Giant Despair Meets Hopeful Martha Westwater, 2000-04 A burgeoning literature for young adult readers exists Yet much of it depicts a despairing disillusioned world telling tales of teenagers suffering from family breakdown violence peer pressure sexual abuse and even suicide But such bleakness need not translate into depression and fear for vulnerable adolescents When we look at YA fiction form another perspective what may emerge is a literature of great power an authenticity Julia Kristeva argues that so long as human beings have love we have hope Taking up this theme Martha Westwater reads six YA novelists Aidan Chambers Robert Cormier Kevin Major Jan Mark Katherine Paterson and Patricia Wrightson through Kristevan theory to find a glimmer of hope amidst our cultural crises A welcome addition to the undeservedly sparse literature on Young Adult fiction Publisher's description

The Tyranny of Time Robert Banks, 1997-03-04 The problem of too little time says Robert Banks is a real one The notion of increased leisure time is a myth From a distinctly Christian perspective Banks explains how we can break out of the time prison at work and at church as individuals and as families He emphasizes who we are over what we do and shows how we can develop a sense of personal and social rhythms

Edge of the Sacred - Jung, Psyche, Earth David Tacey, Does earth have spirit or soul This is a question being asked ever more frequently especially by those interested in the future of the natural world and the development of consciousness The alchemists said the greater part of the soul is outside the body and indigenous cultures have felt that soul or spirit resides in Nature and the physical environment Such notions have been dismissed by modernity as illusions but we are beginning to have second thoughts about the animation of the earth Science and rationality have not taught us how to love or care for the earth and in the modern era the environment has been disrespected The mythic bonds to Nature such as those found in Aboriginal Australian cultures appear to have real survival value because they bind us to the earth in a meaningful way When these bonds are destroyed by excessive rationality or a collapse of cultural mythology we are left alone outside the community of Nature and in an alienated state In this state we do real damage to the environment because it is no longer part of our spiritual body or moral responsibility Jung was one of the first thinkers of our time to consider the psychic influence of the earth and the conditioning of the mind by place Inspired by his writings and those of James Hillman the field of ecopsychology has arisen as a powerful new area of inquiry

Edge of the Sacred Jung Psyche Earth contributes to global ecopsychology from an Australian perspective

Depth Psychology and Climate Change Dale Mathers, 2020-11-29 Depth Psychology and Climate Change offers a sensitive and insightful look at how ideas from depth psychology can move us beyond psychological overwhelm when facing the ecological disaster of climate change and its denial Integrating ideas from disciplines including anthropology politics spirituality mythology and philosophy contributors consider how climate change affects psychological well being and how we can place hope and radical uncertainty alongside rage and despair The book explores symbols of transformation myths and futures and is structured to encourage regular reflection Each contributor brings their own perspective green politics change and loss climate change denial consumerism and our connection to nature suggesting responses to mental suffering arising from an unstable and uncertain international outlook They examine how subsequent changes in consciousness can develop This book will be essential reading for analytical psychologists Jungian analysts and psychotherapists as well as academics and students of Jungian and post Jungian studies It will also be of great interest to academics and students of the politics and policy of climate change anthropology myth and symbolism and ecopsychology and to anyone seeking a new perspective on the climate emergency

Australian Books in Print , 1985 Four Overarching Patterns of Culture Robert Strauss, Christopher Strauss, 2019-08-20 Justice has been the dominant cultural framework of people in the West for two centuries ever since the rise of constitutional democracies Consciously or not most people in the West have a strong awareness of right and wrong Their sense of morality is generally rooted in an obligation to the rule of law In democratic societies the rule of law ultimately relies on constitutional documents ratified by a widely accepted process of development and implementation For millennia honor has been the dominant cultural framework of most people in the East and Middle East Here people know that speech and behavior display respect or disrespect While pervasive in all relationships honor and shame are most important in the family extended family and local community In the East honor is not necessarily an internal feeling as it is in a justice culture Honor is more often an external attribution bestowed by others rather than claimed by oneself Harmony is prevalent globally in indigenous cultures Many indigenous peoples do not distinguish between the supernatural and natural worlds All aspects of life are connected Interactions with spirit beings are the key to maintaining harmony in order to be secure Reciprocity is a common cultural framework in the Global South Here one learns to develop connections with the right people in given circumstances for needed resources These connections may or may not be characterized as friendships and provide not so much close friendships as reciprocal exchange In some places reciprocity is the means whereby one survives

The Commonwealth Law Reports Australia. High Court,1981 Who's who of Australian Women Vivienne Smith,1982 Australian Books ,1979 Australian Books National Library of Australia,1980

Generations of Resistance Lorna Lippmann,1991 Second edition of a study of Aboriginal issues in Australia revised and updated to accommodate new debate Aimed at tertiary and secondary students as well as general readers the book now includes the latest research into land rights health and education and the implications of the Royal Commission into Aboriginal Deaths in Custody The author is a well known writer on Aboriginal affairs South Pacific Bibliography ,1981
