Narratives of Environmental Challenges in Brazil and India Zélia M. Bora,Murali Sivaramakrishnan,2018-11-15 Narratives of Environmental Challenges in Brazil and India Losing Nature edited by Zelia Bora and Murali Sivaramakrishnan contextualizes the two subcontinents of India and Brazil and closely examines environmental issues from within and without

This collection focuses largely on the fate of forests and water in these two geographical terrains. This book explores narratives that reflect transformations hitherto unprecedented: demographic expansions, exploitation of natural resources, pollution and depletion of river and fresh water sources, uncontrollable demands on the energy front, waste and garbage disposal, drastic reduction of biodiversity. All of these are factors to research when one considers losing nature. In philosophical as well as theoretical terms, the question of what is nature, what is gained and lost in human nature interaction, what is the essential balance of nature, are all important queries on a similar scale. Societal reality in present day Brazil and India is reconstructed and deconstructed at will by the powerful influence of the past alongside that of globalization and technocratic market structures. The volume contemplates the representation and interrogation of environmental issues in both subcontinents: Brazil and India.

Beth Blissman, Oberlin College. This luminously written ethnography of the worlds that homesteaders make significantly broadens our understanding of modern American religion. In richly textured descriptions of the everyday lives and work of the homesteaders with whom she lived, Gould helps us understand how the tasks of clearing land, making bread, and building a garden wall were ways of taking on the most urgent issues of meaning and ethics.
