Grading the Nation's Report Card National Research Council,Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Testing and Assessment, Committee on the Evaluation of National and State Assessments of Educational Progress, 2000-03-23 The National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP known as the nation's report card has chronicled students' academic achievement in America for over a quarter of a century. It has been a valued source of information about students' performance, providing the best available trend data on the academic achievement of elementary, middle, and secondary school students in key subject areas. NAEP's prominence and the important need for stable and accurate measures of academic achievement call for evaluation of the program and an analysis of the extent to which its results are reasonable, valid, and informative to the public. This volume of papers considers the use and application of NAEP. It provides technical background to the recently published book Grading the Nation's Report Card: Evaluating NAEP and Transforming the Assessment of Educational Progress (NRC, 1999) with papers on four key topics: NAEP's assessment development, content validity, design, and use; and more broadly, the design of education indicator systems. Resources in Education, 1997. Research in Education, 1971.

Teaching Social Studies in Middle and Secondary Schools Peter H. Martorella, 2001. This readable, accessible book offers prospective teachers a comprehensive introduction to teaching social studies to middle and secondary school students. With the purpose of social studies being the development of reflective, competent, concerned citizens, the book first examines the origins and evolution of social studies and citizenship education across the United States. Following this, targeted chapters address the art, science, and craft of social studies teaching as a means for engaging learners in knowledge construction. In the final section, the authors look at ways to improve social studies instruction through the incorporation of emerging technology into the social studies curriculum. For middle and secondary school social studies teachers.

Effective Literacy Assessment in the Montessori Classroom Natasha Feinberg, Susan Zoll, 2025. From the authors of Powerful Literacy in the Montessori Classroom, this new book focuses on the practical implementation of Montessori teaching and assessment methods. The authors describe how reading research and Montessori's scientific pedagogy and language curriculum play out in actual classrooms through concrete examples of structured literacy instruction. Using the timeline of a typical school year as a framework, the book contains three primary sections: 1. Starting the School Year: Setting the Stage so Reading Improves for Every Student; 2. All School Year Long: Integrating Data Progress Monitoring and Instruction to Maximize Reading Success for All Students; and 3. Wrapping up the School Year: Prioritizing Keeping On and Defining Next Steps. Each section contains an overview of current research and theorists to delineate assessments and literacy goals prioritized at these key points across the academic year. Chapters feature activities, assessments, and case studies adapted from diverse Montessori classrooms. Book Features: Shows what the Montessori curriculum looks like when reading research currently known as the science of reading is implemented. Demonstrates how lessons, a comprehensive assessment system, and logistics work in a real-world setting. Defines the Montessori curriculum as both comprehensive and integrated, showing that materials for building reading skills, background knowledge, and vocabulary are found throughout the classroom through a single curriculum Helps Montessori educators and administrators especially those working in publicly funded schools address state legislation requiring approved curriculum aligned to the science of reading Supports all educators interested in meeting reading legislation Research in Education ,1970 Science projects : grades 1-2 D.
