Resisim Fugitive Pieces:

Fugitive Pieces Anne Michaels, 2009-06-15 Winner of the Orange Prize for Fiction This is a novel to lose yourself in The Times Essential reading Spectator Extraordinarily magical New York Times The most important book I have read for forty years Observer _____ Athos and I stood together on deck and looked across the water at the bright city From this distance no one would guess the turmoil that had torn apart Greece The sea began to darken and Athens glowing in the distance seemed to float on the horizon like a bright ship Jakob Beer is seven years old when he is rescued from the ruins of a buried village in Nazi occupied Poland He is the only one of his family to have survived the invasion Adopted by his saviour the Greek geologist Athos Jakob must steel himself to excavate the horrors of his own history A novel of astounding beauty and wisdom Fugitive Pieces is a profound meditation on the resilience of the human spirit and love's ability to restore even the most damaged of hearts Encyclopedia of Jewish-American Literature Gloria L. Cronin, Alan L. Berger, 2015-04-22 Presents a reference on Jewish American literature providing profiles of Jewish American writers and their works Race and Racism in International Relations Alexander Anievas, Nivi Manchanda, Robbie Shilliam, 2014-10-30 International Relations as a discipline does not grant race and racism explanatory agency in its conventional analyses despite such issues being integral to the birth of the discipline Race and Racism in International Relations seeks to remedy this oversight by acting as a catalyst for remembering exposing and critically re-articulating the central importance of race and racism in International Relations Focusing especially on the theoretical and political legacy of W E B Du Bois's concept of the colour line the cutting edge contributions in this text provide an accessible entry point for both International Relations students and scholars into the literature and debates on race and racism by borrowing insights from disciplines such as history anthropology and sociology where race and race theory figures more prominently yet they also suggest that the field of IR is itself an intellectually and strategic field through which to further confront the global colour line Drawing together a wide range of contributors this much needed text will be essential reading for students and scholars in a range of areas including Postcolonial studies race racism in world politics and international relations theory But There Was Love Michal Govrin, Dana Freibach-Heifetz, Etty Ben-Zaken, Raya Morag, 2025-04-21 But There Was Love Shaping the Memory of the Shoah proposes a new paradigm for Shoah remembrance in today's cultural and political reality It derives from the four year workings of a group of researchers and artists at The Van Leer Jerusalem Institute led by Michal Govrin The group positions the extraordinary Jewish and non Jewish human struggle in facing dehumanization and extermination as the essence of the Shoah challenging us with a profound ethical call Daily Struggles Siu-ming Kwok, Maria A. Wallis, 2008 Daily Struggles offers a unique critical perspective on poverty by highlighting gender and race analyses simultaneously Unlike previously published Canadian books in this field this book connects human rights political economy perspectives and citizenship issues to other areas of social exclusion This new book is ideally suited for a wide variety of sociology social work and political science courses in the areas of social inequality and stratification poverty social policy and welfare gender race and ethnicity and anti racism BOOK JACKET

Racialization Karim Murji, John Solomos, 2005 Racialization has become one of the central concepts in the study of race and racism It is widely used in both theoretical and empirical studies of racial situations There has been a proliferation of texts that use this notion in quite diverse ways It is used broadly to refer to ways of thinking about race as well as to institutional processes that give expression to forms of ethno racial categorization An important issue in the work of writers such as Robert Miles for example concerns the ways in which the construction of race is shaped historically and how the usage of that idea forms a basis for exclusionary practices The concept therefore refers both to cultural or political processes or situations where race is invoked as an explanation as well as to specific ideological practices in which race is deployed It is evident however that despite the increasing popularity of the concept of racialization there has been relatively little critical analysis exploring its theoretical and empirical usages It is with this underlying concern in mind that Racialization Studies in Theory and Practice brings together leading international scholars in the field of race and ethnicity in order to explore both the utility of the concept and its limitations

Theories of Race and Ethnicity Karim Murji, John Solomos, 2015-01-08 An authoritative and cutting edge collection of theoretically grounded and empirically informed essays exploring the contemporary terrain of race and racism

Parry,2020-10-02 In this definitive history of a unique tradition Tyler D Parry untangles the convoluted history of the broomstick wedding Popularly associated with African American culture Parry traces the ritual s origins to marginalized groups in the British Isles and explores how it influenced the marriage traditions of different communities on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean His surprising findings shed new light on the complexities of cultural exchange between peoples of African and European descent from the 1700s up to the twenty first century Drawing from the historical records of enslaved people in the United States British Romani Louisiana Cajuns and many others Parry discloses how marginalized people found dignity in the face of oppression by innovating and reimagining marriage rituals Such innovations have an enduring impact on the descendants of the original practitioners Parry reveals how and why the simple act of jumping the broom captivates so many people who on the surface appear to have little in common with each other

