Paul Nash Paul Nash, 2003 DESCRIPTION Paul Nash was born in London in 1889 the son of a successful lawyer Influenced by the work of William Blake and contemporary Stanley Spencer Nash held shows in 1912 and 1913 before joining the Artists Rifles upon the outbreak of World War I It was as a result of his harrowing experience in the trenches that his work developed from early imaginary landscapes to the harsh world of tragedy and triumph that he experienced on the Western Front The essays in the book examine the dominant themes evident throughout Nash's career decay death and renewal and cycles of nature and place them in the context of British national sensibility during the interwar years They also discuss the tension between the artist's increasing fascination with heritage prehistoric cultures and primitive forms and the invocation of the modern through industrialization technology and the machine aesthetic This book reveals Nash as a painter who looked both back to the humanist English landscape tradition and forward to the technological age Paul Nash

Art, Propaganda and Aerial Warfare in Britain during the Second World War Rebecca Searle, 2020-07-23 The War Artists Advisory Committee WAAC were responsible for the production of some of the most iconic images of the Second World War Despite its rich historical value this collection has been poorly utilised by historians and hasn't been subjected to the levels of analysis afforded to other forms of wartime culture This innovative study addresses this gap by bringing official war art into dialogue with the social economic and military histories of the Second World War Rebecca Searle explores the tensions between the documentarist and propagandistic roles of the WAAC in their representation of aerial warfare in the battle for production the Battle of Britain the Blitz and the bombing of Germany Her analyses demonstrate that whilst there was a strong correlation between war art and propaganda the WAAC depicted many aspects of experience that were absent from wartime propaganda such as class divisions within the services gendered hierarchies within industries civilian death and the true nature of the bombing of Germany In addition she shows that propagandistic constructions were not entirely separate from lived experience but reflected experience and shaped the way that individuals made sense of the war Accessibly written highly illustrated and packed with valuable examples of the use of war art as historical source this book will enhance our understanding of the social and cultural history of Britain during the Second World War     Envisioning the Past Sam Smiles, Stephanie Moser, 2008-04-15 Envisioning the Past Archaeology and the Image is a groundbreaking collection of original essays that brings together archaeologists art historians and anthropologists to provide new perspectives on the construction of knowledge concerning the antiquity of man Covers a wide variety of time periods and topics from the Renaissance and the 18th century to the engravings photography and virtual realities of today Questions what we can learn from considering the use of images in the past and present that might guide our responsible use of them in the future Available within the prestigious New Interventions in Art History series published in connection with the Association of Art Historians     Mary Butts and British Neo-Romanticism Andrew Radford, 2014-08-28 Mary Butts was an important figure in inter war modernist circles and one who reviewed and associated with some of the major literary figures of the era from T S Eliot to Gertrude Stein Despite her importance and the varied nature of her writing she has been a neglected figure in modernist scholarship Providing a new analysis of the interwar literary period Mary Butts and British Neo Romanticism revisits her work vividly experimental writings spanning memoir poetry polemic and fiction through the lens of mid 20th century British neo Romanticism The book argues that behind Butts s eco feminist writings lies an intricate political and philosophical commentary     Upon a White Horse Peter Ross, 2025-09-11 I m a card carrying admirer of Peter Ross Robert Macfarlane The prehistoric sites of Britain and Ireland are places of wonder and wondering Who made these structures What did they mean to them And what do they mean to us now Bestselling author Peter Ross journeys from midwinter at Stonehenge to midsummer at Sycamore Gap Along the way he encounters bog bodies in Dublin a wooden goddess in Edinburgh and a chalk giant in Dorset He asks what it is like to live within the great stone circle at Avebury what rituals occurred in an Anglesey tomb and what draws volunteers to care for the Uffington White Horse These objects and structures speak of the long human story They offer the comfort of recognition and the pleasure of mystery There is something about ancient places that fills a hollow in our souls Upon A White Horse is a celebration of landscape and people and all that is beautiful strange and old PRAISE FOR STEEPLE CHASING A delicious treat Financial Times A charming odyssey The Times Lovely lyrical whimsical elegiac TLS Engaging New Statesman A wonderful book Daily Telegraph     Prague, Capital of the Twentieth Century Derek Sayer, 2021-11-09 The story of modernity told through a cultural history of twentieth century Prague Setting out to recover the roots of modernity in the boulevards interiors and arcades of the city of light Walter Benjamin dubbed Paris the capital of the nineteenth century In this eagerly anticipated sequel to his acclaimed Coasts of Bohemia A Czech History Derek Sayer argues that Prague could well be seen as the capital of the much darker twentieth century Ranging across twentieth century Prague s astonishingly vibrant and always surprising human landscape this richly illustrated cultural history describes how the city has experienced and suffered more ways of being modern than perhaps any other metropolis Located at the crossroads of struggles between democratic communist and fascist visions of the modern world twentieth century Prague witnessed revolutions and invasions national liberation and ethnic cleansing the Holocaust show trials and snuffed out dreams of socialism with a human face Yet between the wars when Prague was the capital of Europe's most easterly parliamentary democracy it was also a hotbed of artistic and architectural modernism and a center of surrealism second only to Paris Focusing on these years Sayer explores Prague's spectacular modern buildings monuments paintings books films operas exhibitions and much more A place where the utopian fantasies of the century repeatedly unraveled Prague was tailor made for surrealist Andr Breton's black humor and Sayer discusses the way the city produced unrivaled connoisseurs of grim comedy from Franz Kafka and Jaroslav Hasek to Milan Kundera and V clav Havel A masterful and unforgettable account of a city where an idling flaneur could just as easily be a secret policeman this book vividly shows why Prague can teach us so much about the twentieth century and what made us who we are

British literature and archaeology, 1880-1930 Angela Blumberg, 2022-09-27 British literature and archaeology 1880 1930 reveals how British writers and artists across the long turn of the twentieth century engaged with archaeological discourse its artefacts landscapes bodies and methods uncovering the materials of the past to envision radical possibilities for the present and future This project traces how archaeology shaped major late Victorian and modern discussions informing debates over shifting gender roles facilitating the development of queer iconography and the recovery of silenced or neglected histories inspiring artefactual forgery and transforming modern conceptions of authenticity and helping writers and artists historicise the traumas of the First World War Ultimately unearthing archaeology at the centre of these major discourses this book simultaneously positions literary and artistic engagements with the archaeological imagination as forms of archaeological knowledge in themselves
