to and edited Westfahl delivers new information about his childhood and adolescence He describes for the first time more than eighty virtually unknown Gibson publications from his early years including articles reviews poems cartoons letters and a collaborative story The book also documents the poems articles and introductions that Gibson has written for various books and its discussions are enriched by illuminating comments from various print and online interviews The works that made Gibson famous are also featured as Westfahl performs extended analyses of Gibson's ten novels and nineteen short stories Lastly the book presents a new interview with Gibson in which the author discusses his correspondence with author Fritz Leiber his relationship with the late scholar Susan Wood his attitudes toward critics his overall impact on the field of science fiction and his recently completed screenplay and forthcoming novel Imagining Neoliberal Globalization in Contemporary World Fiction Michael Walonen,2018-04-27 We are in the midst of the third tectonic social transformation in human history Our current transition toward greater forms of transnational interconnection consumption and finance driven rather than production based capitalism digital information and cultural flows and the attendant large scale social and ecological consequences of these are drastically remaking our world cultural producers from across the globe are seeking to make sense of and provide insights into these complex changes Imagining Neoliberal Globalization in Contemporary World Fiction takes a broad cross cultural approach to analyzing the literature of our increasingly transnationalized world system considering how its key constituent features and local level manifestations have been thematized and imaginatively seized upon by literary fiction produced from the perspective of the periphery of the capitalist world system Textual renderings of globalization are not simply second order approximations of it but constitutive elements of globalization that condition how it will be understood and responded to and so coming to terms with the narrativizations of globalization is vital scholarly work as among other things it allows us to see to what extent it is currently possible to imagine alternatives to globalization's more baleful aspects This work will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of areas including contemporary literary cultural studies globalization studies international relations and international political economy

Auravana Lifestyle System Auravana, 2022-07-12 This publication is the Lifestyle System for a community type society A lifestyle system describes the common behavioral orientations and interests of individuals among society while identifying the cycles to which they entrain and that make up the daily motion of their lives A lifestyle is how individuals spend their time it is their pattern of living in the world as expressed by their activities interests and fundamental understandings about work and play In part a lifestyle refers to the decided timing of activities in individuals' lives This standard provides a reasoned reflection on the lifestyle of individuals in a community type society It logically derives and discursively argues for a life experience that all humanity has in common Humans participate in communities of practice we all have interests and needs we all contribute through our participation we all seek self integration and self development we are all active sometimes and inactive at other times we all discover and adapt through our experiences we all have routine patterns of behavior and we all entrain to a cycle's Herein learning is something individuals do through life experience and something which influences life experience What would your life be like in community where goods and services are coordinated to be accessible without the need for any form of exchange or coercion What is an optimal way of living in the world It is interesting to think about what a lifestyle might be like in a society oriented toward self development and contribution and not stratified by financial trade accounting or the power positioning of oneself over others