Affective Mapping Jonathan FLATLEY,Jonathan Flatley,2009-06-30 The surprising claim of this book is that dwelling on loss is not necessarily depressing Instead embracing melancholy can be a road back to contact with others and can lead people to productively remap their relationship to the world around them Flatley demonstrates that a seemingly disparate set of modernist writers and thinkers showed how aesthetic activity can give us the means to comprehend and change our relation to loss

South African Autobiography After Deleuze Kgomotso M. Masemola, 2017-05-01 In Black South African Autobiography After Deleuze Belonging and Becoming in Self Testimony Kgomotso Michael Masemola uses Gilles Deleuze's theories of immanence and deterritorialization to explore South African autobiography as both the site and the limit of intertextual cultural memory. Detailing the intertextual turn that is commensurate with belonging to the African world and its diasporic reaches through the Black Atlantic among others, this book covers autobiographies from Peter Abrahams to Es'kia Mphahlele from Ellen Kuzwayo to Nelson Mandela. It proceeds further to reveal wider dimensions of angst and belonging that attend becoming through transcultural memory. Kgomotso Michael Masemola successfully marshalls Deleuzian theories in a sophisticated re-reading that makes clear the autobiographers' epistemic access to worlds beyond South Africa. Like Letters in Running Water Mary Aswell Doll, 2000-07 Explores ways in which fiction yields transformative insights for educational theory and practice. Imagined Olympians John Bale, 2002 Writing as a Way of Healing Louise DeSalvo, 2000-03-17 In this inspiring book based on her twenty years of research, highly acclaimed author and teacher Louise DeSalvo reveals the healing power of writing. DeSalvo shows how anyone can use writing as a way to heal the emotional and physical wounds that are an inevitable part of life. Contrary to what most self-help books claim, just writing won't help you; in fact, there's abundant evidence that the wrong kind of writing can be damaging. DeSalvo's program is based on the best available and most recent scientific studies about the efficacy of using writing as a restorative tool. With insight and wit, she illuminates how writers from Virginia Woolf to Henry Miller to Audre Lorde to Isabel Allende have been transformed by the writing process. Writing as a Way of Healing includes valuable advice and practical techniques to guide and inspire both experienced and beginning writers. Building Abolition Kelly Montford, Chloë Taylor, 2021-07-29 Building Abolition: Decarceration and Social Justice explores the intersections of the carceral in projects of oppression while at the same time providing intellectual, pragmatic, and undetermined paths toward abolition. Prison abolition is at once about the institution of the prison and a broad intersectional political project calling for the end of the social structured by settler colonialism, anti-black racism, and related oppressions. Beyond this, prison abolition is a constructive project that imagines and strives for a transformed world in which justice is not equated with punishment and accountability is not equated with caging. Composed of sixteen chapters by an international team of scholars and activists, with a Foreword by Perry Zurn and an Afterword by Justin Pich, the book is divided into four themes: Prisons and Racism, Prisons and Settler Colonialism, Anti-Carceral Feminisms, and Multispecies Carcerality. This book will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students, activists, and scholars working in the areas of Critical Prison Studies, Critical Criminology, Native Studies, Postcolonial Studies, Black Studies, Critical Race Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, and Critical Animal Studies, with particular chapters being of interest to scholars and students in other fields such as Feminist Legal Studies, Animal Law, Critical Disability Studies, Queer Theory, and Transnational Feminisms. Canadian Fashion Economies Mark Joseph O'Connell, 2025-09-04 A vital re-examination of

Canadian cultural and commercial history told through key fashion objects from First Nations colonial settlers and contemporary Canadian culture Traditional narratives of fashion tend to ignore sophisticated pre colonial networks First Nation innovations and techniques and their contributions to colonial dress From exquisite Chilkat weavings to the iconic Hudson s Bay Company blanket coat by way of ribbon skirts quilts and a beaver fur top hat this rich study uses Canadian fashion objects as a research tool to illuminate neglected areas in North American fashion history Using vivid object based research O Connell maps out pre colonial economic networks spanning the entire continent global colonial textile and fur trades and the material culture of French and English migrant populations in the New World and equips readers with a framework for more nuanced and inclusive histories of Canadian culture and commerce Unexpected overlooked stories emerge as central to Canada s fashion history from hybrid fashion cultures to re used textiles in settler communities and O Connell highlights contemporary Canadian artists and designers who point to new possibilities to reclaim and preserve this cultural heritage
