Researching and Reporting for Business Decisions Wells, Spinks, 1996-05-01 Researching and Reporting for Business Decisions Barron Wells, Nelda Spinks, 1999-04-01 This text is designed to serve a two fold purpose One purpose researching is to help future managers and present managers to develop those skills that are necessary to gather valid information to serve as a basis for managerial decisions The other purpose reporting is to help these managers to develop those skills that are necessary to transfer information gathered to ultimate decision makers in forms and formats that readily can be used by these managerial decision makers Managerial decisions are formed from three broad bases The first basis is the training held by these managers The second basis is the previous experiences of these managers The third basis is valid information No matter how good the training held by managers and no matter how good the past experiences of managers their decisions will not be as good as they could be if they do not have access to good valid information Therefore one major focus of this book is on the collection of good valid information that can be used as a basis for managerial decisions A Survey of University Business and Economic Research Reports ,1963 A Survey of University Business and Economic Research Reports University of Texas.
