Schanke,2005 Recovers the hidden history of theater professionals who transgressed the gendered expectations of their time Paul Bowles Barry Tharaud,2020 Shows that the writings of Paul Bowles who is often seen as a literary renegade owe much to the antinomian American tradition of Emerson and his literary descendants Two Questers in the Twentieth-century North Africa Imen Ayari Cozzo,2016-09-23 This book offers a unique exploration of the work of Paul Bowles and Ibrahim Alkoni and reveals timely insights into the relationship between the West and the Orient showing that they both challenge and extend existing scholarship on this subject It builds on a sound theoretical platform which serves as a solid foundation for the analysis of the overarching theme Theories of place representation Orientalism and post colonialism are discussed in depth and are linked to the deconstruction and analysis of the selected literary texts helping the reader understand the various quests and motivations of the protagonists of the works of Bowles and Alkoni The first part of the book looks into the work of Bowles and is based on the fact that many of the author s texts revolve around the theme of encounters between Western and Eastern cultures It adopts a specific focus on the North African space which is depicted from a number of different points of view including native French English and American perspectives The second section discusses the work of the Libyan author Ibrahim Alkoni as a quester for a Mythical Identity It introduces the reader to the significance of the desert in both classical and modern Arabic literature and its place in the Arabic cultural imaginary This work is highly original both in its approach and subject matter and as such it constitutes a valuable contribution to the study of comparative literature Arabic literature and postcolonial magical realist literature It offers many original insights into this little studied field demonstrating a successful venture into less trodden terrain

Conversations with Paul Bowles Paul Bowles, 1993 Paul Bowles says Each man s life has the quality he gives it but you can t say that life itself has any qualities If we suffer it s because we haven t learned how not to The man who wrote the books didn t exist No Writer exists He exists in his books and that s all I write unconsciously without knowing what I am writing

Aaron Copland Howard Pollack, 2015-09-01 A candid and fascinating portrait of the American composer The son of Russian Jewish immigrants Aaron Copland 1900-1990 became one of America s most beloved and esteemed composers His work which includes Fanfare for the Common Man, A Lincoln Portrait and Appalachian Spring has been honored by a huge following of devoted listeners. But the full richness of Copland's life and accomplishments has never until now been documented or understood. Howard Pollack's meticulously researched and engrossing biography explores the symphony of Copland's life: his childhood in Brooklyn, his homosexuality, Paris in the early 1920s, the Alfred Stieglitz circle, his experimentation with jazz, the communist witch trials, Hollywood in the forties, public disappointment with his later intellectual work and his struggle with Alzheimer's disease. Furthermore, Pollack presents informed discussions of Copland's music, explaining and clarifying its newness and originality, its aesthetic and social aspects, its distinctive and enduring personality. Not only a success in its own right but a valuable model of what biography can and probably should be. Kirkus Reviews The Imperial Quest and Modern Memory from Conrad to Greene Julia Rawa, 2013-11-05 The Imperial Quest and Modern Memory explores relationships between narrative and imperium in the context of Western Modernism by examining the Quest as a vexed trope in Heart of Darkness, Passage to India, The Sheltering Sky and The Quiet American. The book takes stock of twentieth-century theory regarding the Quest as archetype, trope and construct, considers the dominant expression and the imperial organization of this trope in Western culture and iconography from the Dark Ages to the Age of Empire, explores the ways in which this trope both lingers and changes in the context of Western Modernism and finally gauges its permutations in Modern discourse. The Imperial Quest and Modern Memory's central claim is that the Modern novel simultaneously reinscribes and subverts Western and imperial manifestations of the Quest. Heart of Darkness, Passage to India, The Sheltering Sky and The Quiet American are remarkably Modern and subversive narratives. They participate in the revolutionary projects of early and high Modernism and are often in marked opposition to imperial praxis. Yet they are also profoundly influenced by the deep ideological and metaphoric structures of Western culture. Thus the Quest trope specifically in its Western and imperial manifestations lingers in Modern Memory and certainly in the Modern novel. This expansive study emphasizes intriguing intersections between past and present culture and archetype, norm and narrative, memory and contemporaneity. Paul Bowles on Music Paul Bowles, 2003-09-02 In this wonderfully engaging and informative collection we hear the voice of a different Paul Bowles. Book of the Year February House is the true story of an extraordinary experiment in communal living one involving young but already iconic writers and America's best known burlesque performer in a house at 7 Middagh Street in Brooklyn. It was a fevered yearlong party fueled by the appetites of youth and a shared sense of urgency to take action as artists in the months before the country entered World War II. In spite of the sheer intensity of life at 7 Middagh the house was for its residents a creative crucible. Carson McCullers's two masterpieces The Member of the Wedding and The Ballad of the Sad Cafe were born bibulously in Brooklyn. Gypsy Rose Lee workmanlike by day party girl by night wrote her book The G String Murders in her Middagh Street bedroom. W. H. Auden who along with Benjamin Britten was being excoriated back in England for absenting himself from the war presided over the house like a peevish auntie collecting rent money and dispensing romantic advice. And yet all the while he was composing some of the most important work of his career. Enlivened by primary sources and an unforgettable story this tale of daily life at the most fertile and improbable live-in salon of the twentieth century comes from the acclaimed author of Inside the Dream Palace: The Life and Times of New York's Legendary Chelsea Hotel. Brimming with information the personalities she depicts are indelibly drawn. Los Angeles Times Book Review Magnificent. Not to mention funny and raunchy. The Seattle Times William S. This collection includes previously unpublished work by Burroughs such as cut ups of work written by his son cut ups of critical responses to his own work collages on the Vietnam War and the Watergate scandal excerpts from his dream journals and some of the few diary entries that Burroughs wrote about his wife Joan. William S. Burroughs Cutting Up the Century also features original essays interviews and discussions by established Burroughs scholars respected artists and people who encountered Burroughs. A diverse cross section of scholars places well known operas Porgy and Bess Aida Treemonisha alongside lesser known works such as Frederick Delius's Koanga William Grant Still's Blue Steel and Clarence Cameron White's Ouanga to reveal a new historical context for reimagining race and blackness in opera.
